What Women Are Doing in the World

The work of the scholarship committee of the Nebraska Federation of Women's clubs has been booming along very successfully under the direction of Mrs. F. H. Cole, chairman.

Miss Sara R. Cole of Omaha has won this year's scholarship at the University of Nebraska. It would amount in money to a loan of about $200 a year, but Miss Cole competed merely for the honor. She is a graduate of the Omaha high school, class of 1911, and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. V. Cole. Mrs. Cole is chairman of the house and home committee of the Omaha Women's club and it was this club which recommended Miss Cole to the Federation.

The applicant who stood next to Miss Cole in credentials was Miss Edith Lumaden of Atkinson, who will receive a loan of $100 a year. She will enter the university as a freshman. She is the daughter of an Atkinson club woman and was recommended by the Avon Shakespeare club of that city. Miss Anita Bolin of Kearney, who won the first scholarship last year, will have her loan renewed this year.

Miss Laura Wood of Hastings, who was recommended by the Woman's club of that place, has won the Brownell Hall gift scholarship, amounting to $50 a year, given by the board of trustees through the state federation. Miss Wood will enter the Hall as a junior.

Miss Marietta Case of Omaha, who won the Mary D. Stoddard loan scholarship in the University of Omaha last year, will have her scholarship continued. It amounts to $50 a year. Miss Case is in her second year at the university. Miss Marguerite Walker, who won the gift scholarship offered by the trustees of the university, has resigned on account of removal from the city. The scholarship, which is tuition at the university, has been transferred to Miss Pierce, who graduated last year from the Omaha high school.

LOWER PRICE ON LADIES' TAILORING

"La-Book," Omaha's Best Known Ladies' Tailor Makes Reduction.

$80 GRADE SUITS AT $60

His Parlors at Howard and Sixteenth Present Scene of Continual Activity.

When Omaha's best known and admittedly "classiest" producer of ladies' tailored garments offers a cut in price aggregating $20 per suit, there is a strong likelihood of his being overwhelmed with work.

And such is just now the case at "La-Book's" ladies' tailoring establishment in the Webster-Sunderland building, corner Sixteenth and Howard streets. La-Book now offers tailored-to-order suits at $60 and devotes as much time to the make up, trim and finish of the garments as when making up his usual $80 suits.

Any woman who has resided in Omaha for any length of time is perfectly familiar with the "get up" of a "La-Book" garment; she knows that the woollens used are in every case absolutely exclusive; she knows that the deft touches of workmanship here and there are but the results of master art.

Just now "La-Book" is exhibiting the fashions and modes that are reigning in New York and Paris, and his word as to style may well be taken as authoritative.

Before placing your order elsewhere it will serve you in good stead to see the sort of garment La-Book will tailor to your order at $60; prove to yourself that ready-made garments are dear in the end and that there is no use paying $80 for upper grade tailoring when the $60 work is as fine.

Remember—$80 grade suits at $60.

MARIETTA KING - Maid of Honor to Miss Gardner.

The Omaha chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution will meet on the first Tuesday of the month next season instead of on the first Monday as in former years. The change is made in order not to conflict with the open meetings of the Omaha Woman's club. So many women belong to both organizations that it has been difficult sometimes for them to decide which club to go to.

The first meeting of the season of the Daughters will be the first Tuesday in October. Work on the year book will not be started until the next, Mrs. Pressley J. Barr, returns the first of next month from Maine. Dr. T. H. Tracy, recording secretary, returned Tuesday from Spearfish, S. D.

A monument was dedicated last Tuesday at Newbury, N. H., to General Jacob D. Bailey, great grandfather of Dr. Mary Strong of this city. General Bailey was the founder of Newbury and the dedication was held on the fiftieth anniversary of the first settlement there. General Bailey was commissioner general for the northeast province in colonial times, he was brigadier general in the revolution and had fought in the French and Indian wars. Dr. Strong's sister, Miss Emily Strong, was at the dedication.

The Kensington club of Vesta chapter of the Eastern Star will give a picnic next Saturday at the Masonic home in Plattsmouth. The members of the home will be guests of the club at supper. The day is the birthday anniversary of the founder of the organization, Robert Morris of Kentucky. Mrs. H. J. McCartney, resident of the Kensington club, is in charge of arrangements for the picnic. Some will go by motor and others by train to Plattsmouth.

Mrs. William Berry of South Omaha will entertain the philosophy department of the Omaha Woman's club Friday afternoon at Seymour Lake Country club. This will be the first club meeting since last spring.

Mrs. C. W. Hayes, president of the Woman's club, hopes to get the other members of the executive staff together some time this week to clean up some left over business and make plans for the coming season. Mrs. Hayes says that it is important that every woman who did not renew her membership last spring should do so before October 1 in order that her name, address and telephone number may be printed in the club manual. It is planned to have the manuals ready for distribution at the second open meeting. The first open meeting of the club year will be Monday, October 7.

PRACTICAL JOKER IS ABROAD

Residents of West Harney Street Are Continually Stirred Up.

CALL ON POLICE FOR HELP

Trouble of Morris Meyer, Recounted Before, is Only Part of the Grief Which Comes to Those Who Hear Blunt of Jokes.

Morris Meyer is really and truly mad now.

The other day, when several cases of beer and a few less frostens of ice cream, which he did not order, were left on his porch he was surprised. The next day, when several dry cleaning establishments sent a wagon to collect some clothes of which he knew nothing, he was pained, but when he was routed out of bed to answer a telephone call Sunday night about 11 o'clock, he became fraid.

Now he is on the warpath. He has put the matter in the hands of detectives and is backed by about six other neighbors who have been annoyed in the same manner.

Early this morning Mr. Meyer was awakened by the incessant ringing of his door bell. He answered it. "I'm from Dresher's; where's that clothing you wanted cleaned?"

Mr. Meyer thought for a while and then quitted ten and managed to squeeze out year-polite remark as this: "You 'er of here in a hurry or I will 'er?"

Meyer is not the brunt of all these week W. H. Platner of the company received a telegramster.

EVERY Solicitor of Cleaning Work ISN'T what he represents himself. A word of warning:

Some solicitors, in their anxiety to secure work, PROMISE feats of cleaning that CANNOT be fulfilled; others don't promise ENOUGH and are NOT fully aware of the possibilities of the Dry Cleaning art. Then, too, there's the man who represents himself as a solicitor for some Dry Cleaning "establishment" that turns out to be a tailor's iron and a can of gasoline; the best you can expect from inefficient facilities of this latter sort, is INFERIOR results. Then, last, but not least, there is the ever present "crooked" solicitor who takes your clothes and never returns them AT ALL. ANY solicitor from Dresher Bros. establishment is perfectly willing that you call up TYLER 1300 while he waits, and you may easily substantiate any statement he may make.

The Battleship Grey Delivery Wagon Is an Assurance of A.A. 1 Dry Cleaning

The joker is not known, but the Dresher Wagon was sent to Mr. Meyer's residence in good faith, and if Mr. Meyer would have had a job of clothes cleaning for Dresher's, he would have been pleased to hear from Mr. Meyer with a genuine request for work and will assure the utmost satisfaction.
