Dresher Brothers Doing Most of the "Critical" Cleaning Work Because Patron Feels Himself Safe.

Dresher Brothers, the popular cleaners and dyers at 2211-2213 Farnam street, were yesterday in receipt of the largest, finest and costliest array of ladies' ball gowns and gentlemen's full dress suits ever stored beneath a single Omaha roof in a single day.

All this happened simply because of the brilliant Ak-Sar-Ben ball of the night before. The crush, only natural at an affair as extensive as the Ak-Sar-Ben ball, would naturally play havoc with dainty, filmy gowns, etc., and fair owners of costumes worth thousands upon thousands of dollars were, of course, anxious to have their finery again placed into the pink of condition.

Nine out of ten of the exquisite creations worn at Omaha's most spectacular event were left at the Dresher establishment simply because their owners were assured of Dresher Brothers' responsibility and that no concern in America is better fitted to clean, press or otherwise restore a costly gown.

This brings to mind a new plan just originated by Dresher Brothers—an insurance feature that comes right into line when costly gowns and other items are concerned. Send in your exquisite frock, suit of clothes, or even your costly Oriental rug, and it will be insured without expense to you from the time it leaves your home via the Dresher wagon to the time it is again returned to you.

Dresher Bros., under their new insurance plan, will properly reimburse you for any fine garment, etc., that may be destroyed by fire or lost through theft or burglary while being cleaned, pressed, dyed, repaired or while going to or from in their wagons. Leave any garment there, knowing that you will be paid its actual value if lost or destroyed, just as though the garment were insured in your own home.

Then again, if you wish to have Dresher's clean or otherwise rejuvenate some extra fine gown, suit, rug or other item, that you prize above the ordinary, you may have only to pay a slight extra fee to have the piece insured for any amount stated by you at the time the piece is left here.

