Open Air Schools Increase from 1 to 200 in Five Years

With the opening of the fall school term over 200 open air schools and fresh air classes for tuberculosis and anaemic children, and also for all children in certain rooms and grades, will be in operation in various parts of the United States, according to a statement published today by the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis.

All of these schools, the association says, have been established since January, 1907, when the first institution of this character was opened in Providence, R. I. On January 1, 1910, there were only thirteen open air schools in this country, and a year later the number had increased only to twenty-nine. Thus the real growth in this movement has been with the last two years.

Massachusetts now leads the states with eighty-six fresh air schools and classes for tuberculosis, anaemic and other school children, Boston alone having over eighty. New York comes next with twenty-nine and Ohio is third with twenty-one. Open air schools have now been established in nearly fifty cities in nineteen different states.

Based on figures of population and mortality furnished by the United States bureau of the census it is estimated that not less than 100,000 children now in school in the United States will die of tuberculosis before they are 18 years of age, or that 7,000 of these children die annually from this one disease. Estimating that on an average each child who dies from tuberculosis has had six years of schooling, the aggregate loss to this country in wasted education each year amounts to well over $1,000,000.

This loss and much of the incident suffering could be materially decreased if open air schools or classes for these children and those who are sickly and anaemic were provided. The national association estimates that there should be one such school for every 2,000 population, especially in cities.

Indian Mission Worker

Mrs. C. H. Bandy, known to Nebraska Presbyterians as "our Mrs. Bandy," is spending a week in Omaha, being on a furlough from Fatehgarh, India, where she is a missionary supported by Presbyterian women of this state. She is giving many addresses on her work among the Hindus and is being extensively entertained by church women.

This morning Mrs. Bandy speaks at Bellevue Presbyterian church, this afternoon at the Young Women's Christian association, this evening at First Presbyterian church of South Omaha. Wednesday she will address the annual synodical state missionary meeting in Laurel, Neb. Friday Mrs. Bandy was honor guest at luncheon given at the home of Mrs. G. W. Clabaugh by the women of Westminster Presbyterian church. She will be the chief speaker at the meeting of the Missionary Federation of Omaha and South Omaha, October 30.

Mrs. Bandy has been a missionary in India seventeen years and this is only the second time she has been in America during that period. She and her sister decided that they wanted to be missionaries when they were girls in Parsons Presbyterian college at their home, Fairfield, Ia. Shortly after graduation the one sister went as a missionary to China, where she still is, and the other married Mr. Bandy.

Mr. and Mrs. Bandy came to Omaha and studied for three years at the Theological school and then left for Fatehgarh. They have an adopted son—a 15-year-old Indian boy named Rajah, whom they have just entered at Parsons college in Fairfield. After he graduates he will join his adopted parents in India and work among his people. "Mr. and Mrs. Bandy are the only itinerant Christian missionaries in the whole district of Fatehgarh, which num-

Circuit Rider Travels in a Big Automobile

Evangelical fields are now profitably worked by the motor car, declares N. S. McClurkin, who has traveled California for years as an itinerant savior of souls. Since replacing his horses with a Studebaker "20," Rev. McClurkin has covered an average of 1,000 miles a month, registering four times as many conversions from evil ways as he has been able to make when traveling by wagon.

Bull Moose Spirit Breaks Glass Doors to Interrupt Sermon

The bull moose spirit surcharging the atmosphere of Omaha was manifested by some miscreant hurling a missile through the door of Temple Israel during the religious services last night. Rabbi Cohn had just gotten well into his sermon when the congregation was startled by a crash and the sound of broken glass. Whoever did the mischief, presumably boys, got away before their identity was discovered.

Thief in Disguise Steals Diamond Ring

A sneak thief, working in the guise of a repairer for the electric light company, made away with a $100 diamond ring at the home of Dr. A. H. Hipple, 132 North Fourteenth street. After ringing the bell, he informed Mrs. Hipple that he had come to fix the electric light wires. The little daughter of the house showed him around and when she had gone down stairs for a minute the thief soon appeared and, remarking that everything was all right, left. Then it was discovered that he had taken the ring from a bureau.

POLICE SWOOP DOWN ON GERT BROOMFIELD'S DIVE

Gertie Broomfield's dive at 1114 Douglas street was surrounded by Captain Dempsey and Detectives Dunn and Kennedy Friday night, and five intoxicated men and women, all colored, were carted to jail. A case of beer was confiscated.

It Is The Duty Of Mothers

To see that the children's eyes are properly protected. Don't blame the child for apparent dullness or when it seems to lack interest in school work—IT MAY BE DUE TO EYE STRAIN

Many nervous disorders are due to eye strain, so give the children a chance—you'll find my optical office quiet and home-like, and my ten years of experience fitting children's eyes will give you satisfaction.

I don't advise glasses unless positively necessary. R. N. DONAHEY OPTICIAN 590 Brandeis Bldg.

THROUGH TOURIST CARS START WEST MONDAY

Beginning Monday for the first time in the history of the road the Great Western will put on through tourist car service to the Pacific coast. The points of origin will be Chicago and Minneapolis and all of the tourists will pass through Omaha enroute west.

In putting tourists into the coast country the Great Western will use its own road from points of origin to Omaha. From here people from Minneapolis and the north will be sent over the Burlington to Denver, over the Rio Grande to Salt Lake City and over the San Pedro to destination. Passengers out of Chicago will come to Omaha over the Great Western. Here the cars will be taken to Ogden over the Union Pacific and to San Francisco and the southern California country by the Southern Pacific.

NATURE'S LAWS.

Nature's laws are perfect if only we obey them, but disease follows disobedience. Go straight to Nature for the cure, to the forest; there are mysteries there, some of which we can learn from. Take the bark of the Wild-cherry tree, with mandrake root, Oregon grape root, stone root, queen's root, bloodroot and golden seal root, make a scientific, glyceric extract of them, with just the right proportions, and you have

DOCTOR PIERCE'S GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY.

It took Dr. Pierce, with the assistance of two learned chemists and pharmacists, many months of hard work experimenting to perfect this vegetable alterative and tonic extract of the greatest efficiency.

MR. C. W. PAWLEY, of Millville, Calif., writes: "I wish to tell you that I have used your 'Golden Medical Discovery' in my family for twenty years. We have had a doctor called in but once during that time. I have a family of ten children, all well and hearty, for which, to a great extent, we owe thanks to you and your 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Pellets,' which we use when sick."
