SPIELER GETS TALKATIVE WITH "COPPER" IN AUDIENCE

Business was good Saturday on the King's Highway for "Doc" Dana, a "spieler" for one of the Midway shows, and on the strength of a pocket full of Nebraska dollars earned by the sturdiness of his melo voice, he proceeded to load up on bootleg whisky, last night. At 9 o'clock the poison had taken effect and the "spieler" played the leading role in an entertainment in the downtown district.

With great glee he invited everyone within hearing to step up and see the greatest aggregation of pink elephants and reptiles ever gathered under one canvas, but unfortunately his generosity cost his freedom, for Patrolman Wilson was one of the first to accept the invitation. Dana was charged with being drunk and disorderly.

BOSS FLINN IS BIG CONTRIBUTOR TO THE PROGRESSIVE CAUSE

had been sent by J. G. Splain without his authority. "Why was this telegram written in cipher?" asked Senator Pomerene. "I don't know. That may have been a way of shortening labor," answered Flinn.

Splain sees Archbold. Finally Flinn was excused and J. G. Splain of Pittsburgh, following him on the witness stand, said that after Senator Quay's death he conceived the idea that he might be of some service to Mr. Flinn.

He said he went to New York June 7, 1904, and asked Mr. Archbold to use what influence the Standard Oil could in behalf of Mr. Flinn. "Mr. Archbold gave me to understand that he did not think he was in a position to do anything for Mr. Flinn."

Mr. Splain was "pretty sure" he signed the telegram sent to Mr. Archbold and which bore the signature of William Flinn. He also thought he received the cipher telegram from Archbold to "William Flinn" expressing disappointment that the "telephone had worked so badly."

"Have you any distinct recollection either that you signed these telegrams or authorized them to be signed?" demanded Mr. Pomerene. "I would say yes," said Splain.

Mr. Splain said he "remembered distinctly" going to New York, seeing Mr. Archbold and talking with him. "I suppose I talked with Mr. Flinn," he said. "He knew I was going to do everything I could to help him."

Knox and Cassatt. J. Berner Clark of Washington, Pa., was the next witness. He said Mr. Flinn had asked him to go to Pittsburgh to talk with Mr. Penrose regarding conditions in western Pennsylvania. He said he saw Penrose and talked about Senator Oliver. The next day, he said, Senator Penrose told him "they had had a conference and concluded to ask the governor to appoint Mr. Knox."

"I asked him something about Flinn and he said Mr. Cassatt of the Pennsylvania Railroad company and the big interests in the eastern part of Pennsylvania would not support Flinn because he had been irregular in politics," said Mr. Clark. "Did you see Mr. Durham there about that time?"

"No, sir; that's the whole story."

Crane Contributes to Two Funds. E. H. Hooker, treasurer of the progressive party, today told the Clapp committee investigating campaign funds that Charles R. Crane of Chicago had contributed $70,000 to Senator La Follette's campaign fund and $70,000 to Governor Wilson's fund prior to the Baltimore convention, practically at the same time.

William Flinn of Pittsburgh testified that he had personally contributed 90 percent of the money for Colonel Roosevelt's primary campaign fund in Pennsylvania. He gave $102,000 to the fund, of which $28,000 was spent in Pittsburgh.

Mr. Flinn declared he would produce to the committee, J. G. Splain, a man who without his authority had signed Flinn's name to a telegram to the Standard Oil company, asking support for a seat in the senate. This was one of the telegrams produced by Senator Penrose when he made his sensational charges against Flinn.

Hooker Tells of Contributions. Mr. Hooker appeared first and said he had acted informally as national treasurer of the Roosevelt organization in the pre-convention campaign. He placed in evidence a statement of all receipts and expenditures in the Roosevelt primary in New York City.

"The secretary of state of New York," said Mr. Hooker, "said this was the most complete statement ever filed by a political committee."

The statement was made public at the time it was filed. It showed that $59,125.35 had been contributed and $22,065.52 spent in the primary campaign in New York. The balance, $37,059.83, was turned over to the national primary campaign fund.

Mr. Hooker also filed a statement of receipts and expenditures of the national primary campaign conducted by Senator Dixon.

Senator Paynter took the statement and announced that George W. Perkins was shown to have contributed $15,000 to the New York campaign and $22,500 to the national campaign, and Frank A. Munsey "about the same."

"How many votes do you get in the New York primaries?" asked Senator Pomerene. "About 30,000—as many as Taft got," said Hooker, "but they were not counted."

About Two Dollars a Vote. Senator Pomerene observed that the primary expenditure was at the rate of "of about $2 a vote."

Mr. Hooker vigorously resented any inference that any money was expended in an improper way. "I believe that this national primary campaign was the most economical ever conducted," said he. "More economical than any, except the Taft primary campaign in New York this fall."

The statement filed by Mr. Hooker, covering the national expenses of the Roosevelt primary campaign, showed a total of $142,999.62 in the fight preceding the Chicago convention. The greatest expenditure by the national organization was in Massachusetts, to which $53,000 was sent for the primary fight.

