LODGE WOMEN ON POLICIES

Degree of Honor Considers Reducing Age Limit.

MANY ARE ATTENDING SESSION

Secretary Marshall Declares that Apple Display This Year Will Be One of Best Horticultural Society Ever Made.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Oct. 3.—(Special.)—The grand lodge of the degree of honor which is holding its sessions in the senate chamber at the capitol building in this city is especially well attended. A great deal of interest was centered in some important changes which it was thought necessary to make. Among the most important of these was the changing of the age limit.

The resolution placing the age limit at 40 years that members could receive a $2,000 beneficiary certificate was lost by a large majority, its provisions being that persons accepted by the organization at the age of 40 years or over should not be permitted to take out more than $1,000. The age limit for a $2,000 certificate is placed at 45 years.

Yesterday's program concluded with a reception held at the senate chamber which was altogether too small to hold the crowd. Colonel Pession of the governor's official family delivered the address of welcome, taking the place of Governor Aldrich who was unable to be present. Mrs. Mayme Cleaver, grand chief responded in behalf of the order and Mrs. Frances B. Olson of St. Paul, Minn., supreme grand chief, spoke in behalf of the grand lodge. Grand Master Workman Walling of the Ancient Order of United Workmen delivered the principal address of the evening.

The first ballot for the election of officers was taken before noon, but it was announced at 3 o'clock that no result had been obtained so far as the committee counting the votes could give out.

There is a move on foot to tear loose from the grand or sovereign lodge and organize a Nebraska jurisdiction. It is thought by many that the organization in Nebraska could be made much stronger by such a move.

DOANE IS READY FOR THE COTNER GAME FRIDAY

CRETE, Neb., Oct. 3.—(Special.)—Coach Johnson has in the last three weeks whipped together as fast a team of grid-iron warriors as has ever been seen on the Doane field so early in the season, and the feeling is prevalent that when they go up against the Cotner devotees of the game that they will be able to easily vanquish them. The backfield, which will do most of the work Friday, consists of Goble, Harris and Kretzinger, and all three are playing stellar ball. Krebs will hold down quarter and the line will be the same it has been for the last two weeks, with the exception of Wishart, who is now playing right guard. The line as it now stands averages all most 170 pounds per man, and is at the same time fast and aggressive.

Wednesday evening occurred the last scrimmage before the game and the victory tore off seven touchdowns, while the best scrubs could do was to get one. Koester, the speedy sub-half, while play-

MR. WILSON PAYING FOR HOMES SHOULD HAVE PROVIDED FOR THEIR WIVES.

Wilson and Brown lived in the same little city. Both were heads of families, and at about the same age both bought homes. To buy the homes each had to borrow money.

At the First Savings Bank where Wilson got his $4,000, the cashier asked if Wilson had life insurance as a part of the security. He said, "If you should die before this debt is paid I surely wouldn't ruin the job of turning your family out to satisfy the bank's claim. Assign to the bank a life insurance policy for $4,000 as additional collateral and I won't worry." Wilson did this, taking out a term policy for the amount.

At the City Savings Bank, Brown was required only to mortgage the home he bought to secure his debt to the bank. In the course of the following winter both Wilson and Brown fell victims to typhoid. The widows were left with two homes and two businesses. The businesses realized little. The First Savings Bank's claim on the City Savings Bank—a perfectly just claim, the sort that must be settled if a bank is to remain solvent. But in one case the bank had wisely forestalled disaster and avoided hard words for itself.
