Articles of incorporation of the Phelps County Bank at Holdrege were filed with the state banking board today. The bank is incorporated with a capital stock of $50,000 fully paid in. The officers are H. E. Erickson, president; C. L. Dunham, vice president; C. A. Gallaway, cashier. These with J. E. Erickson and A. S. Erickson compose the stockholders.

William Wallace of Wayne county, serving a term in the penitentiary of five years for horse stealing, who made application to the governor for a pardon, has been paroled to his sister at Osmond, on account of physical condition. It is said that he cannot survive long.

way home from the democratic state convention in Grand Island where he said everything went off as smooth as silk. Everybody came away perfectly happy, according to his way of putting it and the steam roller was such a beautiful affair and ran so smoothly that in their admiration for the machine, they forgot their differences.

New Democratic Club.

Probably the first Wilson and Marshall club organized in the state was the result of a meeting held last night at the Lincoln hotel. A. V. Johnson was elected president, Robert Malone, John G. Mahar, John J. Ledwith, vice presidents; Harry Homan, secretary; Dr. P. L. Hall, treasurer; executive committee, J. P. Sutton, J. H. Brady, J. H. Hartley, J. M. Devine, Ernest Hoops. Telegrams were sent to both Wilson and Marshall notifying them of the organization of the club. Colonel John G. Mahar offered to pay the expense of uniforms for a marching club and his offer was accepted.

As a result of the strike of the electrical workers of the Automatic Telephone company in this city several arrests have been made for cutting cables, but the cutting still continues, fifteen wires near West Lincoln having been cut last night.

Shallenberger Gets Criticism for Staying Away

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, Aug. 1.—(Special.)—Some of the democrats returning from the state convention at Grand Island claim that there was considerable dissatisfaction because Mr. Shallenberger, democratic candidate for the senate, did not put in an appearance. Instead he sent an explanation which he could not come, stating that his chautauqua engagements were of such importance that the lycium bureau would not let him off. Some of them say that Mr. Shallenberger knew three months ago that he was a candidate for the senate and also knew when the convention would be held and could have made arrangements to have been there had he wanted to.

In their estimation it looks as if the gentleman was afraid he might injure his senatorial chances if he attended the convention and was asked to take one side or the other of the Bryan controversy. As it turned out, however, they think he injured himself more by staying away.

Headquarters of the democratic state committee will be in Lincoln. Secretary Mathews will have charge until such time as the chairman, W. H. Thompson, can arrive on the ground. The location has not yet been secured, though it is thought that the Lindell will be the scene of activity if proper arrangements can be made.

FARMERS INSPECT EXPERIMENT STATION

SCOTT'S BLUFF, Neb., Aug. 1.—(Special.)—One of the happy events of the season was the farmers' picnic at the experiment farm today. In the forenoon a large number of farmers gathered and after looking over the farm, partook of a basket dinner, and in the afternoon about twenty-five automobiles loaded with business men and their wives, of this city, went out and joined in the affair. The county medical society was in session at the assembly room of the Scott's Bluff club, and they made another party to the picture spot, which Prof. Knorr and his assistants have made of the Scott's Bluff station. Everyone who attended remarked the wonderful transformation that has taken place from the raw prairie in the last two years. It is simply marvelous that so high a state of cultivation can be attained in two years.

Some several dozens of varieties of potatoes are being grown this year with the idea of finding one or more that will resist blight, and with fair success. The whole farm is laid off in squares of about one hundred feet, and on each square is some variety of grain, corn, forage, or root crop. Flax is one of the new developments that is showing up fine. All kinds of alfalfa are grown under all kinds of conditions, and are being crossed with the view to increasing its tonnage and forage worth.

Makes Assault Upon Wife.

CRESTON, Ia., Aug. 1.—(Special Telegram.)—Quarrelling over letters and attention which he claimed his wife received from other men, Claude Clark attempted to cut his wife's throat this morning with a razor. In shielding herself the woman's thumb was caught by the razor and almost severed. Clark was placed in jail charged with intent to do great injury to his wife.

