COUNTIES VOICE PROTESTS
Representatives Appear Before State Board of Equalization.

OBJECT TO VALUATIONS OF LAND
Inequalities Existing in Board's Decree Pointed Out—Banking Bank Knocks Professional Bank Promoters.

(From a Special Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Aug. 12.—(Special.)—Representatives from half the counties in the state were present at the meeting of the state board of equalization this morning and the governor's office, where the board met could not hold them all. Every county represented had serious objections to the raise contemplated by the board and endeavored to show how much poorer land there was in comparison to that of the counties adjoining. It was impossible to listen to all the counties this forenoon and the board adjourned at noon taking up other counties after the lunch hour. The counties heard this afternoon were Hall, Hamilton, Adams, Holt, Buffalo, Harlan, Sheridan, Dawes, Dixon, Pierce and Richardson. The board heard each separately and will not give a decision on any of them until they have had time to go through the claims advanced by each representative against any raise.

Babeock Claims Heard. The state board of irrigation is busy on the hearing on the Babeock claims to water rights of the Loup river, which was postponed for thirty days last month that both sides might be in better shape to present their claims. Mr. Babeock was on the stand all of yesterday and until noon today and his testimony was listened to by a goodly crowd of interested attorneys and others.

The firm will conduct a general automobile business and will manufacture automobile tops and seat covers. The capital stock is $50,000. The articles are signed by A. W. Gilman, president; A. W. Kohl, vice president; and M. M. Searles, secretary.

Oppose Bank Promoters. It having come to the notice of Mr. Royce, secretary of the State Banking Board, that in some states certain parties were going over the country organizing state banks and then selling out at a good profit, the board after considering the matter passed the following resolutions at their meeting held August 5.

Whereas, It having come to the knowledge of this board that the promoters of the currency and bank supervising authorities of Michigan, Iowa and other states, have come in contact with the promoters of numerous professional bank promoters, holding from different localities, and Whereas, It is learned that the promoters of the organization of institutions by each person have, in most instances, proven unsatisfactory and dangerous, therefore be it

Resolved, That it is the sense of the board that charters for institutions coming under the supervision of the State Banking Board be withheld where it is found that their organization has been effected by methods incompatible with safe business principles, and where the promoters or organizers propose to retain a certain per cent of the capital as an organization fee or commission for soliciting stock subscriptions.

STORM PUTS WATERLOO OFF MAP FOR A FEW HOURS

WATERLOO, Neb., Aug. 12.—(Special.)—Heavy rains, accompanied by wind and much lightning and some hail, damaged vine and seed crops in this vicinity Monday. The storm struck the town about 9 o'clock and lightning struck out the terminal box of the local telephone company, every telephone on the line being out of commission. The prompt action of volunteers in turning water from the Robinson private system on the burning pole probably saved serious conflagration. By working all night telephone communication was re-established by noon today with Valley and Elkhorn, also long distance, but most of the local telephones are still out of commission.

As yet this city has no park and the matter has been agitated for several years by the Woman's club and the Commercial club. Joining their forces these clubs have secured a petition bearing 235 signatures and presented it to the city council asking that the proposition of bonding the city for the sum of $5,000 for a park and playground be submitted to a referendum vote. The council has just granted the request and named September 17 as the day for the election.

Nebraska
Lighting Battle Goes Merrily On

KEARNEY, Neb., Aug. 12.—(Special Telegram.)—Despite the notice served by the city council on the Kearney Water and Electric Power company today, notifying them to furnish no more electricity for street lighting purposes. The lights burned as usual this evening. It was discovered Saturday that the franchise supposed to have been granted to the company ten years ago and about to expire is defective and the city attorney claims it is not binding on the city. The plan of the council at present seems to be to force the company out of the business of street lighting, then force them to remove their poles and wire lines, an ordinance being ordered drafted to that effect, then with no interference and no lights, for the city to vote bonds to install a large municipal system sufficient in size to handle both street and commercial lighting.

STEAMSHIP COMPANY ORDERS LINERS FOR PANAMA TRAFFIC

LONDON, Aug. 12.—The Royal Mail Steam Packet company, it is known today, has given orders to a British ship concern for new 600-ton passenger liners for Panama traffic to meet expected severe German competition. Mr. Hlaw, an official of the Royal Mail company, in an interview today expressed the opinion that there was a chance to be disturbed by the action of the American agents in passing the Panama canal bill. He did not believe the American government would seriously entertain a step calculated to deprive the canal of a considerable source of revenue. In any case he thought the matter could be amicably arranged without making comments distasteful to the United States.

Things were different then, however."

City Council Reduces Levy by Fraction of Mill.

ONE SLOT MACHINE IS FOUND

Mayor Hoctor Says He is Doing Best to Drive Them From City—Sarry Mills is to Be Closed Up.

