BODDY REGAINS FREEDOM

Governor Aldrich Refuses to Honor Requisition for Desertion.

TELLS WIFE TO GET DIVORCE

Finds Both Left Iowa Under Agreement and that Law for Leaving Family Does Not Apply in This Case.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Aug. 2.—(Special.)—Most of the forenoon was taken up this morning before the governor on an application of the governor of Iowa for a requisition for William Boddy, held in custody in the city of Schuyler for wife abandonment.

Mrs. Boddy, accompanied by the county attorney of Buena Vista county, Iowa, was present, while the defendant was represented by Attorneys Dalzell and Button of Fremont. Boddy was not present, being in Schuyler.

According to the hearing Mr. and Mrs. Boddy had both been married before and had children. They lived on a farm near the town of Osborn, La. Everything went along smoothly until the conduct of Mr. Boddy and Mrs. Trum, who lived near them, became such that the husband of Mrs. Trum sued Mr. Boddy for damages and secured a judgment of $3,000 against the man Boddy. Then Mr. Boddy proposed to his wife that they sell the farm and come to Nebraska and thus keep from having to pay the judgment, which was agreed to. The farm was sold and under instructions of Mr. Boddy his wife went to Minnesota to visit relatives. Mr. Boddy agreeing to send for her as soon as he got located. As a precaution for the safety of the money received from the sale of the farm they both came to Omaha and deposited it and then returned and packed the household goods not sold with the farm.

Manner of Leaving Iowa. Giving Mrs. Boddy a small sum of money, the amount of which is in dispute, the amount of which is in dispute, Mrs. Boddy claiming it was but $25, while he in his affidavit says it was $50, she departed on her visit, but testified that with but one exception she never received but one letter from her husband up to the present time and that she has been compelled to work out as a domestic in order to support herself.

Attorneys for Boddy set forth that, inasmuch as both Mr. and Mrs. Boddy had disposed of their property with the idea of leaving the state and had left and had not returned, that they were not residents of the state of Iowa at the time of the alleged desertion and therefore the state had no hold on him.

The attorney for Mrs. Boddy admitted that they had both left the state of Iowa, but contended that inasmuch as Mr. Boddy had deceived his wife into the belief that he was sending her to Minnesota and would send for her as soon as he got settled in Nebraska, and had not done so, and furthermore, that since coming to Nebraska he had with Mrs. Trum most of the time, was sufficient evidence that the crime of desertion took place, when he sent his wife to Minnesota with the evident intention of deserting her.

Governor Aldrich denied the requisition on the grounds that as they had both left Iowa of their own free will, with no intention of returning, no crime had been committed in Iowa as far as desertion was concerned. He condemned Boddy strongly and intimated that he ought to be sent up on general principles and surely should have been prosecuted in Iowa for adultery. He advised Mrs. Boddy to apply for a divorce at once and ask for alimony.

Mill Ordered to Enclose Bell.

Labor Commissioner Guye received this morning notice of the death of Gustav Olsen in the planing mill of Weir & Company in Omaha. Olsen was a 16-year-old lad working in the mills and his death was caused by the main belt which runs the machines breaking, striking him and causing his death. It is claimed that the lagging in the belt was defective and that it was the lagging which broke.

Commissioner Guye says that on April 11 of this year the mill was inspected by the deputy commissioner of labor at Omaha and that this identical belt was ordered enclosed according to law.

Counties to Exhibit.

"It looks to me," said Secretary Mellor of the state fair, "that we were going to have a big exhibit of agricultural products by counties this year. Eighteen counties have made application for space already. Last year there were twenty-two, but the way they are coming in the number ought to be considerably larger for 1912. The counties already assigned are Antelope, Butler, Custer, Deuel, Douglas, Frontier, Franklin, Garden, Kearney, Morrill, Nuckolls, Pawnee, Saunders, Scotts Bluff, Saline, Webster, Washington and York. These counties are given fifty feet front space."

The physical valuation of the Burlington railway hearing, which was before the railway commission all of yesterday, was still up this morning and may last some time yet. The commission is going into the matter very thoroughly.

