George Sweetela, 2425 South Twentyninth street, night watchman at the pub-lic library, reported to the police last night that as he stepped out of a door in the rear of the building some time between 11 and 12 o'clock he was struck between 11 and 12 o'clock he was struck upon the head with a blunt instrument and knocked unconscious. His month's pay, $50, and his keys wore taken from him and when he recovered consciousness be was locked out of the building. The police made an invostigation of the watchman's head and found no bruise, and under a cross-examination it de-veloped that Sweetela had been drinking the truck of the summation is the council chamber 3, 1912. Back from a trip to the east and a conference with Governor Woodrow Wilson, Mayor Tom Hoctor of South Omaha announced this morning that he was going to support the original Wilson-Marshall Democratic club of South Omaha. "That was the first club organized here," said his honor, "and I pledged myself to support it. The Wilson-Marshall Young Men's Democratic club is young blood. and young blood is what we want." continued the mayor This means that the mayor has joined the heavyweights of South Omaha democracy against the Gillin-Jamleson crowd. The mayor disclaimed any intention of starting a fight in discussing the two clubs this morning. He said that one club was the proper thing and intimated that the Gillin gang should get into line or get out.

Since his return Mayor Hoctor has received assurances of support monetary and otherwise from democrats of Bouth Omaha who resent the gang rule procedure of Gillin, head and front of a socalled Wilson club. Gillin took advantage of Hoctor, and while the mayor was said Mr. Weidensall.