NEWS FROM BEATRICE AND GAGE COUNTY

BEATRICE, Neb., Aug. 1.—The Home State bank at De Witt is building a new block to take the place of the one destroyed by fire some time ago.

The cases against the three veterinarians, Dr. Earl Robertson of this city and Drs. Wildman and Williams of Blue Springs, who are charged with practicing without a license, were called in Judge Ellis' court yesterday and continued to August 9, 10 and 11. Dr. Page of the south part of the county, who was recently arrested on a similar charge, pleaded guilty and was fined $25 and costs.

Benjamin McVicker and Miss Grace E. Warthen, both of West Beatrice, were married last evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Warthen, Rev. J. A. Rousey officiating. Mrs. J. W. Wainwright of Adams died yesterday in a Lincoln hospital, where she was recently operated upon. She is survived by her husband and seven children.

County Superintendent Jessie M. Prylla is in receipt of a communication from Prof. C. W. Pugsley of the Nebraska state university, asking her assistance in the organizing of boys' and girls' clubs in Gage county. The purpose of the organization is to bring the boys and girls in closer touch with each other and give them instruction in up-to-date farming.

MIXES CARBOLIC ACID WITH BEER AND DIES

IOWA CITY, Ia., Aug. 1.—(Special Telegram.)—James Carpenter of this city committed suicide last night by mixing carbolic acid with his beer. He was dead in eight minutes.

The plan of mixing the carbolic acid with beer probably made it seem less distasteful, as Carpenter had tried to take his life three times before and lost his nerve each time. He died without any evidence of pain, such as usually accompanies carbolic acid poisoning.

Furniture Store Sold by Sheriff.

FAIRBURY, Neb., Aug. 1.—(Special.)—The furniture store of Richardson & Hurd on the north side of the square was sold at auction by Sheriff Ed Hughes and was purchased by the First National bank for $3,450. It will be reopened in the near future. This furniture store was forced into involuntary bankruptcy several months ago by creditors of the firm. The failure is said to be due to overstocking and slack business in the furniture line.

New Station at Bradshaw.

BRADSHAW, Neb., Aug. 1.—(Special.)—The elegant and commodious new station of the Burlington at this place has been thoroughly equipped for business and was occupied yesterday. The first tickets were issued from the new ticket window a few minutes after noon. The building is modern in all of its appointments and the Burlington people certainly have the thanks of the citizens of Bradshaw and vicinity.

The committee of arrangements for the second annual conference of the Legal Aid Societies of the United States announced that November 15 has been fixed as the date for the conference, and New York City the place.

FIRST MURDER PLOT FAILS

Hired Thugs Lose Nerve and Fail to Kill Rosenthal.

BECKER DENOUNCES COWARDICE

Police Lieutenant in Anger Tells Gunmen He Will Accomplish Crime Himself—Rose and Webber Talk.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—Police Lieutenant Charles Becker, head of the "strong arm" squad of gambling raiders, who is charged with instigating the murder of Herman Rosenthal, was tonight further implicated in the plot to get rid of the gambler when "Bald Jack" Rose and "Bridgie" Webber added another chapter to their already amazing allegations. They told District Attorney Whitman that Rosenthal was to have been killed at the instigation of Becker ten days before he actually met his fate and that the plot failed because the underworld thugs selected to do the murder lost their nerve at the last moment.

The district attorney spent the greater part of the afternoon with Rose and Webber in their cells at the west side police station and under the promise of leniency which the prosecutor has given them they talked freely. They gave little additional information regarding the $2,000,000 fund which they alleged illegal resorts paid for police protection in the city every year but their story of the alleged anxiety of Lieutenant Becker because of Gambler Rosenthal's threatened exposures was amplified to the district attorney and, in the prosecutor's opinion, he strengthened his evidence against Becker.

