recent congress and said that perhaps the most significant act was the adoption of a joint resolution proposing to the states an amendment to the constitution providing for the election of members of the senate by direct vote. He referred to the Lorimer case as strengthening the popular sentiment for the direct vote.

"As to Judge Hanford, having read such of the evidence as has been printed in the newspapers, I venture to express the opinion, though possibly I ought not to, that the matter sought to be proved seems to have been for the most part trivial and falling far short of such high crimes and misdemeanors as would warrant impeachment of a federal judge."

"We ought not, however, to condemn nor gloss over the short-comings of the bench. There is altogether too much of an effort on the part of some lawyers to do this."

A judge ought to be held to high standards of public service. The bar ought and I believe is, generally disposed to insist upon such standards."

Favors Votes for Women. Referring to the action of certain states in extending suffrage to women, Mr. Gregory said:

"It certainly seems as if women were entitled to self-government as well as men."

The Home Doctor

Dyspepsia and Nausea. Take one pound of prunes, one-quarter pound of raisins, three tablespoonsful of sugar, boil in sufficient water to obtain one quart of syrup; cool and mix with an equal amount of Duffy's pure malt whiskey. This simple formula, originally prescribed by Dr. F. J. Klusman, of Toledo, Ohio, will prove very efficient in cases of deranged stomachs, dyspepsia or nausea and will require no additional drug or flavor.

Dysentery is always serious and often a dangerous disease, but it can be cured. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has cured it even when malignant and epidemic. For sale by all dealers.

men. It is the Jeffersonian idea and I believe it to be the true one, that all men are entitled not merely to wise government, not merely to honest government, not only to good government, but to self-government.

"It is difficult to see how, consistently with this principle, which lies at the foundation of American institutions, the political rights accorded to men, can be denied to women."

Against Recall of Judges. Opposition to the recall of judges and to any legislation which will affect the present tenure of judges' offices is expressed in a special report which has been prepared for presentation to the association.

Charles M. Taylor of St. Louis brought from the national assembly of commissioners on uniform state laws, a model bill to be offered for adoption by various state legislatures, which will prohibit the marriage in other states of divorced persons who have been prohibited from marrying in any one state.

COLOR LINE NOT DRAWN BY NEBRASKA ATTORNEYS

"Drawing the color line"—the matter which has rent the American Bar association—never has been practiced by the Omaha Bar association nor by the Nebraska State Bar association. Yet the names of no colored man appear on the membership rolls of either.

"The line never has been drawn in the Omaha association," said former President Frank L. Weaver. "The question never has come up for consideration within my knowledge. No colored attorneys have applied for membership. There is nothing in our constitution which would exclude attorneys of any race, color or religion if they were reputable and practicing attorneys."

What Mr. Weaver said of the Omaha association is true of the state body, according to Francis A. Brogan and other Omaha attorneys prominent in the state association.

Suicide in Des Moines

DES MOINES, Ia., Aug. 27.—Joseph F. Linsky, 23 years old, committed suicide today by shooting. He came from Chicago last month and was connected with a local dairy company. Despondency is said to have prompted the shooting.

this end be held often in the country school houses.

They resolved to render every assistance to the state farmer and recommended that the next legislature pass laws authorizing the counties to appropriate funds for the promotion of better crops and live stock.

To Discuss Development

A conference will be called by the association in the near future at which general state development will be considered.

All these actions by the assembly followed the enthusiastic reports of the agricultural education and the agricultural development committees made by the chairman, Carson Hildreth and C. F. McGrew, respectively.

The report of the protective committee was not made at the morning session, J. E. A. Black, the chairman, being absent. Detective William J. Burns, whose agency protects members of the association and who was scheduled to speak in the afternoon on "Protection of Banks," had not arrived when a search was made for him at noon. Some of the bankers were inclined to think he was in the assembly room disguised so they would not know him. He was not registered at any of the hotels, however.

The principal address of the morning session was that of P. L. Hall of Lincoln on "The Record." He stood opposed to the National Reserve association, declaring the banking system of the United States needed no such "radical changing."

