But There's Nothing Like Fine Feathers, Though Vain, for Blue Ribbons

Single Comb Brown Leghorns

After many years of breeding I now have one of the greatest laying strains in existence, and they have proven exhibition qualities-they have been winning the blue ribbons wherever shown.
I have a limited number of cockerels for sale. Eggs for hatehing in season. Don't fail to see my exhibit at the Exposition, at the great United Fanciers' Exposition

I have a splendid collection of utility females on exhibition--one of the best I have every shown. Because I do not wish to move these and be bothered with the work incident to clearing out the exhibition, I have placed particularly low prices on this collection. See these birds and learn what you can get for extremely low prices

Peerless Strain S. C. White Leghorns

These probably are the world's best layers. For fifteen years I have selected the most vigorous rapid growing chicks for breeders. My system of using for breeders only birds that show rapid development and vigor when chicks has developed in "Peerless" birds vitality rarely equaled, even by the best barnyard fowls.

Almost anyone can make money with "Peerless" birds. You should see my stock. We certainly can do business after you examine the birds I possess.

Attend the great exposition and see my birds and talk to me about the "world's best layers." If you cannot see me in person, write for a catalogue.
