Store Closes at 5:00 O'Clock

At Nine O'Clock Next Saturday Night

We ring down the curtain on the greatest selling event Omaha has ever known and the sale of the Bennett Half-Million Dollar Stocks will be history. Fresh bargains to greet you this week

We're sorry we can't continue this sort of selling for we have made countless friends for the store and extended the boundaries of Omaha's reputation as a retail center far beyond what it ever was before. But it has to end for the old Bennett stocks are nearly gone—just one more week for you to enjoy the greatest bargains you are ever likely to know.

So we have given ourselves just one more week in which to hurry out the remainder. We have taken great privileges with the price tags—cut them even lower than their already shamefully low little sale prices.

Lovely Lingerie Dresses, Now

$14.95

It's now the time when every store is putting forth its best efforts to rid itself of summer stocks for a store's season is about three to five months ahead of your season—the store must prepare itself for what you will need in the following season long before your season is over. But in spite of the strenuous measures all stores must now use, we doubt if you will be able to find lingerie dresses that compare with these at $14.95 for anywhere near the same price. They are advanced in style and made of heavy robe embroideries. Elegantly trimmed with Macramé lace, hand embroidery, Irish, filet and valenciennes laces as well as the finest quality machine made embroideries. Copied from imported models and made to sell at $29.50 to $35.00. Tomorrow you choose at $14.95.

In the Silk Store Will Be Many Most Interesting Bargains this Week. $1.25 Silks 68c

The silk bargain we mention in the above caption is a "head-liner" in every sense of the word, as it embraces some of the coming fall season's choicest fabrics. There are beautiful chameleon messalines in two and three-toned color combinations, and sturdy, fine draping silk serges in the wanted light and dark shades. Fairly priced at $1.25 when they come into the store, they now represent the biggest silk bargain of the season at the sale price of 68c the yard. All are full 27 inches wide.

One Lot of Wash Goods at 5c
The selling prices in the wash goods department are out of all proportion with the quality. You will be glad if it and we will forget it in the big selling that is sure to result from the new markings. 19c batistes, organdies and flaxons in various patterns and colorings, are now 5c the yard.

Kimono Silks at, the Yard, 38c
We're safe in saying you have never seen prettier kimono silks than those in this final clearance and we know that the same qualities have never before so reasonably priced. Oriental patterns in practically all colors, full 36 inches wide, worth 59c the yard, at 38c.

Why not buy "Capitol" Coal NOW while it's $6.50

"CAPITOL"—the same high grade, clean and INTENSELY hot coal you've purchased at this store during the past five years, is $6.50 per ton NOW, but will advance to $7 a little later in the season. A quick and certain saving of 50c a ton if you'll stock your coal bins AT ONCE. And the same old "Capitol" guarantee holds good—if it isn't the equal of any other concern's $8 coal after TRYING it, exchange it for OUR best $8 coal—that MEANS something. "Capitol" comes in large lump, medium lump and nut and burns without grief—hot—clean—economical. SAVE that "half dollar" per ton—be an economist—supply WINTER needs in summer if you'll GAIN by doing so.

Censers and Incense

During the course of some special studies and researches on the utilization of fire, conducted by Dr. Walter Hough, curator of ethnology, United States National Museum, his attention was drawn to the collection of aboriginal incense burners in the museum, and eventually he undertook a special study of this collection.

These were not incense burners in the strict sense, but victims were sometimes scorched before the fires, ashes from the portable censers were thrown into the braziers, and such paraphernalia and offerings as were used in the ceremony were here finally consumed. These braziers were the source from which the live coals were taken for lighting the incense burners and censers. They apparently represented the perpetuation of the primitive communal fire, the Nahuatl name for which signifies "fire navel," indicating both birth and the underworld. The braziers were usually shaped like an hour glass, although some had the form of stone basins borne aloft by the figures of men and animals, while others were merely circular stones mounted on short pedestals or altars of shrimps in temples. Nearly all represented the human body in some way, either by effigies, masks, or by an encircling band or sash. Several specimens of these various types, coming mostly from Mexico and Costa Rica, are found in the collections of the National Museum.

The history of the development of pipes is fascinating and forms an important part in the history of censers. It is believed that the pipe antedates the use of narcotic herbs, such as tobacco, although the importance of smoke appears to have been chiefly, if not wholly, due to its supposed medical properties. The offering of incense made by the Aztecs to the Spanish conquerors resembles in many respects the familiar peace pipe customs of the American Indians, and the pipes themselves are similar to those found everywhere between Southern Mexico and Canada. The custom of smoking probably did not originate through the enjoyment of the taste of the smoke, but arose in connection with the development of the fire cult in which it had a sacred significance. At first offerings were made from a campfire or fireplace.

then, as progress was made in the arts, the braziers were used, and finally the natives came to use portable appliances, which gave use to a great variety of forms, including handled pots and censers. The European swinging censers are evidently a development of the stationary vase form, as is also the pipe.

It Affected His Nature.
"Old Hingle is pretty slow, isn't he?"
"Yes, indeed. He's a fossil. I don't believe he has progressed an inch in twenty years."
"What's the matter with him?"
"I guess it's the fault of the business he's in."
"What's that?"
"Why, he has the contract for painting all the city's 'keep off the grass' signs."
