

CUTS WOOL TARIFF IN HALF

Ten Progressives Join Democrats in Passing La Follette Bill.

REGULAR REPUBLICANS LOSE

Penrose Compromise Act is First Adopted by a Close Vote—Session Proves to Be Full of Surprises.

WASHINGTON, July 26.—Ten progressive republicans overthrew the regular republicans in the senate late last night by joining with the democrats in passing the La Follette woolen tariff revision bill as a substitute for the democratic measure framed by the house of representatives. The La Follette bill was adopted by a vote of thirty-seven to twenty less than two hours after the republican leaders had achieved what they believed was a victory when a compromise submitted by Senator Penrose was passed in the committee of the whole.

The sudden termination of the wool tariff fight came as a climax of a day full of surprising events. The democratic house bill for a revision of the wool tariff was technically before the senate. The progressives first voted for Senator Cummins' substitute, the rates of which were slightly above those of the democratic bill. They were defeated, fifty-seven to fourteen. Then Senator Penrose came forward with a compromise measure considerably higher than the democratic bill, which regular and progressive republicans believed they could agree upon.

Left by the defeated Senator Cummins, who said he would accept the Penrose bill as a "step in the right direction," all but three of the progressive rallied to the support of the Penrose measure and it was adopted by a vote of thirty-four to thirty-two. This took place in what was known as the committee of the whole. The amended measure then passed into the senate proper.

La Follette Seizes Opportunity. In the meantime Senator La Follette, who, with Senators Clapp and Kenyon, had joined the democrats in voting against the Penrose substitute, saw an opportunity again to pass his bill of 1911, which President Taft had vetoed. There was a quick rally of progressive forces and the La Follette bill was introduced as a substitute for the already amended bill. It became the substitute for the democratic house bill and as such the senate finally passed it.

The progressives, who joined with the democrats in adopting the La Follette substitute, were Borah, Bristow, Clapp, Crawford, Cummins, Gronna, Kenyon, La Follette, Poindexter and Works. The amended bill goes back to the house of representatives and the resulting tariff situation is exactly that which existed in the special session of 1911.

Situation Like that of Last Year. The La Follette bill is the same as passed then by the senate with a wool duty of 30 per cent and an average duty of 25 per cent on manufactured goods. The house bill is the same as then passed by the house with a raw wool duty of 20 per cent. Out of these two measures the conference committee last year evolved a compromise, which President Taft vetoed, because the tariff board had not completed its woolen investigation. A conference committee will again take up the two bills and attempt to frame a substitute to send to the president.

Senator Bourne voted against the La Follette bill as a substitute, but later voted for the amended measure on its final passage. The republican measure made material reductions in the existing woolen tariff. Senator Penrose said it represented the views of the majority of the republicans. As soon as it had been adopted the bill passed technically into the senate, where Senator Cummins secured the addition of an amendment for the creation of a permanent tariff commission.

The republican substitute was submitted after the senate had been in session nearly seven hours. Senator Penrose explained it, a comparison of duties was given by Senator Smoot, and with a debate of less than three hours, the new measure was adopted in place of the democratic house bill.

Republican senators voting against the bill were Clapp, Kenyon and La Follette. On the first test vote that came after the La Follette amendment had been laid before the senate, the democrats and progressive defeated Senator Penrose's amendment for a tariff commission by a vote of thirty-five to thirty-one. Republican progressives, who changed from support of the republican bill to the opposition side in siding to defeat the Lodge amendment, were Bristow, Crawford, Gronna, Poindexter and Works.

Senator McCumber then offered an amendment for the repeal of the Canadian reciprocity law. Senator Clapp said that a similar amendment had already been passed on the steel tariff bill which is now in conference between the two houses. Senator Penrose retorted that it would do no harm to attach the amendment to every bill which was passed. Senator McCumber's amendment was lost.

Turkish Officers Demand Closing of Deputies Chamber
CONSTANTINOPLE, July 26.—The president of the chamber of deputies announced in the chamber this afternoon that a group of Turkish military officers had lodged a demand for the dissolution of the chamber.