According to figures compiled yesterday to meet the appropriation for the new fiscal year the tax levy will amount to .015 mills, or a slight fraction lower than last year's levy. The taxable property approximates a total valuation of $3,975,000 and will produce $59,625 for the conduct of the city government during the coming year. This slight reduction of the mill levy caused considerable pleasure among the members of the city administration yesterday when Tax Collector Jerry Fitzgerald announced that the railroad figures were in and that the levy could now be made. The list compiled by Tax Collector Fitzgerald shows that the present value of property in the Magic City is divided as follows: Real estate.....42,614,575 Personal property.....7,610,975 Railroad, real estate and personal property.....2,135,245 Railroad rolling stock.....544,200 Private car lines.....13,515 Total.....$53,219,600

Based on these figures the council then undertook to reduce the mill levy and at the same time produce an appropriation that would approximate the $500,000 which it is calculated as being needed to run the city. The result of the calculations shows that the fire department will run on $2,000 less than was allowed for its maintenance last year. The police fund, which proved insufficient to get the department through the year, was left at the same figure, approximately. It is understood that the action of the council in not raising the appropriation for the police fund means a stubborn determination to cut down the present force. The following table shows in detail the amount to be levied for each fund of the city government: Salary fund.....$36,494.05 General fund.....29,388.26 Fire fund.....28,204.11 Police fund.....29,388.26 Public light fund.....18,413.20 Water fund.....19,382.99 Library fund.....4,976.46 Park fund.....4,976.46 Street repair fund.....8,882.52 Street cleaning fund.....5,967.30 Interest and sinking fund.....9,956.71 Total.....$308,089.23

Only One Slot Machine.

Councilman Henry Hartnett caused considerable flurry in the city council last night when he asked Mayor Tom Hoctor as to the disposition of the Vana resolution looking to the extirpation of the slot machine nuisance in South Omaha. The mayor explained that acting under his orders Chief of Police John Briggs had made the round of the city in search of slot machines and had delivered a written report testifying to the fact that there was only one machine found in the city besides the trade machine.

Councilmen John Vann and Henry Hartnett both took issue with the chief's report and declared that the machine was running full blast yet. The mayor said he could get 300 business men of South Omaha to petition for the use of the slot machines in the city, but he had done his best to enforce the resolution.

Wheeler Checks Up Gills.

One week ago City Clerk Perry Wheeler announced that he would check up all outstanding warrants against the amounts reported in the different funds by City Treasurer John Gillin, whose report it is understood did not agree on its face with that of the city clerk. Investigation reveals that the cause of the discrepancy between the figures of the two officials is due to the fact that City Clerk Wheeler has checked up outstanding warrants as liabilities against the funds reported in the treasurer's office. In which case it appears that the clerk's accurate work will show the exact amount of money to be set over in the interest and sinking funds for the year and not merely the amount of cash left on hand in the different funds.

McKale Files Report.

Chief of the Fire Department John McKale yesterday filed his annual statement with City Clerk Perry Wheeler. The total expense for maintaining the department during the year amounted to $32,500. From the 217 fires reported the city suffered a total insurance loss of $13,485 on buildings and contents. The total valuation of all buildings burned during the year together with the contents of them amount to $727,356, on which there was a total insurance of $438,585. Deducting the insurance loss on fires within the packing district, which is patrolled to a great extent by private fire departments, the total loss in property and contents in the city amounts to $45,500, or something less than $20,000.

In his recommendation the chief asks the council and fire board to provide motor truck and an automobile for his department, which he claims would be immeasurably benefited thereby. Road House to Be Closed. Grant Chase, sheriff of Sarpy county, stated that the county commissioners would revoke the license of Ira Small proprietor of the Sarpy Mills road house. The Mills have caused considerable worry to Sarpy county officials lately and yesterday charges and counter charges of graft and hush money were bandied about by the followers of Miss Mabel Williams. Sheriff Chase said last evening that he did not believe any graft money had been paid or accepted in Sarpy for the conduct of illegal resorts. Rumor has it that Sarpy Mills or Rose Park as it is now known was run wide open with the concurrence or permission of Sarpy authorities. It is whispered that the system of graft is said to extend up to South Omaha where the alleged fixers are said to reside.

Then she retreated up the mountain side, growling defiance at the campers. Guides started in pursuit, but young Taft shouted:

"It's probably her cub, and there is no room in the White House for a bear, anyway. Let her go."

An incident of the opening session was an effort of the members of the Chicago union No. 14 to secure the floor for L. B. New Hand at Wheel Sends Car Over Bank

Welch brothers of Tekamah bought a new Maxwell-Mascoff car last week for a farmer buyer, who came into Omaha Sunday with them to drive it home. Two miles south of Blair, the new owner plucked up courage to take the wheel and had no sooner done so than he lost control at one of the worst turns in the road on the entire trip and the car plunged down a sixty-foot embankment. The occupants were thrown out thirty feet down and escaped unhurt, while the car went the limit and stopped in a ten-foot mud bank, mused up, but not shattered.
