

Sampeck Clothes The Standard of America

STYLE ATMOSPHERE

TAKE it in, young man, live in it as much as you can—it won't hurt you.

No man cares for a "Fop," but EVERY MAN likes to see Youth have a care for the "Just Right" in Clothes. For Clothes are the means to many a helpful end.

Every garment bearing the SAMPECK Label carries with it a Style Atmosphere way above its price. You can "Hob Nob" with America's Richest Boys—wear the exact Duplicate of Style—for several times less the cost.

The "Sampeck" Label is your guarantee for Service. Our Label is there, too, as an endorsement.

Autumn Suits $15.00 to $30.00

Cross Gloves

Stetson Hats

Columbia Shirts

THE YOUNG PEOPLE'S OWN STORE

BENSON & THORNE @

1518-20 FARNAM STREET.

OUTBREAK IN COAL FIELDS

Stables of Ohley Company at Ohley, W. Va., Are Burned.

FIRED IN SEVERAL PLACES

Militia on Guard Unable to Put Out the Flames or Save Horses—Attempt Made to Burn Tipple.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Sept. 12.—The expected outbreak in the Cabin Creek district of the Kanawha coal field where 1,500 West Virginia militiamen under command of Major James Pratt are maintaining martial law, came today when the stables of the Ohley Coal company at Ohley were destroyed by fire and an attempt was made to fire the tipple of the same company.

Twenty-five militiamen from the Clarksburgh company under command of Lieutenant Cochran drove off the men and it is believed that some were wounded.

Lieutenant Cochran and his men fought the stable fire for half an hour, but the building had been fired at so many places that it was impossible to save it or its contents, including fourteen horses and mules.

Letters of Warning. Letters found today at the office of the Mucklow Coal company and in the houses of a number of employees warned the company and the men that if the mine was started or if the men attempted to go to work, the buildings would be dynamited and the workings blown up.

GENERAL COUNT NOGI AND WIFE COMMIT SUICIDE IN TOKIO

(Continued from First Page.)

The wearers of imperial decorations, court officials, ministers of state and their wives and other specially invited personages. After those came members of the funeral commission in native ceremonial costume with swords. They were followed by the chief and assistant ritualists of the imperial funeral corps, also in full native costume.

After a short wait during which the functionaries formed a procession, Emperor Yoshihito arrived. He was in the full uniform of commander-in-chief with black crepe arm bands and sword knot.

He was attended by Count Togo, the grand master of ceremonies; and Count Watanabe, minister of the imperial household, who were followed by court chamberlains carrying the imperial sword and seal.

After the emperor had taken his place, a small procession composed of the members of the imperial blood in order of precedence came next.

The emperor then entered in a native court dress made of hemp cloth, her unbound hair falling to her shoulders. Her upper garment was of dark brown and her skirt of dull orange.

The dowager empress' procession was of a similar character. She was in native costume and was preceded by the chief steward and followed by her ladies of honor.

Prince Kan-in wore the uniform of a general with an ancient robe of black hemp. He carried a sword and staff.

Others in the hall comprised government officials of the first rank, peers of Japan and Korea, members of the house of representatives and of the imperial cabinet, the presidents of various government institutions, the mayor of Tokio and the chairman of the Tokio city council.

The members of the diplomatic corps formed a group apart in a place of honor.

As soon as the imperial processions had entered the hall and those composing them had taken their seats, the hanging screen in front of the catafalque was removed by the ritualists and the Shinto band played a soft dirge on instruments resembling flutes and three peculiar drums.

The chief ritualist and his assistants proffered the offerings of sacred food, to the continued accompaniment of Shinto music, after which other offerings of red and white cloth enclosed in willow boxes were made.

Prayers for the dead were recited by the chief ritualist, who had taken his place in the center before the catafalque.

Worship Spirit of Departed. The most solemn act of all followed, when the emperor, the empress, the dowager empress and the princes and princesses advanced toward the casket and worshipped the spirit of the departed emperor.

A short silence ensued, the processions were reformed and the members of the imperial family retired.

Other members of the assemblage, however, remained to worship the dead emperor's spirit, after which the Shinto ritualists advanced to the altar and recovered the offerings to the sound of sacred music.

The screen in front of the imperial catafalque was lowered by the chief ritualist and the ceremony of the funeral ended.

SECOND PART OF CEREMONY

Casket Starts on Journey to Aoyama in the Night. TOKIO, Sept. 13.—The second part of the ceremonies in connection with the funeral of the late Mushuhito, emperor of Japan, took place tonight, when the casket containing his body started on its journey to Aoyama, whence it will be taken to Monoyama for burial.

The passage of the funeral car through the streets of the capital tonight was even more impressive. It afforded the populace of the capital an opportunity to display sorrow at the nation's bereavement, and hundreds of thousands stood for hours in absolute silence along the route as the coffin passed on the first stage of its journey to its last resting place.

At 7 o'clock in the evening those who were to take part in the procession began to assemble again at the palace. Among them were the holders of orders of merit, officials of many ranks, ministers of state, Korean peers, members of the two houses of parliament and of the imperial cabinet, presidents and provincial assemblies, the mayor of Tokio and the chairman of the Tokio city council.

