WITH GROWING MERCHANTS

On North Twenty-Fourth Street Business Houses Are Always Busy.

LEADERS IN LINES OF TRADE

Who is Who Among Neighborhood Firms—Where to Supply Many Wants at Prices that Are Right.

Among the neighborhood store districts North Twenty-fourth street, running from Cumming to Fort street, is one of the most interesting in Omaha. Business houses do not line this entire street, but at varying intervals there are several high-grade stores, all prospering. Each year sees more additions to this thoroughfare and witnesses enlargement of several of the business houses that have been there for years.

The Adams-Haight Drug company has two stores on Twenty-fourth street, one at Lake street and the other at Fort street. These are well equipped stores, where are sold all kinds of drugs and sundries at reasonable prices.

John Peterson also conducts a high-grade grocery store at 322 North Twenty-fourth. There is nothing which a grocer can do for his customers to please them and make them come back again that Mr. Peterson and his clerks do not do.

The Star store is one of the best known of the Twenty-fourth street business houses. A line of general merchandise, all fairly priced, is handled here.

The Alhambra theater, 1814 North Twenty-fourth street, is another of these motion picture houses that presents an excellent line of pictures which delight its patrons.

Many of the residents of the North Twenty-fourth street territory wear hats purchased of Lulu Anderson, who conducts a high-class millinery store at 1234 North Twenty-fourth street.

A large grocery store at 1323-15 North Twenty-fourth street is owned and operated by N. A. Nelson. It is a store in which the finest of groceries may be bought.

The Economy Drug company, 1324 North Twenty-fourth street, maintains a high-class store, fully supplied. The prescription business here is carefully attended to at all times.

Drug Stores High Class. The Kountze Place Pharmacy, Twenty-fourth and Binney streets, is one of the best known of the Twenty-fourth street drug stores. Like other stores of the same kind on this thoroughfare it has a large patronage.

Fresh meats at prices that suit everybody are sold by E. H. McCreary, who conducts a meat market at 1622 North Twenty-fourth street. This is an up-to-date market in every respect.

John C. Klaucek is owner of the saloon at 412 North Twenty-fourth. This saloon is one of the most popular in the city.

Much of the footwear worn in the Twenty-fourth street neighborhood is bought of C. J. Carlsson, 1814 North Twenty-fourth, who carries excellent lines of shoes for men, women and children.

Nothing in the grocery line is lacking in the stock of E. R. Pankratz & Son, 2908 North Twenty-fourth street. This is one of the firms that has a constantly increasing trade which grows because the customers get satisfaction at this store.

Dr. P. E. Rasmussen, who has an office on the second floor of the store at 322 North Twenty-fourth street, is a leading dentist of this section.

A dentist who is "easy on you" is Dr. F. C. Lage, whose office is on the second floor at 2402 Ames avenue. High grade dental work is done by this dentist.

People who have their laundry work done by the Standard Laundry, Twenty-fourth and Lake streets, do not have any reason for complaining because of torn shirts or damaged clothes. This firm does excellent work.

The Saratoga Drug company, Twenty-fourth street and Ames avenue, maintains a high class business, making a specialty of the prescription line and their soda fountain is a mecca for the residents of that part of the city.

The Emerson Laundry, 1301 North Twenty-fourth street, is another laundry that turns out work which satisfies the most critical.

Various Leading Firms. The Eads grocery, 322 North Twenty-fourth, carries a complete line of good groceries, which are sold as low as any firm can sell them. The stock is always fresh.

M. J. Curran, 323 North Twenty-fourth street, is an electrical contractor. He does all kinds of wiring, assuring satisfactory service.

J. Wallace, 1615 North Twenty-fourth street, sells dry goods and groceries. His business is large and is constantly growing, proving that he satisfies his customers.

Groceries and meats—always fresh and wholesome—are sold by Bloomquist & Peterson, 122 North Twenty-fourth street. The Johanson Drug company, Twenty-fourth and Spaulding streets, is supplied with all kinds of drugs and sundries and does an immense business. Its prices are "best"; its customers are always pleased.

SILENCE ROBBERS OF WEALTH

Astonishing Toll Exactied by Insect Pests from Cultivators of the Soil.

If all the 600 colleges and all the college endowments in the United States should be destroyed tomorrow the insect tax of one year not only would replace them, but would leave a balance sufficient to endow thirty-two new universities in the sum of $10,000,000 each.

It costs more by many millions each year to feed our insects than to educate our 20,000,000 children.

It is clear to those who know most about the subject that unless radical and immediate measures are adopted to restore a sure, safe and natural equilibrium between insectivorous birds and their foods, the time will soon come when the annual loss caused by insects to agriculture in this country alone will be counted in billions instead of millions of dollars.

The estimated annual loss to farmers through insects is now about $500,000,000 a year.

These are some of the striking facts and figures with which the senate committee on forest reservations and the protection of game accompanies a bill, reported by Senator George P. McLean of Connecticut, to protect the migratory game and insectivorous birds in the United States.

To see a bill like this pass has been the ambition of true sportsmen and economists for many years. The destruction of game and song birds and their eggs by pothunters and thoughtless boys has gone on almost unchecked, except by sporadic state legislation, for so long that regions that once abounded with the feathered creatures are now destitute. No people ever were more blessed with a plentiful supply of useful and beautiful birds than the people of the United States; and no country have the little creatures been slaughtered more recklessly. Many persons are now living who remember when all the markets of the east were glutted with partridge, quail, prairie chicken and wild water fowl. An official report of 1894 states that one dealer in New York is known to have received twenty tons of prairie chickens in one season, and that some of the larger poultry dealers were estimated to have sold from 150,000 to 200,000 same birds in six months.

The details whereby such enormous totals are reached are available and indicate that the scientists are not guessing wildly. For example, the Hessian fly in 1904 cost the wheat growing states $30,000,000. Cinch bugs cost the crops in year. Rocky mountain locusts, in their years of greater activity, cost the northwestern Mississippi valley $100,000,000 in one season.

The fecundity of many insects is beyond imagination. The green leaf hopper or aphid is destructive of the hop industry and many other of our most valuable fruit and vegetable, reproduces its kind at the rate of ten stragglers to the