"The plot that failed" was so have been brought to its climax at the Garden restaurant on Fifty-first street on Saturday night, July 5, when Rosenthal and his wife were dining there, according to the account told by Rose to the district attorney as spokesman for the two gamblers. With Rosenthal and his wife at the time was Jack Sullivan, the newsboy, now under arrest for alleged complicity in the murder.

Thugs Lose Nerve.

Rose himself engineered the "job" and brought to the restaurant "a fleet of thugs" who were to do the actual shooting, according to Rose. Two of the hired assassins were "Gyp the Blood" and "Lefty Louie," who are wanted by the police as two of the men who actually shot Rosenthal ten days later in front of the Metropole hotel. Becker at that time was downtown, Rose said, waiting for the murder plot to be consummated. "Becker had talked with me every day," Rose said. "He kept saying to me, 'Why don't you kill this fellow off?' Rosenthal would have been killed off that night if the bunch had not lost their nerve. They got the notion after they reached the restaurant that a detective was on to them. After giving up the assassination we went to 'Bridgie' Webber's place and there we met Becker. He denounced us all up and down.

"You are a lot of cowards," he said. "I'll have to do it myself."

Rosenthal, it was recalled by the district attorney when he heard the story, had but a few days before this made his complaint against Becker, charging that the police lieutenant was a partner in his gambling house.

Fire 85,000 Shots in Maneuver Campaign

CAMP MCCOY, SPARTA, Wis., Aug. 1.—More than 85,000 shots were fired in one of the greatest maneuver campaigns ever held in the United States, which ended this afternoon in the victory of the Blue army over the Reds. From 6:30 a. m. until 2 p. m. the conflict raged. Rain fell three times during the day.

Twice during the encounter 6,000 troops became engaged in the battle, which was fought in hills and valleys over sandy roads and a country studded with brush and trees. The Blues won their victory over the Reds by employing a left flanking movement simultaneously with a direct frontal attack on the Reds. Three trenches dug in hillsides were used during the day by the Reds, but they were twice driven out of them.

More than ten miles of marching was included in the advance of the Reds yesterday. Their victory concluded the "war" which has existed between states east and west of the Mississippi, as the capture of Sparta now cuts off the base of supplies of the Red division.

Tells More of Graft.

He and Rose both said that in Manhattan alone there were probably 100 gambling houses paying tribute to the police, and that the sum total of $2,000,000 paid annually was a conservative figure. Webber incidentally said today that Becker was present when the money was produced which went to thugs hired to kill Rosenthal. Shortly after the murder, he said, Becker met Rose and Webber in front of the Murray Hill baths and said: "Now Bridgie, you will have to give the boys some money to get out of town. I'll fix it up with you later."

Webber said he then handed $1,000 in large bills to Rose, who later handed it to Sam Schepps, and on that afternoon Schepps gave it to "Gyp the Blood" and Lefty Louie in front of the Times building.

In corroboration of this assertion of Webber's, the district attorney has the names of two witnesses, one a woman, who, he said, would testify that they saw Webber and Rose talking to Becker in front of the Murray Hill baths shortly after the murder.

"Dago Frank" Breaks Down.

After his arraignment again late today before Coroner Feinberg, "Dago Frank" Croflet, who is charged with being one of the actual slayers of Rosenthal, was led weeping back to his cell in the Tombs. Croflet's collapse led to reports that he was about to make a statement telling all he knew of the killing, but no official confirmation of this could be obtained. Assistant District Attorney Moss, who appeared for the state before the coroner, and Deputy Police Commissioner Dougherty were in conference regarding "Dago Frank's" case after the hearing and appeared immensely pleased with developments. The fact that Croflet's attorney made no objection to having his hearing before the coroner continued tomorrow lent strength to the rumors of a coming statement.

It "Dago Frank's" behalf, however, it was stated by his counsel, Caesar De Barra, that an alibi would be proved.

Vote Down Power Plant.

FORT DODGE, Ia., Aug. 1.—(Special Telegram.)—By a majority of 82, the citizens of Fort Dodge today refused to authorize the issue of $20,000 in bonds to pay for a municipal dam and power plant. Nearly as many women voted as men.