America's Banking Power

"America has the most powerful banking power in the world," he said, "and the greatest the world has ever seen. Our banking power is greater than the combined banking power of Great Britain, France and Germany. We hold 40 per cent of the banking power of the world, and that has been built up in less than fifty years. We have $1,000,000,000 worth of gold stored in our treasury and our paper money is the most valuable paper money in the world. Those who have traveled in Europe will tell you that American paper money is at a premium above that of other countries."

"We have had panics and financial depressions and we will continue to have them ever so often. We first enjoy prosperity, then comes overstrained credit and then panic. We might ask ourselves what would have been the result of these panics had we had unsound banking system. Since 1897 there have been spent enormous sums of money to bring about a change in our banking system. The National Citizens' league, I regret to say, is one of the leaders in this movement. I believe that the National Reserve association is unsound and undesirable and that the large cities would control the central bank and ruin the banks of the smaller towns."

Memorial Committee Reports

While the bankers stood, C. F. McGrew, chairman of the memorial committee, read the list of those members of the association who have died since the last convention. His report was:

Since the association was last assembled in its annual convention the following members have passed to that bourne from which no traveler's star returns:

Peter Mortensen, president First National bank, Ord.

Julius Beckman, vice president Fremont National bank.

H. V. Temple, president First National bank, Lexington.

F. C. Hansen, president Stanton National bank.

Wakeman L. Grant, president Farmers and Merchants bank, Sumner.

John Peters, vice president, First National bank, Albion.

Charles A. Brandt, vice president Glenville State bank.

John Paul, president Concord State bank.

It seems only fitting that we pause, for a moment to pay tribute to the memory of those whose books have been balanced and their accounts with earthly affairs brought to a close.

All were men of character and ability who had assisted in building up the affairs of our great commonwealth, each within his sphere contributing toward the improvement of his community and state. Among them may be found some of the earlier pioneers of Nebraska, who fought a brave fight against the vicissitudes of frontier life; some had been highly honored by offices of high trust by their neighbors and the state at large; some had acquired abundant means with which to pass their declining years in peace and plenty, but more valuable than all, each left an honored name as a precious heritage to those who shall follow them.

May their passing serve as a lesson to each of us, that the same end sooner or later awaits us all, and that we may be ready to answer the final summons with confidence that our books will be found properly balanced and ready to close.

INSANE MAN TERRORIZES GUESTS IN CHICAGO HOTEL

CHICAGO, Aug. 27.—Guests of a small Michigan avenue hotel were panic stricken early today when an unidentified man stroled into the lobby and announced that he was "going to kill everybody in sight."

Drawing a revolver, he fired three shots at Ross O'Dell, the clerk, who returned the fire, sending five bullets into his assailant's body. The man probably was fatally injured. Police believe he is insane. O'Dell was uninjured.

ROOSEVELT PREPARING CASE

Colonel Talks of Letter He is Writing to Mr. Clapp.

WILL BRING IN PARKER'S NAME

Letters to the Judge and Vice President Sherman will be Quoted—Contradicts Statement of Mr. Knox.

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., Aug. 27.—Colonel Roosevelt desires to bring the names of Alton B. Parker, democratic nominee for the presidency in 1904, and James Sherman, vice president of the United States, into the inquiry into campaign contributions authorized yesterday by the senate by the adoption of the Penrose resolution.

He said today that he would place their names before the senate committee in his letter to Senator Clapp.

"I shall include in my letter to Senator Clapp," the colonel said, "the letter which I wrote to Judge Parker in 1904, and my letter to Jim Sherman on the Harriman contribution. I think they are pertinent to the inquiry and I want to get them on the record."

The letter to Judge Parker was in reply to Judge Parker's charge that Roosevelt's 1904 campaign fund had been enriched $100,000 by a Standard Oil contribution. Mr. Sherman has the Roosevelt version of the Harriman-Roosevelt controversy over a contribution by the late E. H. Harriman of $250,000 to the 1904 campaign fund.

