Hansen Tried Friday—Emil Hansen, saloonkeeper, tried last Friday in police court on the charge of violating the Siocumb law, will be tried again this afternoon. The jury in the first case failed to reach an agreement following three hours deliberations.

Will Test Smoke Consumer—A test of the smoke consuming device manufactured by the National Smokeless Furnace company of Omaha will be made at the county hospital next Friday from 9 o'clock in the morning until 12:30 in the afternoon.

Dinner to Morris—John C. Morris, who has resigned the office of manager of the Nye-Schneider-Fowler Grain company, was given a farewell dinner at the Field club Tuesday night. Nearly sixty members of the grain exchange attended. Mr. Morris will soon go to New Prague, Minn., to become wheat man for the New Prague Mill company.

Bakers Make Protest—The bakers of Omaha will unite to fight the activity of John Grant Pegg, who is setting bread which he finds short in weight. Bakers say that bread is baked one day for the next day's delivery and hot days like Tuesday it is impossible to keep bread up to weight, as it is sure to dry out to some extent and thus reduce the weight.

Kulakofsky Hit by Auto—Hymie Kulakofsky, 231 North Twenty-first street, was struck by an automobile driven by L. Hamlin at Sixteenth and Howard streets Tuesday evening and was slightly bruised about the hands and face. Kulakofsky stepped off the sidewalk directly in the path of the fast-moving machine. The driver struck the boy before he had time to stop his machine.

Quarrel Results in Suit—As a result of a neighborhood quarrel, which resulted in hand to hand combat, Mrs. Mary A.

Brookbank, 831 South Twenty-third street, has started suit against Mrs. Anna E. Richardson for $5,000 for personal injuries in district court. She says Mrs. Richardson entered her door yard and sought for a brick with which to hit her. Falling to find the brick, she says, she picked up a broomstick and beat her with same.

Real Cowboy Visits Omaha—George Manning, a genuine dyed in the wool cow puncher from Hyannis, Neb., is in Omaha with a shipment of cattle, and last night he paid a visit to police headquarters with his friend, Detective Eddie Fleming. Manning captured all of the honors in the rope and riding contests at Hyannis last Fourth of July, and is rated as the best all around cattle man in the west. Monday night he visited the Den with the South Omaha men and in consequence he has a few exciting tales to take back home.

A. B. Smith Funeral to Be Held Saturday

Arrangements for the funeral of the late Allen B. Smith have not been completed and probably will not be until definite information is received from the son, Allen, residing in Florida, but who is now on the way here and will arrive Friday night. However, according to present plans, the funeral will be held from the First Methodist church Saturday afternoon, with the burial probably in Forest Lawn cemetery.

Frank Smith, a brother of the deceased, arrived from St. Joseph yesterday and will remain until after the funeral. This brother was a railroad man for years, but is now retired. For many years he ran a train on the Kansas City line of the Burlington.

Kid Auto Drivers Will Be Arrested

Captain Dunn has given out instructions to the patrolmen and motorcycle officers to arrest all boys under 16 years of age driving automobiles. The many automobile accidents during the last few weeks were results of careless youngsters.

The boys will be turned over to the juvenile authorities and the parents will be prosecuted. There is a state law prohibiting persons under 15 years of age driving automobiles.

BULL MOOSERS IN SADDLE

Control Delegation from Lancaster to State Convention.

PASS EXTREME RESOLUTIONS

Third Party Deserters of Republicans Being Recognized as Simon Pure Article and Workers Army in Opposition.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, July 24.—(Special.)—The result of the primaries in Lancaster county indicate that the bull moosers will control the county convention and send a wild and woolly delegation to the state convention. If the same sort of fellows control the state convention as will control the Lancaster county convention, and it is the opinion of many that they will, the Douglas county regulars can count on being flattened out by the bull moose steam roller and the last sad remains thrown over the transom. It may also be expected that resolutions against President Taft will be passed and that the third party deserters will be recognized as the only pure and unadulterated republicans.

The above seems to be the opinion of most of the politicians around the state house today and some of them are wondering where it will end. Said one man, a very close friend of the governor: "I cannot for the life of me see what the fellows who claim to be progressive can mean by such resolutions as were passed at many of the primaries, not only in Lancaster, but in other parts of the state. Nothing can be gained by the progressives by such an action. They have everything to lose and nothing to gain but an endorsement of their action, while if they persist in using the state convention to assail President Taft it can only result in one thing and that a defeat of the state, congressional, senatorial and county tickets."

Movement Unfair.