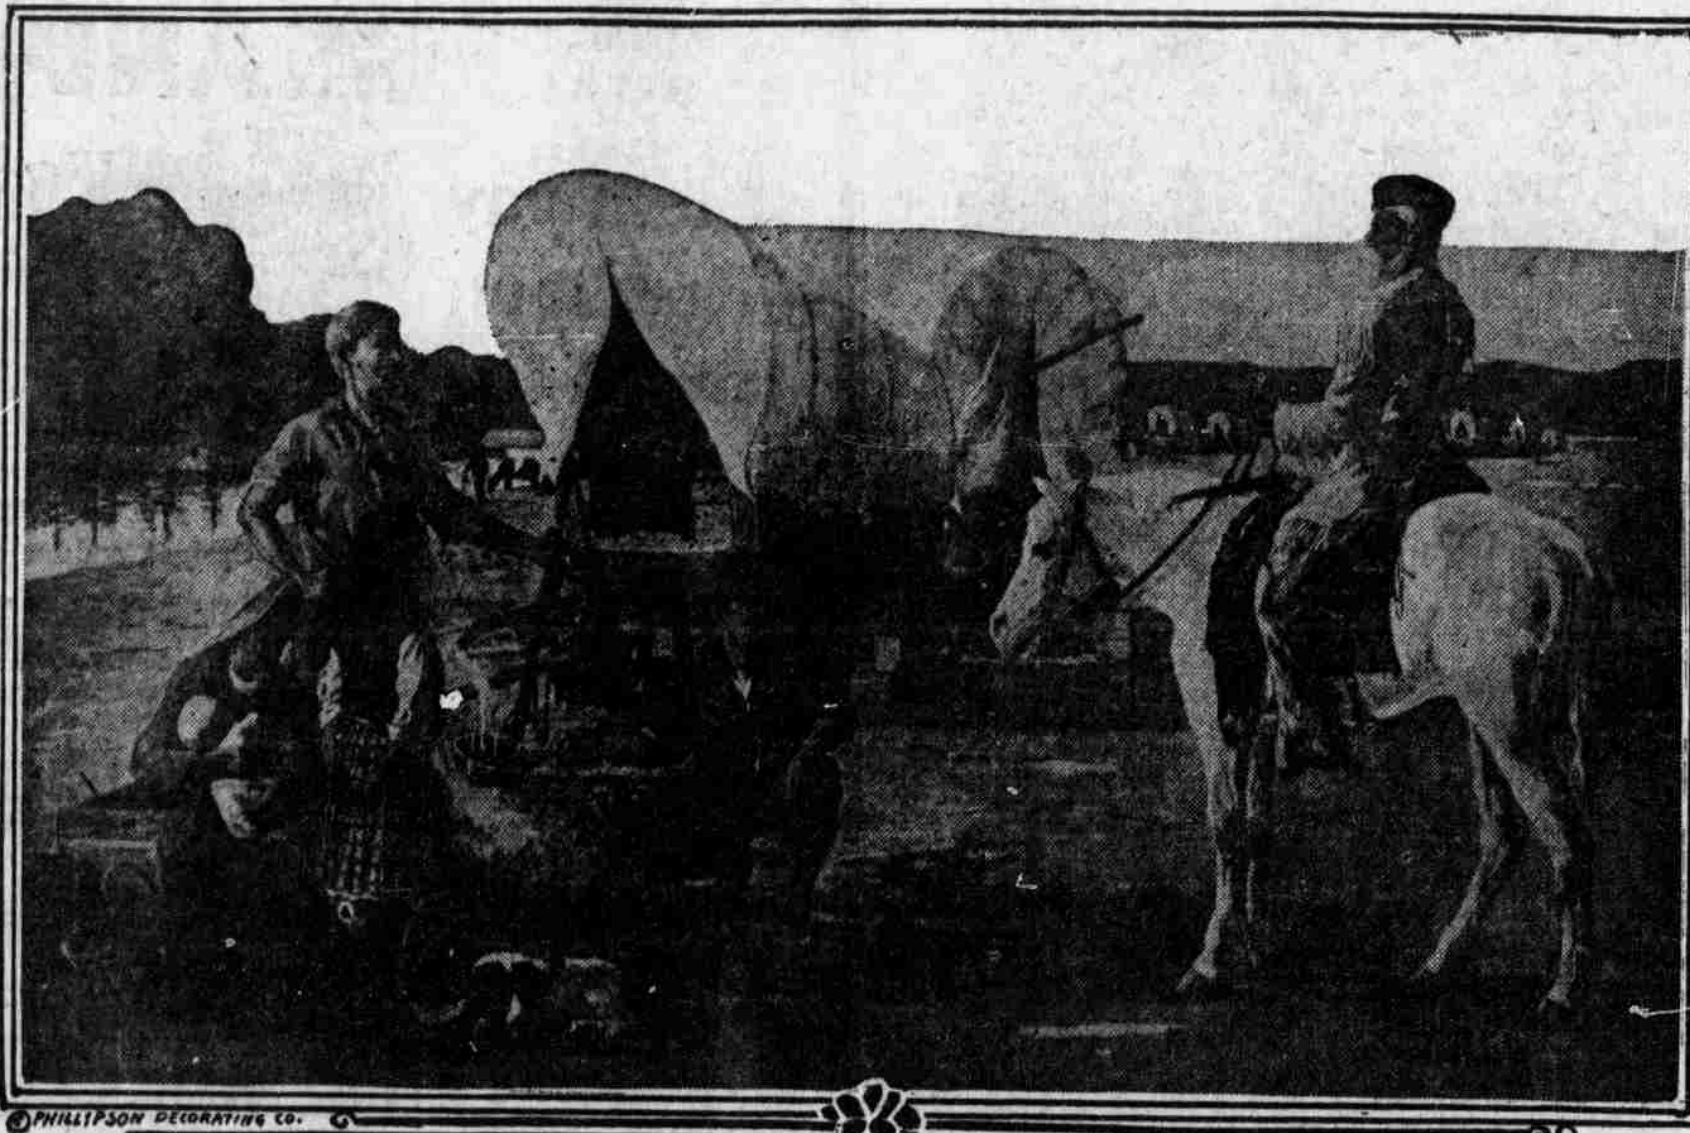

By this later plan of paying a trifling fee you may set your own valuation on any article at the time you leave it, and Dresher Bros. will pay you the full stated amount in case of loss by fire, burglary or theft. Stop and realize the number of safeguards thrown around your work at Dresher Bros' plant and you will have immediate reason to send all of your winter clothes here for a complete restoration.

Always remember that Dresher Bros. not only clean and dye clothes, but repair or even alter them to conform with any style of the moment. Dresher Bros' Rug Cleaning Dept. is also worth your consideration, for it is turning out the finest work of any western establishment.

Reach Dresher's at their plant at 2211 and 2213 Farnam street, at Dresher The Tailors, 1515 Farnam street, or at their branch at the Pompeian Room of the Brandeis Stores. Dresher's pay express one way on out of town shipments amounting to $5 or over.

Mural Panel for the Court House Dome

Story of the transformation of the western wilderness, inhabited only by the Indian, the buffalo, the rattlesnake, and the prairie dog, into the modern west of culture and refinement and industry graphically told in a series of mural paintings now being installed in the dome of the new million dollar Douglas county building. The mural paintings are the work of Will Rau of New York City and Sullivan county, New York, known as "the farmer painter."

Though he is but 37 years old, Mr. Rau has achieved success. The Douglas county commissioners are well satisfied with the paintings, which have arrived and are being installed by Mr. Rau and E. Phillipson of Phillipson & Co., New York City. Phillipson & Co. has the contract for the murals.