The foreign princes and special embassies, including that from the United States, headed by P. C. Knox, secretary of state, did not take part in this ceremony. The special envoys and the foreign diplomats resident in Tokio, went directly after the conclusion of the funeral services to Aoyama.

All the officials had gathered within an hour and at 8 o'clock they were conducted by masters-of-ceremonies to places at the entrance of the palace, where a double line was formed.

The great funeral car, attended by a large number of Japanese of high rank, wearing the ancient national court mourning costumes, consisting of an upper robe of horse-chestnut color, dull colored loose trousers and coronet caps of black silk, was then brought to the gate.

To the wailing of a Shinto dirge, the immense coffin was wheeled in solemn procession from the main hall. Chamberlains marched in front of the funeral car and following it were the grand master of ceremonies bearing the departed monarch's sword and the master of the household carrying the imperial sword of state. On each side of the casket walked high officials of the household carrying lighted candles.

When all arrangements had been completed Emperor Yoshihito and Empress Sadako, Princess Takada, representing the empress dowager, whose physicians prohibited her from taking part in the ceremonies, and the princesses of the imperial family came through the hall, entered their carriages and started off along for Aoyama in order to be ready to receive the casket on its arrival there.

After the departure of their majesties the great procession formed in line. It was headed by twelve police inspectors and the inspector general. These were followed by strong contingents of military and naval guards of honor. Then came the attendants bearing torches and wearing garments of hemp. Others carried drums and carried musical instruments of ancient date on which they played dirges.

The funeral car was preceded immediately by Count Togo, grand master of ceremonies, and Count Watanabe, minister of the imperial household, who were flanked by torch bearers.

WAR ON NEW COMMISSION

Organized Effort at Des Moines to End System.

FIGHT COMES FROM INSIDE

Some of Present Members of Commission Known to Be Assisting in Scheme to Repeal Existing Plan.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

DES MOINES, Sept. 12.—(Special Telegram.)—A fight to compel Des Moines to give up the commission form of government is found to be already started here and in the next year it is expected the fight will become warm.

Already speakers have been at work in the city pointing out the weakness of the system and at least one club has been formed for the avowed purpose of effecting the repeal of the plan.

Under the Iowa law a vote must be taken on it at the next city election. It is known that some of the present members of the council are giving aid to the movement for repeal and that the contest will be carried on from the inside.

Make War on Paupers. County authorities are taking steps to prevent the jumping of paupers and dependents upon this county from all parts of the state. They have caused investigation to be made and believe that this practice has cost the county at least $100,000 in recent years. Steps will be taken to make a thorough investigation of every case of dependency.

FARMER THOMPSON KILLS HIS WIFE AND CHILD AND HIMSELF

(Continued from First Page.)

her home in Denmark for the purpose. Mr. Thompson owned and built several houses here, the last one at 1234 East Washington avenue. He had worked for Jensen Bros., architects and contractors, for twelve years, and had also been employed by Anderson Bros. and Myrtus Bros. His last work in town was in connection with the building of the carnival booths, and during that time on one of the hot days he was greatly affected by the heat. Thompson was about 47 years old and his wife a year younger. There had never been any domestic infidelity, and Thompson is not known to have ever had any trouble. His financial affairs were in excellent shape.

"I cannot believe that Thompson died a suicide," said J. Chris Jensen last evening. "Knowing the man so well, his devotion to his family and his intense love for his wife, it's impossible for me to believe he could ever harm them. If the letter was written by him and the thumbprint is his it will of course be proof conclusive."

Week Near Elgin, Ill. ELGIN, Ill., Sept. 12.—Two workmen were injured, one seriously, in a head-on collision between a passenger and a gravel train on the Chicago and North-western railway, two miles north of Elgin today.

MOOSERS CLAIM IT ALL

Deny Existence of Any Taft or Regular Committee.

WOMEN FORM NEW LEAGUE

Wife of Bull Moose Candidate for Congress in First District Elected President—Howard Returns from Trip Over State.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

"LINCOLN, Sept. 13.—(Special.)—Those fellows are bully good fellows, but officially we don't know them," said Chairman Epperson to a newspaperman this morning when asked if in the event that there was a vacancy created by resignation or otherwise in the six electoral positions in controversy, if the Taft committee would fill them.

"I don't know of any Taft committee," said Mr. Epperson. "There is a so called republican committee, I believe made up of bolters in a rump convention, but I do not recognize them as having anything to say as to what our candidates will do or what will be done if a vacancy is created."

"Should there be a vacancy those vacancies will be filled by Taft men selected by our executive committee and not by the self-styled, self-constituted rump committee."

"Would your committee consider any suggestions from the Taft committee as to who should fill the vacancies," was asked the judge.

The judge answered: "I don't know any Taft committee, but the fellows who want to get Taft men on the ballot are a mighty fine bunch and I like them personally and would meet them and talk with them, but as I said before I do not recognize any republican committee but the one I a chairman of."

