NEW YORK, Aug. 15 .- Before a representative jury of prominent men, with Daniel Frohman as foreman, all the prisoners, with the exception of Lieutenant Becker involved in the murder of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler, were arraigned the request of Assistant District Attorney complete case has been made out against angry and left her. all the defendants by the grand jury now in session," the hearing was postponed until August 22.

The grand jurors, however, notified District Attorney Whitman that they did not feel warranted in returning further indictments charging murder in the first degree until they had heard more evidence. This evidence, it was expected, would come from Sam Schepps, now on his way from Hot Springs.

The grand jury was excused until next find any indictments.

The coroner's inquest was late in getting under way. Many prominent men appeared in court on the panel of jurors. Daniel Frohman, the theatrical manager, was foreman, and among others on the serve were Arthur Heinze, J. B. Harriman, Harry Duryea and F. W. Duryea. Coroner Feinberg presided and "Dago Frank" and "Whitey" Lewis were in court. The understanding was that the proceedings would be adjourned, in view of the impending indictments.

Threaented with death if they revealed ififormation regarding the three men "higher up" in the gambling graft scandal, "Bridgie" Webber and Harry Vallon, two of the associates of "Bald Jack" Rose, may prove to be recalcitrant witnesses. The two prisoners are confronted on the other hand by possible indictments charging them with the murder of Herman Rosenthal, unless they tell the whole truth. The two prisoners tried to determine today what course to pursue. Webber and Vallon have been "reached and told, according to Vallon's counsel, to "throw Police L'eutenant Becker to the wolves," but to shield the names of the three men now regarded by the state's attorney as directors of the graft system. District Attorney Whitman is letting the two prisoners themselves decide what attitude they will take.

Failure of Bill to Become Law Holds Up All Salaries in Legislative, Industrial and Judicial Departments.

BULLETIN. WASHINGTON, Aug. 15 .- The house by vote of 153 to 107 today refused to pass the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill over President Taft's veto. Majority Leader Underwood was unable to hold his followers and many voted with the republicans.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.-President Taft today returned to the house with a veto message the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill, because of its amendments to abolish the commerce court and limit the tenure of office of civil service employes to seven years. The cabinet read and approved the message early today.

The president's veto is sure to extend the session of congress. Some members of the house believes the bill can be passed over his disapproval, as were the wool and steel tariff bills. None of the leaders, however, think that would be possible in the senate. One effect of Mr. Taft's veto of the bill today is to hold up his own pay, that of every member of congress, every federal judge and every employe of the United States courts. Some leaders have proposed a plan of passing a resolution to extend all of last year's appropriations to December 2, and adjourn congress without passing the bill.