The series consists of four large murals showing living figures and four landscapes, the eight merging together to form one huge changing panorama. The first mural discloses an Indian camp. The redskins in front of their teepees see over the hills in the distance the approach of the white men. There follows a prairie landscape with a herd of buffalo in the middle distance. This landscape was painted by Mr. Rau from an actual scene on the farm of John Latenser, county building architect, the buffalo being the only element of the picture that was not painted from life by the artist.

The following picture shows the arrival of the white man, the travelers being at rest in the evening. The landscape succeeding depicts the next step in civilization, the clearing of the land for agricultural pursuits. The fifth picture shows the farmers at work tilling the soil. In the distance are seen the log cabins of the farmers, where once the only dwellings were Indian teepees. Again appears a landscape with its fields of bearded grain awaiting the reaper's scythe. The seventh view is that of the harvest field, the harvesters busy at their huge task. Eighth and last appears a landscape which shows in the distance the modern city of Omaha as seen by the artist from Council Bluffs. This with the first landscape of the buffalo wallow on the prairie shows the wondrous change the years have wrought in the west of which Omaha and Douglas county now are in the heart.

Burgess is Working for Dr. Spaulding for the School Board

Now there are rumors of disastrous happenings in the Board of Education, for J. H. Burgess, deposed secretary, has gone out with his hatchet in his hand and is trailing one Edmund L. Leavenworth, new member, elected by the board itself when W. T. Bourke of the Eighth ward resigned upon the promise that Leavenworth would be placed in the vacancy and by Leavenworth's vote Burgess would be ousted.

Burgess is carrying the banner of Dr. S. K. Spaulding, erstwhile member of the Board of Education and at one time president, and as Mr. Leavenworth is none too popular with his constituents it is likely Spaulding will be elected November 4, and that his election will mean the defeat of President E. Holovitchner for re-election. Dr. Holovitchner became president when C. R. Courtney resigned, being then vice president, and was instrumental in putting Burgess out.

The Board of Education will have nearly $1,000,000 to spend next year, and none of the present members is of the opinion that the existing board cannot spend it. They have laid deep plans to improve and extend and modify the present educational system, to wipe out a deficit of $30,000 and go out of office or continue in office in the year 1913-1914 with a fat surplus.

Burgess walked out of office quietly, but later made threats of revenge. Nothing has been heard of him until this week, when with a spurge he began canvassing the Eighth ward, knocking young Leavenworth and boosting Dr. Spaulding.

Holovitchner's friends on the board think it is unfair. The anti-Holovitchner crowd are sitting tight. If Spaulding wins a radical reorganization of the officers of the Board of Education may result. If Leavenworth pulls through the board will pursue the even tenor of its present way.

Russian Arrested Singing Love Songs

Victor Mchordobadze, a Russian rider employed by the Irwin wild west show, was arrested last night charged with endeavoring to become acquainted with Miss Tillie Nelson at 224 South Sixteenth street without the usual formalities.

Miss Nelson said the man followed her from the end of the Sixteenth street viaduct to her home, and after she had gone in the house set out on the gate post singing love songs. He denied the charges, and said he was acquainted with many girls in the city, and would not think of insulting a woman on the street.

SUPERINTENDENT GRAFF DEFENDS VERNACULAR

Superintendent Graff, speaking to 500 school teachers at the Young Women's Christian association auditorium yesterday afternoon, urged observance of the birthday of James Whitcomb Riley with short programs in the schools Monday afternoon, for the reason that Riley has written more understandingly of children than any other poet.

Superintendent Graff read Riley's defense of writing in dialect, in which he held that it was the most human and effective manner of reaching the hearts of the people.

"It may seem hard to reconcile the fact that in the morning we teach the rules of grammar and then in the afternoon have the children recite poetry that violates every rule of grammar." But the superintendent defended the course with Riley's own words.

"Too much convention attempts to make the boy conform to the unnatural bow of the book; too great restriction of his liberty and the scorn of his 'vulgar naturalness' will not enter into the observance of Riley day Monday if the idea of Superintendent Graff is carried out.

Bryan Denounces the Patriotic Trio

WICHITA, Kan., Oct. 5.—J. P. Morgan, the financier, came in for scathing denunciation in William J. Bryan's trip across central Kansas today. From Lindborg, where he began the day, to Wichita, where he ended tonight, Mr. Bryan kept up a steady attack upon Mr. Morgan and characterized him as "Patriot No. 1."

In all the Nebraska delivered ten speeches. "Perkins is Patriot No. 1," said Mr. Bryan in his address at Lindborg. "Perkins is now neglecting his business to elect a president who will look after the trust magnates' children. I assign second place to Mr. Morgan, the distinguished financier, who will, therefore, enter the cell of the public memory as Patriot No. 2."