The announcement provoked uproarious scenes. The demand reached the president in the form of a letter bearing the seal of the military league and was couched in vigorous language.

Violent speeches were made by several deputies, who declared they would not move except at point of the bayonet.

Two Boys Drowned.
FREIBURG, Ill., July 25.—Joseph Dambacher, Jr. and George Linkey, each 9 years old, were drowned today in a pond near here. The boys went to the pond to swim.

PLAN TO STEAL SIX STATES
Bull Moosers Scheme to Seize Republican Organizations.
G. O. P. NAME TO BE RETAINED
Roosevelt's Name to Be Substituted for Taft's, but State and Congressional Tickets Will Remain Unchanged.

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., July 25.—Six staunch republican states have adopted a plan. Colonel Roosevelt said tonight for the bodily capture of the republican organizations by the national progressive party. The states he named are Kansas, Minnesota, South Dakota, Idaho, California and Washington.

In each of these states, according to Roosevelt leaders, who have talked with the ex-president, or his aides, the republican organization is in control of the supporters of the new party to an extent sufficient to enable them to transfer the organization virtually intact to Colonel Roosevelt's support. In each case it is the intention to retain the name republican and place candidates for congress and state offices on the regular republican ticket.

In states in which the law requires that the names of Taft and Sherman be placed on the ballot as the republican nominees, the Roosevelt candidates for electors will go in a separate column. Where the law does not exact this, the Roosevelt candidates probably will be placed under the regular republican emblem on the theory that Colonel Roosevelt is the legitimate nominee of the party.

Changes His Mind.
It was Colonel Roosevelt's expectation that no decision would be reached as to the procedure in these states until the Chicago convention of the new party next month. It has been represented to him, however, that the movement had advanced more rapidly than was expected and that there is no reason for delaying the work longer. In South Dakota, Colonel Roosevelt said, the plan already had been put into effect.

The Minnesota situation was cleared at a conference which Colonel Roosevelt had today with Lieutenant Governor Sam Gordon and C. J. Knapp from that state. The impression was obtained from Mr. Gordon that no independent ticket would be run in Minnesota. Colonel Roosevelt said, however, that as he understood it, this decision applied merely to the candidates for state and congressional offices and that the republican candidates for electors, who are Roosevelt men, will resign and run on the national progressive ticket. The other republican candidates are to be supported by the followers of Colonel Roosevelt working through the republican organization.

Beveridge to Be Chairman.
CHICAGO, July 25.—Announcement of the selection of Albert J. Beveridge, former United States senator from Indiana, as temporary chairman of the national progressive convention to be held in Chicago, August 5, was the chief development in political circles here today. The announcement was made by United States Senator Joseph M. Dixon of Montana, director of Colonel Roosevelt's campaign for the progressive presidential nomination.

At the same time a letter from Mr. Beveridge to William Holton Eby of Indianapolis, was made public. This letter sets forth Mr. Beveridge's attitude in the present political crisis and marks his withdrawal from the republican party, in which he has taken a prominent part. The letter has been utilized by leaders in the third party movement as a bill of progressive principles and will be given wide distribution.

In his letter Mr. Beveridge finds fault with both the old parties and urges all progressives, irrespective of party, to rally to the Roosevelt third party movement.

Separate Electors to Be Named.
BALTIMORE, Md., July 25.—The Maryland progressive republicans assembled here in mass convention today and selected sixteen delegates with half a vote each and a like number of alternates to the national progressive convention at Chicago August 5. Resolutions were adopted empowering a committee of seven to select eight presidential electors independent of those named on the regular Taft ticket, and declaring that no elector now on the Taft ticket shall be placed on the progressive ticket unless he first resigns.

The significance of this latter clause lies in the fact that six of the existing electors on the republican ticket are Roosevelt men.

Convention in Oregon.
PORTLAND, Ore., July 25.—The state convention of the national progressive party here today elected five delegates instructed for Roosevelt, praised his "manly integrity," condemned President Taft and disavowed any and all acts of the Chicago convention of the republican party.
