TERRIBLE ITCHING AND BURNING

Scalp Eczema for About Five Years. Form of Ringworm. Thick, Rough Scale. Entirely Well After Using Cuticura Soap and Ointment.

Iberia, Mo .- "I was troubled with scalp eczema for about five years and tried everything I heard of but all of no avail. The doctors told me I would have to have my head shaved. Being a woman I hated the idea of that. "I was told by a friend that the Cuticura Remedies would do me good. This coring I purchased two boxes of Cuticura Ointment and one cake of Cuticura Scap. After using one box of Cuticura Ointment I considered the cure permanent, but continued to use It to make sure and used about one-half the other box. Now I am entirely well. I also used the Cuticura Soap.

"The disease began on the back of my head, taking the form of a ringworm only more severe, rising to a thick, rough scale that would come off when soaked with oil or warm water, bringing a few hairs each time, but in a few days would form again, larger each time, and spreading until the entire back of the head was covered with the scale. This was accompanied by a terrible itching and barning sensation, Now my head is completely well and my hair growing nicely." (Signed) Mrs. G. F. Clark, Mar. 25, 1912. Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment are sold throughout the world. Liberal sample of each malled free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept.T. Boston." Frender-faced men should use Cuticurs

Yeiser Has Scheme to Sew Up Taft Men at State Convention

John O. Yelser declares that six of the electoral candidates will announce themselves for Roosevelt while only two are back. The bullet took effect and as a for Taft. According to Yeiser the program now will be to hold a state convention and nominate two men for Roosevelt electors, naming at the same to tell McAvoy he would pay his bill time the six men already on the republican ticket who favor Roosevelt. Then they will endorse the entire republican state ticket outside of the electors. He smiles as he talks of the scheme of getting the six Roosevelt electors on the ticket in two places both at the head of the republican and progressive column. This sews the Taft people up in great shape," says Yelser.

Although the Roosevelt party has re ceived a name through the preamble of the platform adopted at Chicago and is to be known as the "Progressive" party, Mr. Yelser says he is still a republican.

Asked if he would have any part in the proposed convention to be held by the "progressives," he said he would confer with his friends when they returned from Chicago.

This, written in the Paxton hotel register, caused quite a stir among the guests and bell boys yesterday morning. Someone had whispered that there had arrived during the night an East Indian prince, and a lively interest was manifest. The bell hops brushed their hair and pulled down their blouses in anticipation of "baksheesh" in liberal hunks. and many guests loitered about the lobby to get a glimps of the imperial person-

It seemed a long wait, but finally there stepped out of the elevator a rather striking, dark complexioned man. His hair and neat moustache were coal black. and he wore a neatly wound turban. Yes, he was nothing short of a prince, and the bell hops hopped to him in royal fashion, doing salaams and kowtows until their backs and necks ached. The clerks awakened to the energency. The outstretched hands addressed him as rooms.

He was being taken for a native ruler of India He thought of carrying the joke a little farther, but his good breeding repelled the idea and he laughed, and relieved the situation by remarking:

"You have made a mistake. While I was born, reared and educated in India, I am just a poor lecturer, doing Chautaugua work and at the same time seeking to improve the condition of my people at home. I am not a crown, nor any other kind of a prince. If I were, I would not have to travel about the country, catching freight trains and getting out at midnight in order to fill engagements. However, I'm glad to see you." Question.

Commercial club members and representatives from Creighton First Addition Improvement club joined in battle before the city commission over the proposed brick yard ordinance, which repeals the ordinance prohibiting brick kilns in the city and permits the establishment of such plants providing the chimneys are built 100 feet high. The ordinance was laid over for another week to give the commissioners an opportunity to investigate the claims of the protestants. W. H. Hatteroth, D. C. Patterson, Mike Keiser, Mike Hogan and W. J. Hoopes, representating the residents, declared the ordinance had been drafted to allow Herman Krittenbrink of South Omaha to establish a brick yard at Thirty-sixth and Wright streets.

