Mr. Shane while in the contracting busiess built the old county court house and was superintendent of that building to the time of his last illness, March 23. The last big contract undertaken by him was the construction of the big Brandels store. Numerous other buildings around the city stand as monuments to his ability in the construction line.

During his career he had been associated with a number of men. In the '70s his firm name was Shane & Quimby, later changed to Shane & Manning. In the '80s he was associated with Harry Jackson under the firm name of Shane & Jackson.

Through his long residence and his upright life he won a wide circle of friends in Omaha. He was a prominent member of the First Baptist church congregation and was trustee of the church for years There are surviving Mrs. Shane, who s 70 years old and in good health; son, Willis Otis Shane, and daughter, Lydia Stella Shane.

> The county commissioners let the contract for the removal of the old Snyder bridge, in the extreme southwest corner of the county because they were informed the course of the river was changed and the bridge left on dry land. The bridge was to be moved so as to span the new channel. Later it developed that the board had been misinformed. The river's course had been changed and a new bridge was needed but twelve feet of water stood in the old channel and upon removal of the old bridge a new one would have to replace it.
