TAFT PARDONS OMAHA MAN

Remits Fine of $1,000 Imposed on Poor Jewish Peddler.

PLEADS GUILTY BY MISTAKE

Bercu is Imposed Upon by an Itinerant Dealer, Who Sells Him Some Imitation Butter Unknown to Bercu.

An official document bearing the autograph of William H. Taft as president of the United States, and George E. Wickersham as attorney general, just received by L. D. Bercu of this city, will probably be carefully preserved as an heirloom in the family.

The document is a remission of a fine of $1,000 which Bercu, who is a poor Jewish peddler, could not have hoped to pay, and in default of which he had a thirty days' jail imprisonment staring him in the face.

Bercu's troubles traced their source to discovery by internal revenue agents of a crock containing ten pounds of imitation butter in the little grocery store on Twelfth street, near Dodge, which his wife tends while the children are at school and her husband is trying to earn a living at peddling. When indicted the Bercus insisted that the whole thing was a mistake, and that they had been imposed upon by an itinerant dealer, but in his confusion and ignorance he entered a plea of guilty before Judge Page Morris last April, discovering too late

Bryan May Be Hit by Steam Roller at Convention of Demos

John M. Divine of Lincoln, who has been a familiar figure in democratic politics for years, was at the Paxton. “I not a delegate to the Grand Island convention,” said Mr. Divine, “but I rather want to be there. If Mr. Bryan goes to the Grand Island convention he will get steam rolled, I am sure. Whether he goes or not, he is going to seek to have his action at the national convention indorsed and I do not believe it will be indorsed by the democrats of the state. Besides he hopes to out Byrnes and seat his brother-in-law, Tom Allen, as chairman of the state committee and that will, of course, make a fight. Byrnes would, no doubt, be willing to step out if there were not an effort to kick him out. But as it is he and his friends will make a fight.

COUNTY STOPS BRIDGE WORK

Commissioners Find Themselves in a Bad Muddle Over Contract.

ORDER A BRIDGE NOT NEEDED

Now They Want to Cancel the Contract and Use the Old Structure, Which Also Must Be Kept Up.

Following the discovery that the changing of the location of the Snyder bridge over the Elkhorn river in the extreme southwest corner of Douglas county will necessitate the construction of a second bridge in the old location and a total expenditure of $7,000, the Board of County Commissioners have ordered that work on the bridge be stopped. An effort to cancel the contract with the bridge builders will be made and the contract will be cancelled if the builders will accept payment for the work so far done and give up the work. When the owners of farms near the bridge appeared before the commissioners two months ago and asked that the bridge be removed, they said it was useless where it was, as it stood on dry land. The course of the river had been changed so that the stream no longer passed under the bridge. They wanted the span moved to a point where it would span the new course of the river. A. C. Harte, chairman of the roads and bridges committee, said the bridge was on dry land and favored the removal. Commissioner Best wanted the board to

STATE IS AGAIN SOAKED

Rain is General in Nearly All Parts of Nebraska.

GOOD DEPTH IN MANY PLACES

South Platte Country is Visited—Northwestern Reports Downpour All the Way West to Gordon.

Rain was general again Friday night over most of Nebraska, the precipitation ranging from one-fourth of an inch in Omaha and along the river to one and two inches out in the state. In many localities, especially up in the sand hill country, it was raining hard yesterday when the reports were sent to the railroad offices.

While the rain was light in the vicinity of Omaha and up the river, it was heavy from Plattsmouth south, exceeding three-fourths of an inch at Nebraska City, Falls City and back on the table lands of Cass, Otoe, Nemaha and Richardson counties.

Butler Would Levy Tax for All Space Under Sidewalks

An ordinance providing that all property-owners who excavate under sidewalks shall pay the city an occupation tax of 2 1/2 per cent on the assessed valuation of the abutting lot will be presented to the city council by City Commissioner Butler. Subways now are liable to such a tax but sewer property-holders are conducting business in spaces under walks and no such tax applies.

Workmen on Water Main on Strike for More Pay from City

Workmen employed by Water Commissioner Howell on the new 48-inch main at Twenty-seventh and Lake streets have struck for higher wages. They asked 35 cents an hour for a ten-hour day. They have been receiving 30 cents. Their demands were refused and other workmen took their place.

Tests Show Omaha Milk Best of Year

Dairy Inspector Bessie will report the dairies for the month of July in best condition this year. Tests taken during the hottest weather show milk almost pure, one dairy, the Courtland, run by L. C. Christiansen, selling the best milk. This milk tested 8,000 bacteria per cubic centimeter. The highest tests taken show but 70,000 bacteria per cubic centimeter. The maximum number of bacteria fixed by ordinance is 100,000, although in summer time several cities allow nearly a million.
