and Travers Lead in Amateur Golf Title

WHEATON, Ill., Sept. 5 .- The end of the first half of the third day's play in tournament for the national amateur golf championship showed "Chick" Evans and Warren K. Wood of Chicago, and Kerr, Vermont champion, and Jerome Traver, Metropolitan champion, in the lead for the honors. The victors today will meet in the semi-finals tomorrow. Travers was in a hard match with Mason Phelps of Midlothian, but had the former western champion two down at the end of eighteen holes. Their medal play was not equal to that of some of the other players, but the match was specta-

Even more closely fought was the play between Wood and Norman Hunter. The end of the first nine holes of this match was square and only at the eighteenth hole did Wood gain an advantage. The British player missed a long putt there, leaving Wood I up.

Evans had an advantage of four over Helprich Schmidt, Massachusetts title holder, and Kerr possessed an equal margin over Paul Hunter, a Chicagoan. The course was in excellent condition and the play was keen and almost without mistake in the morning. Big galleres prepared to follow the afternoon play.

KILBANE OUTPOINTS DUNDEE IN FIGHT IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Sept. 5 .- Johnny Kilbane of Cleveland, holder of the featherweight title, easily outpointed Johnny Dundee in a ten-round bout here tonight.

Dundee rushed from the start, but was met unvaryingly with left jabs to the face that rendered his efforts futile. The coolness of the Cleveland boy disconcerted Dundee and he swung wildly at the elusive champion, who smilingly sidestepped his lunges. Kilbane varied his defensive tactics with occasional mixes, in which showers of short arm blows bewildered Dundee. In a hot mixup in the seventh Dundee landed a left hook to Kilbane's nose, which started the blood. At no time did Dundee have an advantage, while Kilbane apparently did not ever exert himself, easily outpointing his opponent in every round, Abe Attell was introduced at the ringside and challenged the winner.