He said, for example, that his own bus!ness employed 680 men a few years ago but because the citizens insisted on sending east for their clothes there were now but seventy-three men employed, being members of the German Tailors' association, although there "ought to be 2,000."

President Haverstick of the Commercial club said this amendment was not fair because it would give the brick manufacturers a monopoly. City Attorney Rine ruled against a suggestion that an ordinance be drafted excepting certain residential districts. He declared the courts would not sustain such an ordinance. City Council Notes.

Good Story Put Over Brand Whitlock by Meredith Nicholson

Meredith Nicholson, the novelist who married an Omaha zirl, Miss Eugenia Kountze of the family of bankers of that name, and Brand Whitlock, the mayor of Toledo, are very warm friends.

Some time ago Nicholson said to Whitlock: "Brand, I envy you. You come in centact with all kinds of men. You actually know and talk to burglars and other criminals. All I know about them is what I read or imagine about them. Now the next time you meet a good burglar I want you to send him to me. Give him a card to me, and tell him will pay his car fare and expenses. want to talk to him and see how criminal differs from other men."

Whitlock promised to send along the next good specimen of a burglar that came his way, and forgot all about the matter until some weeks later he ceived this letter from Nicholson:

"Your friend came, but I had not ex ected him professionally. If you will tell him to bring back the family plate and Mrs. Nicholson's jewels, you and I will resume social relations." At any rate, this is the way the story teller for Hearst magazine tells it.

ORPHEUM SEASON'S OPENING MARKS AN IMPORTANT EPOCH

The opening of the Omaha Orpheum season, which begins August 25, marks an epoch in the history of this famous circuit, the twenty-fifth anniversary of which was celebrated in San Francisco on June 30 of this year.

Additional significance and importance were given to the event by the fact that about the same time the Orpheum made its entry into New York through an arrangement by which the Orpheum Theater and Realty company, in conjunction with B. F. Kelth and his eastern assoclates, purchased the Percy G. Williams circuit, consisting of the leading vaudeville houses, some ten in number, in Greater New York. At the same time an affiliation was entered into binding for twenty years all the high-class vaudeville theaters of the United States and Canada to book jointly so that acts might be engaged for several consecutive years and unprecedented inducements offered to the foremost artists of the world to enter vaudeville. It goes without saying, therefore, that the Orpheum circuit has the first call on every vaudeville act of note and its patrons will get the very best shows that capital, brains and enterprise can obtain. Special arrangements have been made for the coming season to take particular care of telephone orders. Usual prices will prevail for the coming season.

CONDEMNATION STARTED TO OPEN FIRST AVENUE

The process of condemnation has been started by the city to secure title to two lots required for the opening of First avenue from Main to Fourth street by the appointment of William Arnd, J. P. Greenshields, W. S. Cooper, Wallace Benjamin, James T. Mulqueen and A. M. Hutchinson as a jury to appraise the property. Title to all of the other property has been acquired by purchase. This includes the lot on which stands the two story brick building formerly occupied by the Cole Bros.' hardware store and the residence property on the Fourth street end of the strip The prinicpal property to be condemned is covered by a two-story frame building. The appraisers are to report within two weeks. The money to pay for the condemned property is now on deposit in a local bank, all raised by local subscriptions and largely contributed by those most directly interested in opening the street. The opening of the new street will greatly extend the business frontage in the heart of the town. It will give the independent telephone company's building, which was vacated when the plant was moved into the Scott street exchange, a street corner frontage, largely enhancing its value. It was largely for this reason that the telephone company contributed $1,000 to the fund.

Do You Know What a Circulating Gas Water Heater Is?

Many think it is a clumsy appliance-wrong. Others think it is attached to the coal or Gas Range-wrong.

A Circulating Gas Water Heater

is a small cylindrical water heating device attached to your kitchen tank. The jacket is made of cast iron, durable and neat in appearance, with a hinged door so that the gas burner may be easily lighted. Inside the jacket is a long copper heating coil which insures quick heating results and will not rust or corrode. A powerful yet economical Gas burner is placed under this coil, which heats the water as it circulates through the copper coil.
