GECOCIETY A BEE-HIVE

Omaha, August 16.

NUMBER OF Omahans are vacationing under difficulties. Word comes from Lake Okoboji, Iowa, which is so popular with Omaha people, that the acetylene gas plant at The Inn has gone on a strike and the guests are forced to use candles. They are dining and dancing by the primitive flicker of candle light, which, while not quite so cheerful as gas lights, are certainly a novelty. Among the Omalians at The Inn are Mrs. C. M. Wilhelm and daughter Esther, and Mr. and Mrs. C. J. tained at dinner last evening, when their Smyth and daughter Rose.

The University of Omaha girls camping at Seymour lake are having all sorts of struggles with the elements But they bravely maintain that they are having a glorious time roughing it and intend to stay another week in spite of wind and rain, thunder and lightning. They boat and bathe and tramp over the golf links in all weathers. One night the wind picked up their tent and carried it away from over their heads, but they cheerfully proceeded to occupy another tent. In the party are Misses Edna tertained at dinner at Seymour Lake Sweeley, Selma Anderson, Zella Beebe, Gladys Solomon, Sybil Woodruff, Thursday, when places were laid for: Katherine Woodruff, Lottie Underhill and Helen Hansen.
