The SOCIETY A BEE-HIVE

By MELLIFICIA. September 7.

The best laid schemes o' mice and men
Gang aft-er-gley.
M. LORD, cashier of the Live Stock National bank of South Omaha, heartily agrees with this saying.
When he and Mrs. Lord built their pretty bungalow on the shores of Seymour lake they racked their brains to find the most euphonious and appropriate name for their summer home. They discussed and discarded a long list of suitable appellations, such as Bungalow Lodge, Lakeview, Oakdale, etc.
Names with "oak" were suggested by the big, leafy oak trees which rise majestically on both sides of the little cottage. When Mr. and Mrs. Lord counted the trees and discovered that there were exactly seven of them, they immediately hit upon the story name of "Seven Oaks" for their summer home.
All flourished and went well at Seven Oaks for a month or more. But one day the Lord family noticed that one of the seven oaks was less sturdy than the other six. The big tree continued to droop and dry until it died entirely.
Then a problem arose in the Lord household. Obviously Seven Oaks could no longer remain Seven Oaks. Six oaks held no special sentiment for the Lords, and besides, if another tree should die the name would have to be changed again. So the Lords decided to break away from a number name altogether. They now call their place Idle Oaks.

Mrs. Lottie Reynolds of Los Angeles, Cal., formerly of this city, arrived in Omaha Thursday after an interesting trip to her old home in England. LADY DEMOCRATS ORGANIZE

Are Desirous of Knowing What Various Platforms Stand For.

SOME MAKE MAIDEN SPEECHES

Officers Are Elected—Will Meet Again Next Week—Mrs. Herdman Will Explain Platforms—Rally is Planned.

Lady democrats met at the city hall Thursday afternoon and formed a woman's democratic league for the purpose of "securing information about the issues of the campaign and the candidates."
Long speeches were taboed early in the meeting, but the thirty women present discussed and agreed upon a plan of action during the present campaign. It was unanimously agreed that the women ought to know what a platform is and what all the platforms advocate. They also decided to investigate the tariff and find what relation it has to the high cost of silk stockings and other necessities of life.
Two or three essayed to deliver their maiden political speeches, but the frowning fervor of the audience embarrassed them and they hurriedly concluded their dissertations.
Officers Elected.
Mesdames J. P. White, R. M. Jones and A. H. Hipple, as a nominating committee, presented the names of officers and the following were elected:
Mrs. George W. Doane, honorary president.
Mrs. R. E. McKelvey, president.
Mrs. C. Vinimond, first vice president.
Mrs. Earl Stanfield, secretary.
Mrs. Ed Phelan, treasurer.
And these vice presidents:
Mrs. Eleanor Wakeley, Mrs. John J. Sullivan, Mrs. Charles O. Lobeck, Mrs. J. A. C. Kennedy, Mrs. W. J. Coad, Mrs. Harley Moorehead, Mrs. G. P. Moorehead, Mrs. C. B. Keller, Mrs. Ignatius J. Durn, Mrs. Henry Dooly, Mrs. James C. Dahlman, Mrs. Henry C. Richmond, Mrs. Austin J. Collett, Mrs. A. H. Hipple, Mrs. B. F. Marshall, Mrs. Lee Herdman, Mrs. George W. Shields, Mrs. Harvey E. Newbranch, Mrs. Warren Switzler, Mrs. Edward E. Howell, Mrs. Elmer E. Thomas, Mrs. Thomas McGovern, Mrs. Ralph W. Connel, Mrs. Theodore King-walt, Mrs. George W. Magney, Mrs. Thomas J. Flynn, Miss Daisy Doane, Miss Marie Kennedy and Mrs. J. W. Woodrugh.
"Meeting Simply Grand."
"The meeting was perfectly fine," said one after the election.
"Oh! it was simply grand," the others agreed.
So it was agreed that the formation and first meeting of the league was such a glorious success that another meeting would be held.
This next meeting will be in the city council chamber next Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Mrs. Lee Herdman will then read and explain the democratic platforms.
Mrs. C. Vincent will tell why the lady democrats formed the league.
Mrs. Harvey Newbranch will read sketches of the democratic nominees for governor and senator.
Plan Big Rally.
A big rally at which prominent democratic politicians will be invited to talk about the dear old flag and tell how to save the country by reducing the tariff and lowering the laboring man's wage will be held in the Auditorium if the plans of the lady democrats go not awry.
The league will also give a dinner in honor of the democratic presidential nominee when he comes to Omaha.
Mrs. Henry Dooly, as chairman of the membership committee, has been instructed to round up all the lady democrats who will join the league.
It is planned to enter a league float in the Ak-Sar-Ben parade and a string of decorated automobiles bearing placards upon which epigrammatic political advice has been printed.
Not only this, but the league of lady

INJUNCTION IS FILED

in the Prairie Park Main Controversy

Threats of property owners along Twenty-eighth avenue north of Binney street to go into the courts to enjoin the city from tearing up the avenue to lay a new water main were made good when Michael J. Ney, one of them, filed an injunction suit in district court. Injunction against the city council, the water board, and the contractors perpetually restraining them from tearing up the avenue and laying the main is asked. The case will be up for preliminary hearing on an application for temporary restraining order before Judge A. C. Troup of the equity division next Tuesday morning.
The petition alleges that it was ordered that the new main be laid on Twenty-seventh street until certain "selfish, self-serving, aesthetic" persons, residents of Twenty-seventh street and known as Prairie Parkers, City Commissioner John J. Ryder being among them, made objections and threatened injunction suit unless some other street or avenue should be "used. Thereupon, it is alleged, the route of the main was changed so as to avoid tearing up Twenty-seventh street and place the burden on Twenty-eighth avenue.

When in His Cups Gibson Does Wrong

Tom Riley, charged with breaking into a store at Fort Omaha and stealing some cigars and other merchandise of little value, was released on his own recognizance by Judge Sutton in district court, when Father Patrick Flanagan promised the court he would be responsible for Riley and would produce him in court when he should be wanted for trial. John Gibson, a young man who is charged with being an accomplice of Riley, will be released on a similar condition if Rev. Charles W. Savidge will be his sponsor. Gibson drinks heavily, Judge Sutton said, and does wrong only when he is in his cups.

BULL MOOSERS ARE SCARCE

More Socialists Register on First Day Than Progressives.

ONLY PART OF COUNT MADE

Two Register as "Bull Moose Republicans"—Total Registration is 4,586—Largest Poll in the Twelfth Ward.

"Full moose reputation" and "progressives" were by no means numerous on registration day, according to the registration board which has checked over a third of the total vote cast. The socialist registration exceeds the "progressives" in numbers, less than 100 bull moosers have registered in the wards checked by the board to date.
In nearly every precinct the socialists have outnumbered the progressives. But two voters registered as "bull moose republican," although a total of fifty-eight are classified as bull moosers or progressives.
The third ward returned the fewest registrations and the Twelfth ward the largest—the Fourth of the Twelfth returning 78. The total registration was 4,586.

CONNELL FEE CASE NOW BEING ARGUED

Health Commissioner R. W. Connell's controversy with the city of Omaha over $5,000 fees for registration of births and deaths in the city during the last four years is being argued before Judge Howard Kennedy, of the equity division of the district court.
After Commissioner Connell had secured judgment against the county for the fees, 25 cents for each birth and each death, the city instituted an action to take the judgment from Connell, alleging that it paid his salary and should receive the fees paid to him.
