Missioners of New York and Chicago, respectively; Dr. J. B. Murphy of Chicago, president of the American Medical Society, and other leaders in the movement. At the conclusion of the conference Governor Wilson dictated the following review:

"The democratic platform is much the strongest, most direct and explicit on the question of public health and pure food. The conference which I attended was to organize and develop that side of the campaign. I expect to make the question of the proper regulation of public health and pure food one of the principal features of my campaign."

NATION TO BATTLE

MENINGITIS GERM

The horse afflicted at Irvington is dead and the others are dying, as no remedy known to veterinary science can save an animal suffering from this disease.

Veterinary surgeons from the United States bureau of animal industry are investigating cases of cerebro-spinal meningitis among the horses of Kansas in a vain attempt to find some way of checking the spread of the contagion.

Reports from the state describe the disease as affecting the horse in a peculiar manner. When the animal is first affected it begins walking in a wide circle, narrowing this circle as the disease advances. It holds its head to the side, gradually turning it until it rests against its side.

Many valuable animals have died within the last few days, and the disease appears to be spreading. The government is co-operating with local veterinary surgeons in an effort to prevent disastrous effects and if possible to make observations that may be used in the search for a preventive or curative serum.

Rivals Her Daughter

in Youthful Beauty

(From Social Register.)
A well-known society matron whose youthful beauty is so well preserved that she is regarded as her daughter's rival in this respect—though she does not pose as such—attributes her girlish complexion chiefly to two things. She says:
"I am convinced that creams, by overloading the skin and pores, tend to age the complexion. Mercolised wax has just the opposite effect. It keeps the pores clean, permitting them to breathe, and removes dead particles of cuticle which are constantly appearing and which give the complexion that faded look. Whenever my skin begins to get the least bit off-color, I go to my druggist for an ounce of mercolised wax; I apply this nightly, like cold cream, for a week or so, washing it off mornings. This is what keeps my complexion so fresh, white and velvety."
"The absence of wrinkles and flabbiness I owe to the use of a simple face bath prepared by dissolving one ounce of powdered salicilate in a half pint of witch hazel. This keeps the skin 'tight' and firm."

VOTERS DESERT ROOSEVELT

Third Party Likely to Fall to Pieces as Campaign Progresses.

WHY WILSON SHOULD BE BEATEN

Roosevelt Himself Answers Question When He Says Democratic Success Would Mean Remarkable Parity.

BY CHARLES F. SCOTT.
Director Western Literary Bureau Republican National Committee.
CHICAGO, Sept. 9.—(Special Telegram.)—It is the belief of the western managers of the Taft campaign that the voters in the republican party, when they realize where Roosevelt is leading them, will decline to follow him. This belief has ample foundation. Many of Roosevelt's former leaders have already deserted him. Ormsby McHarg, who managed Roosevelt's southern contests, and William L. Ward of New York, who sacrificed his position as national committeeman to follow Roosevelt, now repudiate their former leader, saying that they do not propose to leave the republican party. Information from Indiana and other states is to the effect that men who were with Roosevelt are now returning to their old affiliation. An address issued by the Indiana republican state committee states positively that the Roosevelt movement in that state is dying away and the regular organization has begun its campaign with confidence as to the success of the republican electoral ticket in that state. The same report comes from Michigan.

Roosevelt Predicts Disaster.

There is every reason to believe that the third party will entirely disintegrate, when the republicans generally appreciate the true situation. It will be the effort of the western managers to force the truth home to every voter. The main factor in the campaign will be to emphasize the fact that Roosevelt cannot win and yet a vote for Roosevelt helps to elect Wilson.
And why should Wilson be defeated? Mr. Roosevelt himself answers that question. In a recent magazine article Mr. Roosevelt said that Wilson's election would mean a panic beside which all previous business disturbances were mere child's play. At St. Louis the other day he repeated the same prophecy. This is what he said:
"I believe in protection. I believe that if Mr. Wilson's free trade policy or tariff for revenue only policy is in good faith adopted and is not a mere campaign cry, widespread disaster will result to American life."
Mr. Roosevelt is right. Widespread disaster would follow Wilson's election. Free trade is not a mere campaign cry. The democratic tariff bill of 1898, which closed up thousands of American factories, sent millions of workmen into idleness and forced the farmers into a universal slough of despond; and the democratic tariff bills of congress which has just adjourned shows the country what it is to expect if the democrats come into power.

Will Make Urgent Appeal.