The Hooker statement showed total receipts of $143,999.62 and total expenditures of $141,657.64 for all national primary campaign expenses up to September 7, 1912.

The list of important contributors follows: Frank A. Munsey, $19,000; George W. Perkins, $22,500; W. Emlen Roosevelt, $10,000; D. R. Hanna, $25,000; H. L. Stoddard, $4,000; Alexander S. Cochran, $5,000; W. Barbour, $7,500; Charles S. Bird, $5,500; Oscar L. Strauss, $600; E. D. Brandegee, $1,000; Hamilton Fish, $1,000; Frederick Whittieridge, $1,000; Herman Frasch, $10,000; Frank B. Keech, $1,000; J. D. Larkin, $1,000; Olivia M. Cutting, $2,000; Dr. Albert Shaw, $3,000; Everett Colby, $150; Douglas Robinson, $5,000; E. H. Hooker and Blanche Ferry Hooker, $5,000; Roosevelt committee of the city of New York, $6,519.83.

Science Understands the Stomach

Treating Indigestion with Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is an Exact Science. They Give Quick Relief.

Medical men have learned more about the stomach than perhaps any other vital organ. They have discovered why the stomach rebels at certain conditions—what causes the formation of gases—what causes flatulency, heartburn, dyspepsia, burning sensation, brash, and all the other disorders of the stomach.

They have gone further. They have found remedies for all these afflictions, these results of improper digestion. They have learned that pepsin, hydrochloric acid and fruit salts are powerful digestants that relieve quickly and surely all the troubles to which the stomach is subject. They have discovered that one grain of these properties will digest 3,000 grains of food.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are not a medicine. They are a scientific compound that supplies the stomach with the digestive agents which it is itself unable to provide. When your stomach is sick and not working right—when it fails to give out enough of the digestive juices to properly take care of the food you eat, these tablets will make up the deficiency. You will have no indigestion. Your food will digest thoroughly. You never can tell just when your stomach is going back on you. It gives no warning. If you eat a big meal, if you eat hurriedly, take one of these little tablets. You will avoid a lot of pain and misery.

Some of the most prominent men carry these tablets in their vest pockets when they attend banquets, etc., and never fail to take them.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold by all druggists, at 50c a box.—Advertisement.

BRING SENTIMENT TO FOCUS

Omaha Commercial Club Will Join National Federation.

TREFZ IS EXCITING INTEREST

Field Secretary is in the West for the Purpose of Forming an Association of Nation-Wide Importance.

The Omaha Commercial club will probably affiliate with the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. The executive committee at a luncheon Tuesday heard Edward F. Trefz, field secretary of the national association of commercial clubs, who is traveling through the west to get the commercial clubs and other business organizations interested in the federation.

The executive committee is enthusiastic about the advantages of affiliating with this national organization.

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States is a new organization, just perfected in April at a meeting in Chicago, invitations for which were sent out by President Taft, at the suggestion of the secretary of the Department of Commerce and Labor. It is a federation of commercial clubs and trade organizations and other business organizations, for the purpose of getting the business men of the country together so that they may learn each other's purposes and desires. It is to bring the sentiment of the business men to a focus where the president and congress can get at something definite in regard to what are the needs and requirements of modern American business.

Club is Forming Rapidly.

The organization now has 147 organizations in its membership. This embodies 300,000 members. Other commercial clubs and trade associations are rapidly affiliating. Lincoln affiliated when Mr. Trefz was there recently. The National Wholesale Grocers' association and the American Bankers' association are among the organizations that have affiliated. The latter alone carried with it 12,000 members. The executive committee of the Omaha Commercial club will take up the matter of affiliating at the next meeting.

Letters of a Slim - Made Wo. an to Her Fat Sister

First Letter On the Fallacy of "Training Down" to a Comfortable Size. Dear Slim—If you could see me now you'd surely wonder what witchery had wrought the transformation—for you wouldn't recognize your Amazon sister in the gracefully molded figure sitting here.

Yes, I have a surprise for you—that huge mountain of fat you once knew as sister is no more—I'm as trim a body now as you'd meet in a day's walk. And the change from fat to just plump was so easy, and gradual, and natural, and perfectly harmless, that I didn't realize it was taking place.

You remember that horrible nightmare that confronted me every day—the physician called it "exercises"—just as I look back on it now I can call it nothing but torture. Lying flat on my back and trying to kick holes into the ceiling with my feet. Attempting to stand on my hands on a chair when nothing less than a derrick would lift my bulk into the air. Standing with stiff knees and trying to touch my toes with my fingers—when I couldn't even see them. And other things as ridiculous. "Exercises!"

I just quit it all. A few months ago I got a mixture of 1/2 ounce Marmola powder, 1/2 ounce Cascaro Aromatic, 3/4 ounce Peppermint Water at the drug store, took a teaspoonful after meals and at bedtime—took it persistently and faithfully—and now, slim, I really have a beautiful figure, smooth skin, firm flesh and the digestion of an ostrich. It's simply wonderful. —Advertisement. Lovingly, BETTY.