Said another man this morning: "Their action in endorsing men who have already announced that they are in favor of the organization of a third party goes to show how utterly unfair is this whole movement. No one for a moment would think of a republican primary or convention endorsing Congressman McGuire, democratic congressman in this district, yet they endorse Paul Clark, who admits he has helped defeat a republican candidate for the United States senate and that he now proposes to leave the republican party and join a new party. In order to help in this scheme they organize and defeat men for seats on the delegations from the different precincts, who have for years been the hardest workers for republican success in Lancaster county and place in their places men who for years have worked openly for the defeat of republican candidates for the presidency, and all along down the line. We see men of other parties, who have been given appointments by republican governors as a recognition of their services, leading the charge against men who have been steadfast republicans all their lives, and rejoicing that they were able to defeat them and relegate them to the political scrap heap. We see such a grand old veteran of the civil war as Colonel Blystone, who for years has worked for republican success in Lancaster county and the state, elected a delegate in his precinct, but turned to repudiate from the delegation because of the unfair and crazy resolutions of denunciation of the president of the United States, a candidate for re-election, because of the attempt to force him to support those resolutions in the county convention. All honor to Comrade Blystone, there are more of us the same way." There are still men who have confidence in the party who hope that there will be enough of the fair minded sort of progressive republicans in the state convention to hold the balance of power so that no suicidal resolutions will be passed.

Valley County for Taft. ORD, Neb., July 24.—(Special.)—The republicans of Valley county met in convention yesterday and adopted resolutions favoring Taft and the state ticket and pledging the delegates to support the national ticket, the vote standing 5 to 1 in favor of Taft. The following were elected delegates: John Wall, P. W. Round, M. L. Frees, A. H. Babcock, W. W. Haskell, C. A. Davis and W. L. McNitt.

Pierce County for Taft. PIERCE, Neb., July 24.—(Special.)—The republicans of Pierce county met in convention at this city Monday selected these seven delegates to the state convention: O. S. Spillman, B. S. Leedom, H. J. Hecht, George Lewis, George W. Little, I. H. Booth and Chris Boll. Resolutions were unanimously adopted affirming faith and allegiance to the principles and doctrines of the republican party and pointing with pride to the history of the party and the continued prosperity under republican rule. The convention also pledged its earnest and loyal support to the national, state, legislative and county tickets in the coming campaign. Colonel Charles Worker of Pierce and A. G. Cole of Plainview were chairman and secretary of the convention. Colonel Worker told the convention that he took part in the organization of the republican party back in 1852, being a delegate to the first republican county convention ever held in the native state of New York. Colonel Worker said he had voted for every republican nominee since the organization of the party and saw no reason to change his mind in the campaign of 1912.

York Lauds Old Party. YORK, Neb., July 24.—(Special Telegram.)—The republican county convention was held here today. Fifteen delegates were selected to the state convention. Following is the only resolution introduced and adopted: "We endorse the time honored principles of the republican party and refer with pride to the achievements of our party and the great deeds of its immortal leaders. Republican success has always meant good prices for farm products, employment for labor, good wages and general prosperity throughout the land, and judging by the past, with the success of the republican party, high prices and good times, while democratic success portends disaster."

Richardson Progressive. FALLS CITY, Neb., July 24.—(Special Telegram.)—The Roosevelt element dominated the republican county convention. A resolution was adopted which instructed the delegation to vote as a unit in the state convention. The following are delegates: R. F. Revelle, E. C. Colhapp, A. R. Kelm, Norman Musselman, P. B. Weaver, Oliver Ayers, T. P. Cummings, L. H. Howe, D. Spickler, W. P. Butler, E. O. Lewis, W. H. Hogrefe, Clarence Dingle, Cass Jones.

Seward Progressive. SEWARD, Neb., July 24.—(Special Telegram.)—Seward county republicans held their county convention today, which was largely attended. The progressive element was strongly in control and the following delegates were elected to the state convention: Frank Lomandel, Nicholas Gembler, J. P. Corwin, Robert Campbell, E. L. Clark, A. F. Ackerman, H. C. Williamson, V. D. Johnson, J. H. McCord, J. G. Muir, Charles Werlman, E. A. Polley and H. A. Graft.

The following resolutions were prepared by the resolution committee and adopted by almost a unanimous vote of the convention, there being only three or four negative votes registered thereto: "Resolved, that we, the republicans of Seward county, in convention assembled, reaffirm our allegiance to the progressive principles of the republican party and heartily endorse the administration and candidacy of Chester H. Aldrich as governor, Charles H. Sloan as congressman from the Fourth congressional district, G. W. Norris as United States senator and our district and county ticket and we condemn the action of the national committee and instruct the delegates to the state convention to vote for progressive principles." A full county central committee was elected to carry out the principles as voiced by the convention, E. A. Polley of Seward being chosen as chairman of the county central committee and J. A. Willer of Beaver Crossing secretary.

Wheat Movement to Omaha Heavy

The movement of Nebraska wheat is becoming very heavy and that received to date is of excellent quality. Tuesday the Union Pacific handled sixty-nine cars of wheat into Omaha, as against twenty-one carsloads on the corresponding date of last year.

"The Best Oil for all Motors"

Note the convenience of the flat Polarine can—gallon or half-gallon size.

It fits snugly into the toolbox—takes up practically no room, at all; and it can always be refilled from the larger packages.

The flat Polarine can may come in handy, too, for carrying an extra supply of gasoline along. That may save you from getting stalled some day.

Always keep Polarine with you. Use it steadily. It means the end of lubricating troubles.