"Mr. Morgan declares he gives to campaigns purely out of regard for the public welfare. He does not give to democratic campaign funds simply because he regards democratic success as a menace to the country's welfare. It will shame the selfish and sordid to look upon this self-carved statue standing out against the sky—Morgan, the unselfish, the disinterested, the patriotic citizen, who devotes all his spare time to purchasing the election of proper presidential candidates. How could Perkins have the heart to dissolve partnership with him? Has he really done so?"

At Wellington Mr. Bryan turned to Colonel Roosevelt's relations with Mr. Morgan. "Morgan gave five times as much for Roosevelt's campaign as for Taft's," said Mr. Bryan. "This showing which he considered the most useful to his interests."

Harding Will Speak at Lyric Theater Monday Evening

The Lyric theater building has been engaged for the meeting at which Warren Harding of Ohio is to deliver an address in the interest of the candidacy of President Taft Monday evening at 8 o'clock. Mr. Harding is a speaker of national reputation, and the republican state committee is making arrangements for a big meeting at this time. Dr. J. Everest Cathell, who has been speaking throughout the state for several days, and who knows of the work of Mr. Harding, says: "He is a fellow who has been on the firing line of politics for some years and is, without question, the most distinguished young man in political life of Ohio today."

An attempt will be made for a meeting at which Mr. Harding may address a South Omaha audience in the afternoon. John L. Webster will preside at the meeting at the Lyric Monday night, the Gate City Quartet will sing and a band will render a few selections.

Taft Elector Names Come in Promptly

Up to last night the republican state committee had in round numbers 6,000 signatures to the petition for Taft electors which is to be filed with the secretary of state.

The petitions represent all the counties in the First, Second, Third and Fourth congressional districts. Out of the ninety-two counties only ten were yet to be heard from last night. The committee considers this especially good as the petitions were sent out not more than eight days ago and have been coming in rapidly. Considering the time required for the mail to reach certain parts of the state and to be returned from those parts to Omaha, many of these petitions were in the hands of those circulating them, not more than a day and a half or two days.

From the Fifth district petitions are in from all but three counties. Of the thirty-six in the big Sixth district, all but seven have sent in their petitions. The requirements of the law with regard to the number of signers and the number of counties represented are all well complied with.

WOMEN DEMOS FORM LEAGUE

Organize After Listening to Short Address by Woodrow Wilson.

MRS. M'KELVY IS PRESIDENT

Other Officers Elected—Mrs. W. J. Bryan and Miss Lathrop Address the Women After Organization is Perfected.

Following a short talk by Governor Wilson and a brief hand-shaking at the Paxton hotel, the Omaha Women's Democratic league and a few feminine democrats from the state perfected the organization of a state league to work for Wilson's election. Luncheon at the hotel followed the business meeting. About 100 were present.

Mrs. R. E. McKelvy, Omaha, was elected president; Mrs. A. C. Shallenberger, Alna, first vice president; Mrs. Charles A. Tracy, Benson, second vice president; Mrs. Cuthbert Vincent, Omaha, secretary; Miss Edith A. Lathrop, Clay Center, treasurer. Twenty-three vice presidents, representing different counties and including Mrs. Gilbert Hitchcock, Mrs. James C. Dahlman and Mrs. Harvey Newbranch of Omaha and Mrs. William Jennings Bryan and Mrs. Richard Metcalfe of Lincoln, were chosen.

Mrs. Bryan told of the work being done by the National Women's Democratic league. Miss Lathrop, who is serving her third term as Clay county's superintendent of schools, after stating that she is not a suffragette or a politician, said that women should vote, that they are going to and ought to get ready for it by joining the Women's Democratic league; and then urged the candidacy of R. D. Clark of Harvard for state superintendent of schools, who, she said, is "as good as he is good-looking."

Those in charge of the meeting were Mrs. Harvey Newbranch, chairman reception committee; Mrs. Cuthbert Vincent, chairman badge committee, and Mrs. Earl Stanfield, chairman luncheon committee.

STATE MARKS LOWERED AT IMPLEMENT SHOW AUTO MEET

PEORIA, Ill., Oct. 5.—Two state records and three track automobile records were broken before a large crowd of spectators at the National Implement show here this afternoon. Louis Disbrow, in a Simplex Zip in a race against time, completed the mile course in 6:33, setting up a new state record for a one-mile dirt track. In the same car Disbrow covered five miles in 4:45, setting another state record; the previous record being 4:46, made in Chicago. In the windup Disbrow covered two miles in 1:09. In a five-mile race between "Wild Bill" Endicott's Tornado and Madden's Interstate, Endicott on the last lap forged ahead of Madden, covering the five miles in 4:59. Endicott also took first in the ten-mile race, covering the distance in 9:40.