Challenges Knox Statement

"Nor will Colonel Roosevelt allow to go unchallenged the report that Philander C. Knox, now secretary of state, saw him in 1904 as he was dictating a letter to George B. Cortelyou about the alleged Standard Oil contribution and told him the money had been spent and could not be returned, and that Colonel Roosevelt remarked that the letter was being 'written for the record.'"

"These letters will put the record straight or 'this will establish a record of my attitude,' but it is certainly not to be inferred from this remark (I don't say that I made it, but I may have) that they were written solely for the record."

They were genuine letters and expressed just what I wanted to express when I first heard of the report that the Standard Oil company had contributed or wanted to contribute to my campaign."

William Randolph Hearst's statement in London Sunday, finds Colonel Roosevelt still wondering, he said, what letters Mr. Hearst has to make public on the alleged Standard Oil campaign contributions.

Calls for Dates

"If Mr. Hearst will let me know within a year or a year and a half of the date these letters were written and to whom they were written," Colonel Roosevelt said today, "I will make them public myself. Any one can readily appreciate how difficult it would be for me to go through my entire correspondence for a

New HUDSON "37"

Furnished Complete—No Extras to Buy

The Masterpiece of 48 Engineers. They Had a Hand in Building 200,000 Cars of 97 Well-Known Makes

Don't Fail to See This Car—It is Here

In the HUDSON "37" is expressed the combined skill and experience of the greatest body of automobile engineers in the country.

These men represent the training of the greatest factories in the world. They have learned what experience has taught the 97 principal makers of Europe and America.

They were active, important members of those various organizations and, combined, had a hand in the production of more than 200,000 automobiles.

Imagine what strides, what advancement, men of such experience are bound to offer in the car which all have joined in perfecting.

You probably have an ideal of what a motor car should be. Your knowledge of automobile shortcomings undoubtedly has suggested improvements which you would have in a car if it were built to your order.

Well, here is where you will find not only what you wish to see, but also what has been expressed through the experience that has been gained from the 200,000 owners who have used the cars which these men have helped to build.

Electric Self Cranking Electrically Lighted

The Greatest Engineer of All—Their Chief

At the head of these experts is Howard E. Coffin, the foremost automobile engineer of America, recognized here and abroad as the most startlingly original designer the industry has produced.

His genius is an inspiration to his associates. From him they have gained in ability. On account of them he has become a broader and more versatile builder.

What one man lacked in experience, some one of his associates was able to supply. The problems one was unable to solve, others soon found the answer for.

That accounts for the completeness of this car. That accounts for the fact that you will find on it the very things that you have wished to find on an automobile. That explains why this car will do the things which other four-cylinder automobiles have failed to accomplish.

Your Safety in This Choice

No one is likely to soon have many new ideas to offer that these 48 engineers have not already anticipated.

They all combine in saying that the New HUDSON "37" represents the best that there is in four-cylinder construction.

They proved every move they have made through 20,000 miles of gruelling country, mountainous, mud and snow driving.

The most abusive treatment one of the most skilled drivers in the world could give this car in the thousands of miles he drove it, without developing a single weakness, or discovering a single detail in which improvement could be made either in design, construction, simplicity, easy riding qualities, responsiveness, safety, or power, is a guarantee that you will find it expresses your ideal of what a four-cylinder car should be.

It Has Features No Other Car Possesses

No car you can get today, regardless of price, has all the features that are offered in the "37".

Consider for a moment the rapid advancement that has been made in motor car building. It is almost as startling as are the changes in fashion. Think how strange are the open cars of two years ago. What proportion of their original cost do you think such cars now bring? It is not due to wear that their value has declined so much. No, it is the advance that has been made in automobile building since the open cars were put on the market.

With that thought in mind you must recognize the importance of choosing wisely now. Automobiles as now built should be of service for many years and you don't want to feel that you will have to buy a new car in two, three or four years because the one you have just purchased will, at that time, be out of date.
