The Style Show that is Captivating Omaha Women BRANDEIS FALL OPENING DISPLAY

This fashion event is again demonstrating the Brandeis claim to originality and leadership. Through our own Paris buying office we have assembled a great number of exquisite styles in Women's Apparel from the shops of the leading foreign designers. These costumes, gowns and suits are practical and adapted to the American woman's figure. They are now on display and may be purchased outright. The styles in artistic Parisian millinery are here in greater variety than we have ever shown them in any previous opening.

TO INVESTIGATE TAX SALES

Ure Wants Council to Hire Man to Look Into Scavenger Sales.

PARK WATER BILLS REJECTED

Acting on an Opinion of City Attorney Bills for Water in the Parks are Turned Down by City Council.

City and County Treasurer Ure asks the city council to appropriate $400 or $500 to hire a man at $100 a month to investigate scavenger tax sales and find out if the city is losing money thereon. The council has the request under consideration.

Ure says he wants to know just how the city stands in relation to these sales, money from which goes into the street improvement district fund.

With the data procured by a man paid to investigate scavenger sales the city treasurer would know how to handle the street improvement fund.

When taxes against a piece of property accumulate until they exceed the value of the property the property is sold and the money received from the sale applied on these taxes. The new owner of the property then begins payment of taxes from the date of the sale.

City Council Notes. Mayor Dahlin secured the passage of a resolution endorsing a back-to-the-land scheme being promoted by S. Arion Lewis.

Appraisement of the property between Cuming and Burt streets for the opening of Twenty-seventh street was rejected on the ground that it was excessive and the property holders couldn't well pay it. The sum returned by the appraisers was $335.33.

Acting on an opinion of the city attorney, bills for water in the parks were rejected.

Purchase of $54,000 school bonds out of the street improvement district fund was authorized.

An ordinance was passed calling a special election for November 7 to vote $50,000 park bonds.

Bids for linoleum, 500 feet of fire hose and other supplies for different departments were opened and read and referred to the department of finances and accounts.

S. A. Houser Denies J. F. Warren's Charge

General and specific denials of John F. Warren's charges that he alienated Mrs. Warren's affections are made by Samuel A. Houser, president of the Omaha Taxi-cab and Auto Livery company, in an answer to Warren's $5,000 damage suit. Warren alleges that when he was farming near Manderson, Ia., four years ago, Houser worked for him and took advantage of opportunities afforded to win the wife by blandishments.

A Ornel Mistak is to neglect a cold or cough. Dr. King's New Discovery cures them and may prevent consumption. 50c and $1.00. For sale by Boston Drug Co.

Palimpsest Club to Open Soon with Dr. Claxton as Speaker

The Palimpsest club will begin its season at the festival board November 5, when the principal guest of the evening will be Philander Priestly Claxton, United States commissioner of education, who has accepted the invitation extended to him on behalf of the club by President John L. Webster. Dr. Claxton will be here at that time to attend the meeting of the Nebraska State Teachers' association. Invitations are out for speakers for some of the subsequent dinners of the Palimpsest, for which announcements will not be made until later.

Omaha State Bank Officials Are Named

Directors and officers of the State Bank of Omaha have been elected and the institution will begin business October 15, in the new Omaha State Bank building, Seventeenth and Harney street, which is to be completed by that time.

At a meeting of the stockholders these men were named directors: A. L. Schantz, E. H. Westerfield, A. S. White, John D. Warr, J. L. Svoboda, Arthur Hoover and F. N. High of Omaha and District Judge J. R. Hanna of Greeley, I. W. Norris of Stella, R. F. Stuckey of Lexington and J. Q. McFerrin of Oakland, Ia.

The directors named these officers: A. L. Schantz, president; A. S. White, vice president; J. L. Svoboda, cashier, and F. N. High, assistant cashier.

The new bank is capitalized at $300,000 and will be operated under the state guaranty law, the first of the kind in the city. All the stock has been sold and $300,000 over the capitalization has been subscribed and refused by the promoters.

Fixtures for the offices are now on the way and will be ready for installation by the time the building is finished.

Experts Debate on How to Advertise

Robert H. Manley and Penn P. Podrea weighed in before the Ad club at the Paxton Monday noon and went three rounds for no decision. The debate was: "Resolved, That the retail merchant with $5,000 annual advertising appropriation should use the newspapers instead of the mails."

Manley pointed out that newspapers reach the advertiser at the proper time, when he is in a receptive mood, and declared that the mails came to him at a time when he was too busy to read the advertising in it; that advertising in the guise of personal letters vexed the recipient and consequently had not the desired effect.

Podrea argued the other side of the question. He declared Manley was talking of the department stores, which "could not exist longer than ninety days without newspaper advertising," while the question of debate naturally referred only to the small retailer.