MANUEL, BULL MOOSER, THINKS POPS ARE DEAD

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Aug. 2.—(Special.)—"Yes," said C. B. Manuel, superintendent of the Kearney Industrial school and a former state chairman of the populist committee, "I have severed my connection with the populist party and am a full fledged bull mooser. If you don't believe it, look at my horns," and with a smile Mr. Manuel took off his hat and exhibited his bald pate to the eyes of the newspapermen.

"Do you think that the populist party will still continue to exist?" was asked. "I do not know," said he, "it seems to me that they haven't much left. The republican legislature of six years ago passed all of the most important things we were contending for and it took me as if the republican party, the old party, was the party which was entitled to most of the glory. Neither of the democratic legislatures since has done anything and I do not look for very much from that source anyway."

JOHNSON FARMER ATTACKED BY A SAVAGE BULL

TECUMSEH, Neb., Aug. 2.—(Special.)—Peter Brauer, a farmer living east of Tecumseh, had a terrible tussle with an infuriated bull, and it is almost miraculous that he was not killed. With a neighbor, J. H. Brillhart, he had been in the pasture singling out some cattle. The job over, Mr. Brillhart started for his home, but had gone but a short distance when he heard Mr. Brauer calling for help. It seems the bull had charged on him, striking him in the back. The bull has no horns, but he struck Mr. Brauer a terrific blow and knocked him to the ground. Mr. Brauer had no stick, and the bull knocked him down the third time and was trying to grind the life out of the man with his head. Mr. Brauer succeeded in getting hold of the animal's tongue and nose, and in this way could ward off some of the aimed blows. Upon seeing the predicament, Mr. Brillhart realized he had to act quickly, and he, too, did not even have a stick to fight the animal with. He ran into the pasture and attracted the bull's attention and the animal went after him. Mr. Brillhart ran to the fence and got out of the bull's way. He continued to take the animal's attention until Mr. Brauer got onto his feet. He was taken home and it was found that no bones were broken. Mr. Brauer was terribly shocked and felt the effects of his rough encounter for some little time.

Proposed Changes Range from Five Per Cent in Phelps to Thirty Per Cent in Harlan—Seven Counties Too High.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, Aug. 2.—(Special.)—On August 13, things will be interesting around the office of Governor Aldrich, where the state board of assessment will hold its meeting for the purpose of hearing matters relating to the raise in assessment of about fifty counties.

Fifty-eight counties in all will be considered. Of these seven have been lowered. In addition to these the assessors of Garfield, Grant, Kimball and Perkins have been notified that there may be some slight changes in the assessment of personal property.

Following are the counties where change is contemplated, showing the assessment in 1911, the assessment this year, the proposed increase and decrease the value per acre if the proposed changes are made by the board.

Postoffice Shows Big Gain in Its Postal Receipts

The gross receipts of the Omaha postoffice for July ran 15 per cent higher than those of the corresponding month last year. This is the greatest gain by one month over a corresponding month in a previous year since August, 1910, which ran 16 per cent over the receipts of August of the year before. The total receipts for July, 1912, were $8,986.42. The total for July was $7,597.64. The difference is $1,388.78. Comparison of previous months shows that last March ran .01 per cent over the March of the previous years. June ran .01 per cent over the previous June; May ran .08 per cent over the previous May, and so on. Postoffice authorities say the great receipts in the past month indicate a general spurt in business in Omaha.

RAY FARRELL WINS THE GUN CLUB TENNIS TOURNAY

Ray Farrell won the 1912 singles championship of the Rod and Gun club Thursday by brushing his brother Howard Farrell, in the challenge single round, score, 6-2, 3-6, 6-4. Ray retains possession of the club silver trophy cup.

The first set was won by Ray on Tuesday night by a score of 6-2, but the finish of the match had to be postponed until Thursday evening. Ray was in good form throughout and used a speedy "cut" serve which baffled his brother at every turn. Howard showed a marked ability to plant "aces" in the second set and won out, 6-3. After ten hard fought games, several of which went to 6-4, Ray took the third and deciding set, 6-4. Al Hansen umpired the match.
