Young Negro Taken Out of Court Room and Lynched by Mob

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 14.—Holding up officials in the court house, a mob of about forty men here this afternoon took T. Z. Cotton, alias T. Z. McElhenny, a 15-year-old negro, who was on trial, and lynched him just beyond the city limits.

The negro was accused of killing Cedron Land, a white boy, near town two months ago.

Guards were overpowered in the court house a few minutes after Cotton had been sentenced to three years in prison. A jury had just brought in a verdict of "guilty of the unlawful manslaughter."

The court house was packed during the trial today. As soon as court adjourned many of the officials left. When deputies started out with the prisoner on the way to the jail they were surrounded and disarmed and held in the court house while a score or more of men took the prisoner out to a street car.

On reaching the negro quarter of town, the passengers were ordered off the car, which then proceeded a few hundred yards.

Then the negro was taken off and his body riddled with bullets. The mob dispersed at once.

Land was found in a field, his face riddled with bird shot. He had had trouble with the negro, who was soon arrested. It is said Cotton confessed.

The members of the mob were not masked and many of them were recognized. An inquest was held tonight and there will be an investigation of the lynching on Wednesday.

"Coke"-Inspired Man Tries to Rob Bank

Two courageous bank clerks in the First National bank saved $500 for their employers yesterday afternoon when Walter Williams, a negro, made an attempt to grab a heavy sackful of gold from one of the teller's windows. After a desperate fight the negro was overpowered and placed under arrest. At headquarters he was charged with grand larceny.

When the bank cleared of its regular patrons and the attendants were about to close the doors, Williams edged up to the paying teller's window. A weighty sack containing $500 in gold struck his eye and grabbing it, he ran toward the door.

Oscar Johnson and Charles Grinnell, clerks in the bank, saw him take the money and both overtook him as he reached the door. When Emergency Officer Hill arrived with an auto load of policemen, the negro was mockily standing in a corner, surrounded by a half dozen of the bank employees.

He was taken to jail and charged with grand larceny. The police say that Williams has never before made an attempt to steal anything over a dollar in value and they attribute his act yesterday to over indulgence in cocaine.

In police court Williams said he did not have any recollection of taking the bag of gold, and if he did take it, he did not know what prompted him to make the attempt.

His case was continued until Thursday morning. He will be given a preliminary hearing.

Darrow's Attorney Sums Up Evidence Against His Client

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 13.—Summing up today the evidence adduced by the state against Clarence S. Darrow, on trial for alleged jury bribing, Earl Rogers, chief counsel for the defense, told the jury the prosecution had failed to connect Darrow with the corruption of Juror George N. Lockwood through the instrumentality of Bert H. Franklin, the former detective, who confessed having passed the bribe money.

The state had only proved, Rogers asserted, that Franklin had been introduced as a conspirator to the ranks of the McNamara defense and that any one of 50,000 other persons interested in the case would have greater cause than Darrow in bribing a juror to acquit the McNamaras. He asserted the state had not traced what it supposes to be bribe money farther than Cliff A. Twitmore, a labor leader of San Francisco, and that Darrow had been named directly in connection with the alleged bribing of Lockwood only by two detectives—Franklin and John R. Harrington of Chicago—whom he described as "the most precious pair of scoundrels that ever smirched their souls to betray a friend."

He also taunted the prosecution for failing to examine Twitmore after he had been called as a witness and added that Harrington had been hired by Detective Foster of the National Erectors' association to get Darrow.

Inquiry Into Rules on Collecting Checks

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—A collateral phase of the money trust, developed today, is being investigated by Attorney General Wickersham.

The inquiry, which may affect clearing-house associations throughout the country, revolves about the rule of the New York Clearing House association requiring its members to charge a specified sum for the collection of out-of-town checks drawn on certain parts of the country and at the same time giving them discretion whether to make charges of similar collections in other localities.

A careful and thorough study of the workings of this rule is being made by the attorney general, it is said, to determine whether the Sherman anti-trust law or the national bank act is being violated.

D., Aug. 13.—(Special Telegram.)—The coroners' hearing today on the wreck on the Northwestern road, which caused the death of Fireman George Parsons, developed the wreck occurred a few yards from the home of Anderson and she had sent his boys to notify the Rousseau section foreman. The foreman was out on his section away from home looking after washouts and did not get home until the time the westbound train was due and as the telegraph wires were down no notice could be sent out by the wife of the foreman.

THE SOCIETY OF THE BEE-HIVE By MELLIFICIA. Omaha, August 14. UNNY WHAT a difference it makes—having the men folks around. Since the Fourth United States infantry left June 5 for the government reserve at Sparta, Wis., Fort Crook has been dead as a door nail—nothing doing at the post at all; no hops, no bowling parties, no drilling on the broad field, no brass buttons to brighten the long summer days. Some of the officers' wives and daughters packed up and went to summer resorts. Those left at the post say that it has been dull down there, to say the least. But, cheer up! The troops will come marching home again Friday. Then activities will begin. The feminine part of the community which went to lakes and mountains will also return. Fort Crook will be alive again. The galesies will begin. "We have planned nothing definite to celebrate the return of the troops," said Mrs. William C. Butler, wife of Colonel Butler, "but their return will certainly mean the beginning of activities here again."
