Thomas E. Mills of Beloit, the new all-year athletic coach of the Omaha Central High school, arrived in Omaha yesterday and will take charge of the foot ball squad at the Capitol hill school immediately.

Together with Superintendent E. U. Graff and Athletic Director C. E. Reed, Coach Mills talked over the foot ball prospects for the season this afternoon. A call for candidates will be made at a meeting of Central high when Coach Mills, Principal McHugh, Athletic Director Reed, Captain Dick Ballman and others will make short talks.

The new instructor believes in plenty of practice and will work the lads from 8 until 5 o'clock each afternoon, except Saturday. Cigarette smoking will not be tolerated on the squad and offenders of this rule will be dismissed from training. No strict rules of diet will be followed, but all the boys enrolled for the gridiron game will be asked to refrain from excessive indulgence in frosted cakes, rich pastries and other sweets.

In addition to foot ball he will have charge of basket ball, track athletics and tennis at the local school. He is the guest of Superintendent Graff this week.

Court Can't Compel Sheriff to Arrest Liquor Violators

Harvey J. Grove's mandamus suit to compel Sheriff Felix J. McShane, Jr., to arrest and comply against a dozen alleged violators of the outlying county districts and towns was dismissed by Judge Howard Kennedy, of the equity division of the district court yesterday.

Judge Kennedy held that the sheriff is a law enforcing officer, while the court is a law interpreting body; and while it is the business of the sheriff's office to enforce the orders of the court, the court cannot arbitrarily order the sheriff to make orders directing who the sheriff should proceed against.

The SOCIETY of the BEE-HIVE

By MELLIFICIA. September 10.

THE OMAHA dancing clubs are adopting the college fashion of having the men fill their partners' programs. When a college man invites an out-of-town girl to a prom he makes out her program among his fraternity brothers or special friends and the visiting girl does not even see her card.

The Et-A-Virp club has for its dances double programs, which the men fill out. On one side of the program is the list of dances to be filled with ladies' names; the other side is for men's names. The member fills out the former for himself and the latter for his partner.

The men exchange dances with each other. A man gives a dance with his partner for a dance with another man's partner.

The members of Et-A-Virp say that the plan is a decided success. Although it is rather hard for the popular girl, who generally has a circle of men around her clamoring for dances, not knowing who one is to dance with has an element of surprise that is interesting. The plan of having the men make out the programs also makes the timid and less well known girl as popular as her better known sister and insures that the out-of-town girl will be well taken care of.

OPERATE DESPITE THE RAINS

A Lull of Several Weeks Was Broken Monday Night by Burglars and the Rain Held No Terrors for Them.

After a lull of several weeks thieves renewed operations Monday night in spite of the bad weather. Numerous reports of burglaries were made to the police, but none were very large.

One dozen razors were stolen from A. P. Simmons' barber shop at 1313 Dodge street, and a set of harness from the Cole Express company, 1724 Davenport street.

While Z. W. Ziegler, 1807 North Seventeenth street, was asleep his pants containing $3 was removed from the foot of the bed.

Big Mangel Wurzel Causes Jealousy

Jealousy among members of the Commercial club has been generated by the exhibit W. S. Wright has made of a twenty-two-pound mangel wurzel raised on his place. Tuesday Commissioner Guild of the club received a letter from George H. Payne, who says that any man can raise beets, but he proposed to show the club some watermelons he has raised which he declares weigh from forty-seven and a half to fifty-three pounds apiece. Even these, he says, he will not claim are the largest melons in the world. Mr. Payne sent two of the large melons to the club to be tested at the luncheon. But even while the letter was being pondered over in the office of Commissioner Guild, H. F. Fredrickson, knowing that Payne was offering melons, took gazing at the giant mangel wurzel and said, "I am going to send in a watermelon that will beat that thing." He was reminded that Payne was already in the game and that any new competitor would have a fifty-three-pound record to beat. He said he would go home and sling a hammock around one of his biggest specimens and weigh it to make sure that it would be worth while to enter the competition.