Women Organize. A few women of Nebraska met in Lincoln yesterday and organized a progressive league. Mrs. Paul F. Clark, wife of the bull moose candidate for congress in the First district, was elected state chairman. An executive committee composed of Mrs. H. M. Bushnell of Lincoln, Miss Lena Russell of Blair, Mrs. E. O. Garrett of Fremont, wife of the defeated democratic candidate for lieutenant governor two years ago; Miss Alice Florer of York, Mrs. L. B. Parker of Hastings and Mrs. J. N. Dryden of Kearney will assist Mrs. Clark in the campaign.

The meeting was held at the Lindell hotel and about fifty from different portions of the state were present. The chair was authorized to name a vice president from Omaha. The different congressional districts were represented by the following:

First—Mrs. H. M. Bushnell and Mrs. Paul F. Clark of Lincoln.

Second—Mrs. S. E. Russell and Miss Lena Russell of Blair.

Third—Mrs. E. O. Garrett and Mrs. J. W. Nation.

Fourth—Miss Ruth Loomer and Mrs. J. G. Dickson of York.

Fifth—Mrs. A. E. Allyn and Mrs. F. B. Parker of Hastings.

Sixth—Mrs. L. V. Graves and Mrs. J. B. Howard of Kearney.

Howard Back from Trip. W. R. Howard, republican candidate for state auditor, was at the state house also this afternoon, returning from a trip out in the state. He says that the prospects for republican success on the state ticket is exceedingly good and that he expects to see every candidate on the ticket go in by a good majority.

Frank Harrison has sold his State Capital to a bunch of bull moose politicians headed by Don C. Vandusen of Blair and Will S. Jay of Lincoln, deputy state oil inspector. The name has been changed to the Nebraska Progressive and the names of the two gentlemen mentioned above appear as editors.

OMAHA MAN MARRIED AT CHICAGO THURSDAY

CHICAGO, Sept. 13.—(Special Telegram.)—Lambertus D. Eyselboom of Omaha and Anna Vanveen of Chicago were licensed to marry here yesterday.

BUZZINGS

When General Cowin was appointed on the military staff of Governor Sheldon, with the rank of colonel, he was in doubt as to whether it was a promotion upwards or downwards.

C. J. Smyth was once commandant of a local snider company known as the Creighton Rifles.

Colonel Cody got his title by commission as a staff aid to Governor Thayer. In the army he ranked merely as chief of scouts.

Brandeis Stores

Announce the Annual

Fall Opening Display

of Original and Authentic Styles in

Millinery

Women's Apparel, Fabrics

and Accessories to the costume

Week Beginning

Monday

Sept. 16th

The honor of your presence is requested.

7% First Mortgage Industrial Bonds

which are a direct obligation of a great corporation are certainly worth investigation. Like all good things, this bond issue is limited, so it might be well to call today.

Call or Write. 1127 City Nat'l Bank. Omaha, Neb.

THE OMAHA BEE prints clean news and clear advertising.

Browning, King & Co

CLOTHING, FURNISHINGS AND HATS FOR MEN, BOYS AND CHILDREN

We Want Your Opinion On Our Fall Suits and Overcoats for Men

Our designs include a dozen different models in Men's Suits and Overcoats, made up in a wide range of fabrics for fall and winter. We think them super.

Prices on Suits $15.00 to $40.00 Overcoats From $15.00 to $50.00

Here is an expert opinion of one of our wholesale customers. His store is in a large city where taste and quality are appreciated. He says: "We have no fault to find with the fit of the garments. They certainly go far and away ahead of anything that we have ever had before, and I certainly think, that notwithstanding it being presidential year, we are going to have the most successful and satisfactory season that we have ever experienced."

BROWNING, KING & CO.

Geo. T. Wilson, Mgr.

15th at Douglas

WAR SOUVENIR COUPON

SAVE THIS COUPON IT HELPS YOU GET The Civil War Through the Camera

Containing Brady's Famous Civil War Photographs (Published by Permission of the U. S. War Department) And Professor Elson's Newly Written History of the Civil War

CHICAGO, Sept. 13.—(Special Telegram.)—Lambertus D. Eyselboom of Omaha and Anna Vanveen of Chicago were licensed to marry here yesterday.

ORKIN'S, 1510 DOUGLAS STREET

New Fall Suits

Samples for Women and Misses, worth up to $39.50, on sale Saturday at $19.50

This great sale of beautiful new tailored suits, right in the heart of the fall season is convincing proof that Orkin is a great specialty store for remarkable values as well as for quality and style.

Every Suit in this extraordinary sale is a correct new model, made by expert tailors, in strictly plain tailored styles or fancy designs. Suits made to sell at $25, $29.75, $35, $39.50; on sale at $19.50

Women's Suits at $3.98 Summer Dresses at $1.00 Saturday at 8 A. M. we will close out the remainder of our spring and summer Suits. There is about 100 in the lot. Better come early before they are all gone. Your choice Saturday $3.98 All our summer dresses will go on sale Saturday morning at 8 o'clock. This will be positively the final sale. If you want to secure one of these dresses you had better come early $1.00

ORKIN'S, 1510 Douglas St.