Mob Gathers Around Grand Island Jail

GRAND ISLAND, Neb., Sept. 24.—(Special.)—Two hundred men gathered about the county jail to which C. W. Little, charged with attempt to assault 22-year-old girl was taken for safe keeping last night. Sheriff Sievers had heard rumors about the gathering of men, however, and had the entire police force and ten deputies within the jail, including Acting Mayor Broadwell. About 11 o'clock 100 men came in a body from the vicinity of Walnut and Fourth streets, the section of the city in which it is alleged the crime was attempted, and were reinforced by many others. The crowd evidently lacked leadership and no attempt was made to break into the well built and securely guarded jail. It is stated that not only Little, but Harry Chesley, the former special policeman, in custody on similar charges, were badly frightened.

HYOMEI will banish catarrh if you will breathe it a few times a day. It is the only remedy of its kind before the people that can penetrate into every nook, corner, fold or crevice of the mucous membrane and destroy the microbes. HYOMEI is squeezed from the green leaves of the Eucalyptus trees of inland Australia, where catarrh does not exist, and combined with Listerian antiseptics. Pour a few drops into the inhaler and breathe this mighty germ destroying air; an air more healing than that of the pine covered Adirondacks. ### RELAY RIDER IS KILLED

PERSIAN VISITS BRYAN HOME

Abdul-Baha Abbas Pays Respects at Fairview—Stenographers of Lincoln Form Club—Barton Takes Part in Insurance Matters.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Neb., Sept. 24.—(Special.)—W. R. Mallor, secretary of the state fair board, received notice this morning that A. C. Curtis, one of the riders in the relay race at the Nebraska fair, was killed at Walla Walla, Ore., last week while riding in a relay race there. Curtis will be remembered by state fair visitors who saw the relay race as the man who made the sensational changes from one horse to another in front of the grandstand with the horses going at full speed. His death was caused by the slipping of the saddle cinch while rounding a turn, causing the rider to be thrown, a horse stepping on his neck and breaking it.

Prizes for Good Seed Corn

BLOOMINGTON, Neb., Sept. 24.—(Special.)—Arrangements have been made by the banks and various business houses of Bloomington to make a campaign for the selection of seed corn on seed corn week. The governor has set apart September 30 to October 5 for this purpose. The Farmers State bank has offered substantial prizes to the farmers who will bring the best samples of seed. ### Negroes Ask Favors For Former Slaves

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—President Taft addressed the Congress of Colored Educators here tonight as a part of the national jubilee in celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the issuance of the emancipation proclamation. He was introduced to the audience, which was composed of colored delegates from almost every part of the country, as the "real representative of progressive principles."

At today's session of the Negro National Sociological congress, another feature of the emancipation celebration, a resolution was unanimously adopted urging President Taft to set at liberty all former slaves now confined in federal prisons and to urge the governors of the respective states to release ex-slaves from state prisons. The resolution also asked that the president urge upon congress the passage of a bill appropriating

Insurance Company Outlook

Attorney General Martin says it is up to the auditor to say whether the Equitable Endowment company of Omaha shall be placed in the hands of a receiver. The auditor, if he discovers that such a thing is necessary, has the power to have a receiver appointed. Last year the company had a deficit of $2,946 and a liability of $46,021 on matured policies.

Company Receivership

A letter sent out by the National Collection agency to the state auditor, which holds claims against the defunct Farmers and Merchants bank of Lincoln, states that the receivership matters are dragging along and wants them hurried up. It says that the receiver will pay 25 to 35 per cent of the face value of the claims, but Auditor Barton had advised claimants to hold out for a 25 per cent settlement.

The town of Winnebago has registered water bonds in the amount of $9,000 with the state auditor.

Silas R. Barton landed the bull moose endorsement for congress in the Fifth district, and as evidence of that fact the papers were filed with the secretary of state yesterday.

MOST CORN IS BEYOND THE REACH OF FROST

The Northwestern's Nebraska crop report for the last week shows that corn generally is maturing rapidly and that with killing frosts holding off another week will be beyond the point where any serious damage will be wrought.

Up the Elkhorn valley line it is estimated that at the time of the issuing of the report fully three-fourths of the crop had matured to the point where it would not be injured by frost. Practically the same condition maintained so far as the crop along the Homestead line was concerned. On the Hastings and Lincoln lines practically all of the corn had matured when the report was made. There are various estimates on the yield, but with the exception of a small area in the southwestern portion of the state an average crop is predicted.

CHANCELLOR TALKS TO STUDENTS

Chancellor of University of Nebraska Makes His Annual Address.

REAL WORK IS IMPORTANT

Those Who Make Success at Social Enterprises Are Not Those Who Make Their Mark in Real Life.

LINCOLN, Neb., Sept. 24.—(Special.)—The annual convocation of the University of Nebraska was held at noon today. Chancellor Avery in his address to the students said in part: "Carefully prepared statistics show that generally speaking students who have been successful in their real university work are afterward successful in their life work; that the student who utterly neglects his real business in favor of social and kindred activities of university life, usually, when he gets into the busy world, treats his real business there in very much the same way. Among students, and even alumni, unreal values often exist. How often, in a gathering of the latter, have I heard some such remark as this: 'Isn't it astonishing how A is getting on?' As a student he never did much but grind, never had much influence with the fellows—and now see where he is." On the other hand: "How B has disappointed us. In the university he was prominent in everything. Chairman of the freshman hop, editor of the 'rag,' president of his class; he was the soul of student enterprises—and yet he's never seemed to do anything since he graduated." Now, I do not belittle student activities. Many of our best students have been excellent scholars, and student leaders as well; but in the very great majority of cases the student who does his regular work faithfully and honestly is acquiring the equipment which will insure his success in the practical affairs of life. The same cannot be said of the student whose chief interest is in outside activities, for valuable as the experience from such enterprise may be, they cannot give the special training or the thorough discipline upon which efficiency and success in modern society depend.

Mental Attitude Important

"Fundamental though these things are, to make the most of his college course a student must do more than 'be good and get his lessons.' Much depends upon his mental attitude toward the possibilities before him. Think for a moment how the sculptor of the noble Lincoln monument of our state house grounds must have approached his task. From our own efforts to comprehend it in its completed form, we can get some suggestion of the artist's mental processes. Any one with good eyesight can look at it; any one with a little curiosity can ascertain its cost; any one with a little knowledge of mathematics can estimate its size and calculate its weight. But to catch the spirit of the artist's work one must approach it studiously, reverently, and with enthusiasm he must look not for the outward and visible form, but for the inner substance and significance. In somewhat the same way you must approach your college course. No one can tell you exactly how to make the most out of your four years here; all others can do is to point you to certain fundamentals. Chief among them, perhaps, is respect for your undertaking. With this in mind I have given you brief suggestions of the splendid work and triumphant present of the movement in which you are permitted to take part. You must approach your work fearlessly and light-heartedly, determined to realize the best, willing to sacrifice the impulse of the moment to the larger things before you. You must find pleasure in your work, and not degenerate into finding it drudgery. Above all else, avoid cynicism toward the essentials of college life. Cynical conversation is generally a most empty substitute for real interchange of bright ideas, and cynicism itself is the cheapest counterfeit of mental brilliancy. In a word, the cynic is usually a vulgar 'knocker' who has borrowed the mantle of culture. I urge you, then, to pursue your work with a courage and enthusiasm worthy of the move-

ROOSEVELT EXPECTS HADLEY TO JOIN PROGRESSIVE PARTY

JOPLIN, Mo., Sept. 24.—Governor Herbert Hadley of Missouri in the opinion of Colonel Roosevelt, as he expressed it today, will join the progressive party in the national campaign. "I not merely hope, but believe," said Colonel Roosevelt, "that Governor Hadley will yet decide to stand with us."

Freshmen Congratulated

"In conclusion, I would congratulate the freshmen before me, because they are entering college with the full advantages of present-day thought, feeling and inspiration. For a full life and experience you have a better opportunity than any other class that ever entered the university; and more than that, you are entering at a time when, as never before in the history of mankind, altruistic ideals prevail. Your success in college will benefit not only yourselves and those nearest you, but it will renew the state's faith in the efficiency of higher education. Speaking specifically, the University of Nebraska, in spite of its very creditable record, is greatly in need of resources for securing and retaining upon its faculty the best teachers and thinkers. Today, also, the need of grounds, buildings and other material equipment is greater than ever before. If the people of the state hesitate at all to provide these things, it is a natural hesitation, arising from their desire to feel sure that the students are worthy of these advantages. By successful study, by clean living, by maintaining high ideals, you can do more than any one else to make them ready, even anxious, to contribute the material and moral support necessary to place the University of Nebraska in the front rank of this world educational movement."

Test weather soon here!

The kind of weather which separates all heating equipment into two classes—ours and the other kind—will soon be here. The test days are close at hand. That's the time when every advertising statement we ever made is to be again and again proved true by the perfect performance of each of the many thousand outfits of

AMERICAN & IDEAL RADIATORS & BOILERS

Repeated tests under zero and high-windy weather conditions make strongest advocates of every buyer of an IDEAL Boiler and AMERICAN Radiators. Better get ready now to be an advocate, rather than to be "preached at" for not preparing to have your indoor temperature under perfect control by means of one of these world-famous heating outfits—to flood with Summer softness, at the turn of a valve, your home, store, office, school, church, etc.—in country or city.

Divide the cost of an IDEAL-AMERICAN outfit by the many, many years of service it will give you, and you will be surprised to find how little you really pay for this great heating value. For instance:—One of these outfits, costing, say $200, and lasting only 25 years, would represent an investment of just $8 a year. As there is no reason why IDEAL Boilers and AMERICAN Radiators will not last as long as the building, say 50 years or more, the outlay would only be $4 a year, or less.

The saving of a few tons of coal a year, which these outfits usually easily bring about, will pay a handsome yearly profit on this ideal heating outfit—to say nothing of the other savings, comforts and health. No one can therefore afford to continue the waste and nuisances of out-fashioned heating. Do not wait to build a new home, but enjoy comfort and content in the present one. No tearing up partitions or floors, nor disturbing old heating equipment until ready to put fire in the new.

Sizes for all classes of buildings—smallest to largest—in town or country. The prominent architects and heating engineers all recommend exclusively the IDEAL Boiler and AMERICAN Radiator. They cost no more than inferior apparatus. Accept no substitute. Ask for free book, "Ideal Heating"—tells much you ought to know.
