Lincoln Young Men Form Big Taft Club

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, Sept. 18.—(Special.)—About fifty young men of Lincoln met at the Lincoln hotel last night and started an organization of a Taft republican club. H. H. Wilson, the principal speaker, delivered an address that was an incentive for young men to align themselves with a party which since its organization had been progressive. He showed that the democratic party from the time of Jefferson had refused to do things necessary to progress because the constitution did not specifically set forth that such things could be done, while on the other hand, Colonel Roosevelt was trying to break down the constitution with his recall and kindred political schemes.

A committee of five consisting of J. Reid Gree, Ralph Moseley, F. E. Edgerton, James Brown and Ralph Wilson, was selected to draft a constitution for the club. The next meeting will be held Monday night when it is expected that Senator Norris Brown will be present and address the meeting.

J. M. O'Neil, a Lincoln traveling man, who represents eastern manufacturers said that his house reported to him that Taft was growing in strength throughout the east and that workmen and manufacturers were beginning to see the importance of keeping the republican party in power with President Taft as president.

William Steinhoff Believed Poisoned

considerable discrimination in the goods he took.

FRIEND, Neb., Sept. 18.—(Special.)—

William Steinhoff, who owned a farm one and one-half miles north of Friend and resided at Beaver Crossing, died at the farm yesterday morning under suspicious circumstances. Steinhoff owned a farm at Hecla, S. D., and it had been his custom to visit the farm every year to look after his share of the crop. He had been in Dakota for several days, Sunday evening he returned, visiting a local doctor and stating that he had been poisoned. He said he had had some trouble with the tenants residing on his farm in Dakota, where he had boarded and where he was taken sick. A local physician advised him to return home as quickly as possible. A post mortem held yesterday indicated very strongly mercurial poisoning. The autopsy was held under the authority of the coroner the jury awaiting more information from South Dakota.

Statements made by the dead man were that he had suspected an attempt to poison him and that he had left his tea untouched, which was afterwards drunk by a lad of the family who soon became violently ill. He had overheard a remark that "they would get him yet." Steinhoff was a bee keeper of some note and the president of the Nebraska Bee Keepers' association.

CATTLE DISEASE IS NOT CEREBRO-MENINGITIS

KEARNEY, Neb., Sept. 18.—(Special.)—

Dr. A. A. Munn, a local veterinarian was called to the country last evening to attend to what was supposed to be the first case of the cerebro-meningitis to have affected cattle. He found the herd with badly infected mouths and nostrils and other symptoms that did not correspond to the symptoms of the horse disease. Investigation disclosed a mass of sand burrs in the roof, throats and back nasal cavities as the source of the disease, the animals having been pastured in stubble fields during the August drought. The whole number were emaciated showing the effects of the condition, which has probably been bothering them two or three weeks.

Notes from Bloomington

BLOOMINGTON, Neb., Sept. 18.—(Special.)—F. H. Ludeke of Bloomington has been experimenting for some years on the raising of cotton. He has furnished the public schools a fine exhibit of home-grown cotton for use in the geography classes.

The Franklin County Fair association, due to the unfavorable weather and the prevalence of the horse disease, is facing a deficit, the first in years. Farmers were afraid to drive their horses to the grounds and some were kept away by the care of horses already sick. The educational exhibit, due to the untiring efforts of County Superintendent Ruth Erfman, was the best at the fair.

A Sunday school convention will occur at Franklin on September 21 in the Methodist church. All towns in the county are to be represented by delegates and speakers.

Doane Has Plenty of Good Foot Ball Material in Sight

CRETE, Neb., Sept. 18.—(Special.)—Although the last week has not been favorable for the trying out of new foot ball methods, Coach Johnson has been putting the thirty men that report for practice every evening at Doane college, through some strenuous tactics. The line men have been working by themselves and the backfield men by themselves, so that the best possible results can be obtained. The splendid new material this year will help out both in the line and back field, there being some extremely promising candidates among the new fellows. Last evening a tentative line was picked, consisting of R. Higby and Eaman, ends; Bronson and King, tackles; Blust and Johnston, guards; and Adams, center. Of this line Johnston, the big fellow from Neligh, is new and Eaman, a former scrub, is making good at his position. The rest are all old men, experienced in line tactics. In the back field, although Goble, last year's smashing full back, has not yet returned to school, the prospects are just as encouraging. Harris, formerly of Neligh, is upholding his reputation for being one of the fastest backs in the state, and Medlar, formerly of York high is making a bid for one of the positions. Kretzinger has been delayed and reaches Crete Wednesday, but will be in shape to hold down his old position at half. Gates and Koester, both old scrub men, are coming to the front as well, so that there seems to be plenty of material for the back field. Krets, last year's sub quarter, is practically sure of that position this year, so that the roster is complete. The tentative line averages about 167

Epidemic Kills Horses in Kearney

KEARNEY, Neb., Sept. 17.—(Special.)—Tuesday was marked by the greatest number of calls for veterinarians and prescriptions to check the epidemic now taking so many horses throughout the state, of any day since the disease first struck this locality. Three cases are reported in the very edge of the city, one fine horse belonging to the W. L. Stichel Lumber company, in a pasture just across the road from the industrial school, has it, the school report one horse sick with the disease and was shot this afternoon, and R. Hibberd reported having one down, but which is showing some slight signs of improve. The mate to the one owned by the lumber company died Saturday evening and little hope is entertained by the owner of saving the one now ill, both of them being 3-year olds and valued at $250 each. Farmers are losing them in large numbers.

Chicago Society Woman TAKES NEAL TREATMENT DRINK HABIT CURED IN THREE DAYS

A very large per cent of Neal patients are from the very highest and best classes of men and women. Recently one of the very wealthy and prominent society women of Chicago was given the Neal treatment by one of our physibians in the privacy of her apartments in a leading New York city hotel. The satisfaction of this woman is the best evidence by the fact that after her return to Chicago she sent $100 as a present to the lady attendant who cared for her during the treatment. The Neal treatment has been administered to many persons in this city in the privacy of their own room at home, hotel or club. We are always willing to arrange for this method of treatment in all cases where the patient or friends prefer. However, all patients are given a separate private room at the hospital and the utmost privacy is assured. NEAL INSTITUTE, 1809 South Tenth Street, Omaha Neb. Douglas 7556.

Boston Prepares for World's Series

BOSTON, Sept. 18.—Arrangements for the base ball games in this city of the world's championship series at Fenway park are well under way. Nearly 100 persons are at work completing the arrangements for accommodating between 30,000 and 35,000 persons at each of the games expected to be played here. The carpenters are rearing temporary stands on all available space. Ten thousand seats in addition to the normal capacity of 23,000 is expected to result from their labors. The clerks face each day a fresh pile of correspondence from all parts of the country regarding the 14,000 seats which will be reserved. The Boston management has adopted an elaborate system of protection against the securing of tickets by speculators. The system has already uncovered attempts to buy tickets in bunches for speculative purposes. It is announced that all of the 15,000 reserved seats will be distributed in person, except in the general allotments to the national base ball commission and to the players. No tickets will be sent out by mail, registered or otherwise. No money is accepted with applications. Only those requests for tickets for all the games in this city are being noticed, and only one ticket will be issued for three games. This, it is expected, will minimize the operations of the speculative element.
