THURSDAY—Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Ryan, dinner at Happy Hollow; vaudeville at Happy Hollow for debutantes; tennis players; ladies day at Field club.

FRIDAY—Dinner-dance at Seymour Lake Country club.

SAUNDERS. The season of the debutantes and the brides-to-be is near at hand and promises to be a gay one with weddings and coming out parties and all the complimentary festivities attendant.

One of the debutantes-to-be is Miss Caroline Congdon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Congdon and granddaughter of the late I. H. Congdon one of Omaha's pioneers.

Another debutante will be Miss Carmelita Chase, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clement Chase and granddaughter of the late Champion S. Chase, another Omaha pioneer.

Three young women who attended school at Ely Court, Greenwich, Conn., together last year will add to the list of the season's brides. They are Miss Bertha Dickey, daughter of Mrs. J. J. Dickey; Miss Daphne Peters, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Peters; and Katherine Thummel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Thummel.

Two young women who had expected to make their debut last season, but postponed this event, will be introduced in society this year. One of these is Miss Margaret Green Baum, who gave up her debut in order to have another year of study abroad. She has studied in schools at Paris and Florence for two years.

The Baum family has bought a new home on Thirty-sixth street and the debut and other festivities will no doubt take place there. Miss Pauline Bourke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Bourke, did not enter society last year on account of the death of her grandmother, Mrs. John Horbach. She has studied and traveled much abroad. She is in Europe now with her mother and sisters, but will be home next month.

Miss Mary Burkley, daughter of Mr. Frank V. Burkley, who finished at St. Mary's academy, Notre Dame, Ind., last June, and Miss Dorothy Hall, who went to Ingleside, New Milford, Conn., will swell the list of attractive young debutantes.

Wedding Plans Under Way

Competing with the debutantes for social honors will be the brides, of whom there will be an unusual big list this fall. The wedding plans are all under way and the dressmakers are busy with bridal outfits. October is the favorite month for this fall's brides-to-be, and most of the weddings will occur at the homes.

The first of the fall weddings will be that of Miss Catherine Milroy, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. P. Milroy, and Mel Uhl, Jr., which will take place the last part of September, and, unlike most of the fall weddings, will be solemnized in church. It will be held in the First Presbyterian church with Rev. Edwin Hart Jones officiating.

Then come the October weddings. That of Miss Agnes Burkley, daughter of Mr. Frank V. Burkley, and McMillan Harding will take place at the Burkley home about the middle of the month. That of Miss Jasmine Sherraden, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William H. Sherraden, also will take place at home. The wedding of Miss Louise Storz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gottlieb Storz, and Herr Karl H. Lody of Berlin probably will be held in the beautiful Storz residence on West Farnam street. The marriage of Miss Elizabeth Sweet, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Sweet, and Lieutenant G. W. Whiting will take place in church, which one is not yet decided, next October.

The wedding of Miss Ruth Hammer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Hammer, and Mr. Harold Pritchett will be celebrated in November, but it is not decided whether at church or at the Hammer home.

There probably will be another late fall marriage of two well known young Omahans. Both attended the University of Nebraska and are members of prominent fraternities. The young woman is prominent in the Association of Collegiate Alumnae and Pan-Hellenic association and is now traveling abroad. The young man has but recently come to Omaha and belongs to the Omikron club.

Visitors Enliven Society. The visiting women continue to come and go and keep society stirring. Although no large affairs are planned for the guests this week, a number of informal parties of one kind and another will be given.