The only way to defeat Woodrow Wilson is to vote for President Taft. This is to be the slogan of the campaign. This is to be the thought which is to be hammered into the minds of the American people of the Taft managers in the western section of the country is to be bent toward making republicans everywhere, and especially the business men, workmen and farmers, appreciate the grave responsibility which now rests upon them. They certainly do not want a democratic administration. To impress upon them the vital necessity of unity, not only for individual welfare but for the safety of the country, is the work which the western managers of the Taft campaign have now undertaken to accomplish.

Mrs. P. Louisberg of Madison Commits Suicide by Hanging

MADISON, Neb., Sept. 9.—(Special Telegram.)—Mrs. Louisberg, wife of Peter Louisberg, residing nine miles southwest of Madison, hanged herself some time during last night. Early this morning one of her children found the body hanging in a shed not far from the house also a lamp nearby, which indicates that she had gone there in the darkness of the night and ended her life. Mr. Louisberg is in Colorado looking for land, having left home yesterday morning. Mrs. Louisberg was 38 years old and was the mother of twelve children. She was a daughter of John Deiter, sr., of Homphrey and sister of John Leonard and Joseph Deiter of Madison. Temporary insanity was undoubtedly the cause of the tragedy.

FOURTH FATALITIES WANING

Blank Cartridges Responsible for the Majority of Cases.

THEY SHOULD BE ABOLISHED

Besides Six Deaths Due to Tetanus, Thirty-Five Persons Are Killed by Various Forms of Fireworks.

This week, for the tenth consecutive year, the Journal of the American Medical Association presents statistics of deaths and injuries resulting from the celebration of Fourth of July, with particular reference to tetanus, or lockjaw, resulting from these injuries.
Only seven cases of tetanus were reported this year as compared with eighteen last year, seventy-two in 1910 and 156 in 1909.
The ages of the lockjaw patients this year ranged from 8 to 15 years, and all but one were boys. In five cases the injury was on the hand; in the other two it was on the leg. The length of time between injury and death was from seven to ten days.
Tetanus cases occurred in only six states this year, as against ten states last year, eighteen states in 1910 and twenty-five states in 1909. One state, West Virginia, had two cases of tetanus this year, both occurring in the same city, Wellsburg. Other states having one case each were California, Indiana, Massachusetts, Michigan and Oklahoma. Illinois, Missouri, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin, which heretofore had so many cases reported, had none this year.

Blank cartridge wounds, which have always been responsible for a large majority of tetanus cases; this year caused all of the seven cases. With a full knowledge of this fact and of the awfulness of the death from lockjaw, it is entirely inexcusable if not actually criminal to tolerate further the use of blank cartridge pistols. A large number of blank cartridge wounds almost invariably brings a large number of cases of lockjaw. Do away entirely with blank cartridge pistols, therefore, and lockjaw from the celebration of the Fourth of July will be practically abolished.

HE HAD FOUR OF A KIND

What Happened to the Unannounced Judge Inspecting a Bug-house.

John Isaac Russell, chief justice of the court of special sessions of New York City, undertook a private and unannounced tour of inspection among the various corrective and charitable institutions of his jurisdiction. Late in the afternoon he entered the outer office of one of the insane asylums.
"I should like to make a trip through this place," he said to an under keeper who chanced to be in sole charge of the office temporarily.
"Visitors days are Wednesdays and Saturdays," said the keeper shortly; "and, besides, it's after hours."
"But I insist on being shown through," said his honor.
"Well, you've got a nerve!" growled the keeper. "Who are you to be giving me orders?"
"I am Chief Justice Russell, of the court of special sessions," was the answer.
"That'll be about all," said the keeper wearily. "We've got three of you in here now. Why don't you call yourself George Washington—there's only one of him!"—Saturday Evening Post.

Why Ollie Was Worried.

Ollie James, permanent chairman of the democratic convention at Baltimore, was seen in the lobby of the Belvedere hotel in that city one day right in the middle of the tremendous struggle over the nomination. He stopped his huge bulk in the middle of the floor, threw up his hands in a gesture of despair and boomed: "By George, I almost forgot it!"
A dozen reporters were trailing him. What had he forgotten? Certainly it must be something of transcendent importance and the situation was tremendously critical.
James pushed his way through the crowd. He was in a hurry. It evidently was important. A dozen reporters chased after him. James almost ran up to the news stand. The reporters arrived with him.
"Gee," sighed James. "I'm glad I didn't forget it after all."
The reporters crowded round. Something was coming off—but what?
"Gee," said James again. "It would have been terrible if I had forgotten it."
"What is it?" yelled the excited reporters.
"Son," said James to the news stand boy, "gimme a quarter's worth of chewing gum."—Baltimore Sun.
