OMAHA TAKES BOTH GAMES

Wins First Game from Topeka by 8 to 4 Score and Second, 3 to 2.

PITCHERS DO SOME GOOD WORK

In the Last Contest, Coyle of the Locals Sends a Ball Over the Fence and Made a Home Run.

Bunched hits in the eighth inning of the second gave the Rourkes the battle, by an 8 to 4 score, after they had successfully trounced Cochran in the first contest, by a 3 to 2 score over Topeka.

The first game was a pitchers' battle with the Kaws in the lead for most of the time, but Omaha came out of the slump in the sixth inning and tied the score and then hammered in another tally in the seventh, while Robinson, who succeeded Hall on the mound, held the Kaws helpless.

The second game started out with the Kaws at the long end by two runs. Omaha came back with one and in the second, after getting one run, Coyle slammed the ball over the right garden structure with Hicks on base. From the second inning to the eighth, "Red" Adams was invincible, keeping the Rourkes from any hits and also from getting to first base, but in the Rourkes' final round with one down, Adams passed three men, allowed two hits and made a rank error, which netted the home boys four runs and put the game on ice.

Hall was sent in to work for Omaha in the first battle, but he was too anxious to make good during the few games he will work with the Rourkes, prior to his advent into major league company. After five and one-third innings he was sent to the bench with the score two against him, and Robinson sent to the rescue. Robby held the Kaws helpless, while the Rourkes landed on Cochran and won the game.

Arthur Thomason, the Rourkes' center fielder, saved the first game for Omaha by a wonderful peg to third from deep center, cutting a runner off, who would have scored on the next play and tied the score.

The Second Game.

In the second game a great double play staved off at least one run for the Kaws. French was on first by virtue of an error, when McDonald hit the ball in front of the plate. Johnson snapped the pill to Justice, cutting off French and then relayed to Schipke, who covered first and caught McDonald.

Topeka scored first in the second game. Lee landed safe on an error and went to third on King's single. Gardner singled to right, scoring Lee and King scored on Hensling's single.

Omaha came back with one. Justice singled, stole second and went to third on Johnson's infield hit and scored on Kane's grounder to Gardner. In the second Niehoff doubled and scored on Hick's single. Coyle hammered out a homer scoring Hicks ahead of himself.

The Kaws got one in the fifth. Smith beat out a bunt, stole second and scored on Bashang's single.

In the eighth Thomason walked and scored on Johnson's double. Kane walked. Both men advanced on a wild pitch. Schipke grounded out to French to Gardner and Johnson scored. Niehoff walked and stole second. Kane and Niehoff scored on Adams' wild peg to second to get Niehoff napping. Score, first game:

Connie Mack in Game

CONNIE MACK.

An excellent illustration of the kind of fellow Connie Mack is is found in his statement on the winning of the American league pennant by the Boston Red Sox. Here is what the manager of the Athletics said when a group of newspapermen corralled him in New York the other day:

"I congratulate the Red Sox on their wonderful year. The best club not only won, but it is doubtful if I could have beaten out Stahl's team with my club at its best. A great team has achieved its deserved honor."

In contrast to this here is the statement of President C. Webb Murphy of the Chicago Cubs on the winning of the pennant by the Giants: "The best team failed to win. We have the best ball club and everybody knows it. But we couldn't beat the umpires and the combination McGraw framed against us."

Peru Normal Has Large Senior Class

PERU, Neb., Sept. 18.—(Special.)—The state normal school began work with a fine attendance, the enrollment being better than last year at this time. The senior class is especially strong and with a few late arrivals who have written that they are coming, the class will number over 200. This is the largest senior class in the history of the school.

Coach Thacker is pleased over his foot ball outlook for this season. There are several veteran players here and the new arrivals are unusually promising. Things look well for a splendid line of players who have weight and speed.

Both of the literary societies held open sessions on Friday last and plan to do the same this week. Philomathean was obliged to adjourn to the big high school room to accommodate the crowd.

In the second game the visitors drove Powell off the rubber in the sixth and hit Adams, who replaced him, hard. A single, three passes and an error, gave the locals their scores. Score, first game:
