TEXTILE WORKERS ON STRIKE

Thousands Quit Work as Protest on Imprisonment of Leaders.

SEVERAL MILLS ARE SHUT DOWN

Two Men in Jail Are Charged with Accessory to Murder and A to Be Placed on Trial Next Monday.

LAWRENCE, Mass., Sept. 27.—The second general strike within a year began in the Lawrence textile mills when more than 12,000 operatives abandoned their machines. The strike is a protest against the imprisonment of Joseph J. Ettor and Arturo Giovannitti, who were arrested during the strike last January on a charge of being accessories to the murder of Anna Lopizzo, an operative.

Four mills owned by the American Woolen company are the most seriously affected. Several hundred operatives from other mills also joined the movement.

The entire police force was ordered on duty, but no serious disorders have occurred, although several arrests were made.

A general strike of the Industrial Workers of the World has been advocated by William D. Hayden and other leaders of the organization as a protest against the imprisonment of Ettor and Giovannitti, whose trial on a charge of being accessories to murder is to begin at Salem next Monday. Ettor and Giovannitti, in a letter given out a few days ago, advised against such a strike.

Ettor and Giovannitti are charged by the commonwealth with being accessories before the fact to the death of Anna Lopizzo, who was killed during a strike riot here last January.

Strike Spreads Rapidly.
The Ayer mill, employing about 4,000 operatives, was shut down. Practically all departments of the Wood mill, where 4,000 operatives work, also closed.

Within two hours after the machinery was started for the day, the strike had spread to other plants. Several hundred employees of the Pacific Cotton mills walked out and groups of operatives left other factories.

When the operatives appeared at the mills, members of the Industrial Workers of the World, urged them to strike. The leaders paraded through the various mills, shouting and yelling. Many persons joined the strike while others, fearing violence, went to their homes. More than 100 policemen were on duty in the district. Hundreds of idle hands assembled, but were dispersed without disorder. The strike spread to the other mills, including Prospect mills of the American Woolen company. Several strikers who were urging others to quit work at the Wood and Ayer mills were arrested, charged with disturbing the peace, and a man who was addressing a crowd near the Washington mill also was taken into custody. About 15,000 operatives were idle, many on strike and others forced out by shutting down of departments.

HORSE ATTACKED BY BULL DRAGS RIDER TO SAFETY

SHENANDOAH, Ia., Sept. 27.—(Special.)—Frank Pratt, a young Northboro farmer, owes his life to his presence of mind and pluck in time of danger. Several days ago, as he was driving his cows in pasture, he was attacked by a savage bull, which knocked his horse down. Mr. Pratt was thrown and his leg badly injured, but he seized the stirrup and the bridle rein, and urged his frightened horse to safety. Mr. Pratt is badly crippled by the accident.

Following an elaborate dinner, the couple departed for Chicago and other eastern points. KRAMPE ACCUSED OF CONSPIRACY

Newton Man Charged with Inducing Man to Confess to Murder in Order to Save Son—Campaign Under Way.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
DES MOINES, Sept. 27.—(Special Telegram.)—After over a week and a half spent in introducing evidence and presenting arguments, attorneys for both sides in the case of Rolly et al. against the Modern Woodmen society rested, and Judge Bradshaw took the material presented under advisement to determine whether an injunction restraining the head camp from enforcing the increased rates should be issued from his court. His decision on the matter will probably not be made for several days.

M. L. Corey of Nebraska assisted ex-Attorney General Lyon of Iowa in the prosecution of the case for the insurgents.

Conspiracy Charge Made.

Companies to Arbitrate.
Union teamsters of Des Moines claim to have scored their first victory in the controversy with employers, when three of the large transfer companies late today asked that the demands of the union men for an increase in wages and better working conditions be submitted to a board of arbitration. Labor leaders believe other companies will favor the arbitration plan.

International Organized L. T. McArthur of Chicago stated tonight that a strike will not be called until after the employers have been given an opportunity to meet and agree to arbitrate the differences or sign the contracts submitted to them today. The meeting probably will be held tomorrow.

FROSTS AT MANY POINTS IN IOWA, MORE PREDICTED

DES MOINES, Ia., Sept. 27.—Frost made its second journey across Iowa last night, according to reports at the government weather bureau here today. Observer Chappel predicts a third invasion tonight. Fourteen stations reported the temperatures of freezing or below, with a minimum at Des Moines of 27 degrees.

Maggie Crawford, Alice Jamieson and Emily Fletcher, daughters of the late William Crane, a prominent pioneer farmer, who died a few weeks ago, have filed a petition asking that the probating of their father's will be denied. They charge that the signing of the will was secured by the son, who is the residuary legatee, and they will contest the will.

FORT DODGE—"In thirty years of experience buying and feeding cattle, I have never before paid the price today for feeding cattle," said J. J. Ryan, a pioneer cattle man here today. He bought twenty head of feeding steers today for $6.75 a head. "By the time those cattle are fed sixty bushels of corn, the man who buys a steak from one of them will have caused to talk about the high cost of living."

ESTHERVILLE—Glen, the 8-year-old son of Charles Buck of this place, had a narrow escape from being killed yesterday. He was holding one of the large farm teams when suddenly they started up, jerking Glen down between them, he striking the tongue of the wagon and falling to the ground and one of the horses stepping on his head, after which one of the wagon wheels passed over his chest. At last reports he was getting along as well as could be expected.

a bowling alley in Tecumseh, and also in the ownership of a swift sporting launch in which the thieves are supposed to have escaped from New Westminster. It was the theory of the detectives who pursued the bank robbers that the actual work was done by John McNamara, Charles Dean and Addison. The two former are in prison awaiting trial; Addison has never been found. All the other arrests in various parts of the country in connection with the robbery are said to have been of men who were handling the stolen bills.

More Indian Land Will Be Sold Soon

WINNEBAGO, Neb., Sept. 27.—(Special.)—Notice has been posted of the sale of 1,100 acres of land on the Omaha and Winnebago Indian reservations in Thurston county, Nebraska, on November 25, at 2:45 p. m., at the Winnebago agency offices at Winnebago.

This sale is different from any that have been held in the past as all the land will be sold at auction to the highest bidder, the only requirements being that the regulations governing the sale shall be complied with.

There are two classes of land to be sold. The lands sold for cash and the lands sold on deferred payment. The cash sale lands comprise some 900 acres of good land and will be sold under the following terms: Each successful bidder must deposit with his bid 10 per cent of the amount bid as a guaranty of good faith. When the sale is signed by the Indian, he, the bidder, will be required to pay the balance of the amount bid.

The lands under the deferred payment are sold for a certain amount down and a liberal time on the balance which is divided into two equal payments. On this land the bidder is required to deposit his 10 per cent of the amount bid and when the Indian signs, he is to pay the remainder of the stated amount that is to be paid down. He then has a period of time in which to meet the two remaining payments. Under the deferred payment there are some 300 acres to be sold and this plan offers to the man of limited means an opportunity to secure a good farm if he cannot meet the demand of the cash plan.

KUGEL TALKS CLEAN STREETS

Commissioner Addresses Retail Trade Committee of Club.

MERCHANTS MUCH AT FAULT

Do Not Use Enough Care in Sweeping Rubbish on the Streets—Alyers Are Also in Need of More Attention.

Some of the troubles met with in endeavoring to keep Omaha streets clean were outlined to the members of the retail trade committee of the Commercial club at the weekly meeting of that body by Commissioner A. C. Kugel.

The speaker told the committee that one of the greatest forces met with in attempting to keep the streets in good condition is the negligence or indifference of the retail merchants in the downtown district.

"There is an ordinance," said he, "which make it imperative that the merchants sweep their sidewalks before 8 o'clock in the morning. Not all of them do this, and I am going to make arrangements to enforce the ordinance."

"Some merchants whose stores have a long frontage on the street could expedite street cleaning by sweeping the dirt from their walks into a pile and the pile into the gutter. Instead of this most of them sweep the dirt from the walks into the gutter, littering papers, pieces of boxes, glass and other debris along the gutter, which necessitates the cleaners going the full length of the street in cleaning it."

"It is my intention as soon as the street cleaning department can get enough funds, to hire a motorcycle policeman or
