New York Has Batting Strength in the Infield to Balance the Heavy Work og Boston's Outfield.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.-If the work of the base ball mathematicians has not been in vain the batting and fielding averages of the Giants and Red Sox indicate a closer contest for the world's championship than the partisan supporters of either club are willing to concede.

Although the major league seasons have not quite come to their official close, a comparison of the total records for the two pennant winning clubs, compiled from unofficial figures, is up to man in fielding.
