HOTEL MEN ON THE WARPATH

Object to Huge New Dining Room of the Commercial Club.

THEY SAY CATERING IS UNFAIR

Have Asked for a Conference with the Directors of the Club, When They Will State Their Grievances.

Hotel men have a grievance against the Commercial club because of the installation in the new club rooms in the Woodmen of the World building of a huge dining room. A delegation of the hotel keepers have asked for a conference with the officers of the club in which their grievance will be set forth. The hotel men assert that the dining facilities of the club are injurious to their own business and will ask that the club abandon it or curb it. They assert that the competition is unfair. The conference between the committee from the Hotel Men's association and the Commercial club will be held at the instigation of the club, October 8.

Rome Miller Presents Views.

Rome Miller, as chairman of the hotel men's committee, will give the hotel viewpoint of the alleged unfairness in diverting public business from its "proper" channels—the hotels and restaurants. The hotel men say they anticipate the Commercial club in its new quarters will engage extensively in the catering business, giving public banquets and daily dinners. They will ask some curbing of the competition.

Another hotel will be added to Omaha's hostelry by December 15. Carpenters and designers are at work in the old Pacific Express building at Fourteenth and Harney streets to make it into a modern hotel of seventy rooms, with baths, barber shop, bar and dining rooms. Charles Sorenson has leased the building for ten years. S. Rasch is in charge of the remodeling of the structure and it will be made over into practically a new building. The hotel will front thirty-three feet on Harney street and 132 feet on Fourteenth street. The building is owned by E. M. F. Leffange. It is six stories high with a basement.

HATHAWAY WRITES AND FILES HIS OWN ANSWER

J. S. Hathaway is still trying to defend himself against the suit of Henry Strosser without the assistance of a lawyer. He wrote and filed his own answer to Strosser's suit. Several months ago Strosser sued Hathaway for $50,000 damages for alleged slander. Some weeks after the suit was filed Hathaway presented himself before Robert Smith, clerk of the district court, saying he wanted to answer Strosser's suit. He was told he must file a written answer. Yesterday he filed it. In the answer he denies all Strosser's charges.

Lost Youth Has Romp With Policemen at Headquarters

"Hello, papa," exclaimed 3-year-old Lee Brown, who had wandered away from home, to Captain Dempsey as he entered the police station accompanied by Motorcycle Officer Emery. Rushing up to the captain the little lad held out his arms. As he was gathered up in the arms of the captain he kissed him with great seriousness on the nose. Lee held fast away over the officers until his father, L. Brown of 1916 Chicago street, came to the station and took him home. He wandered into the cell room, shook hands with all the prisoners and wanted to kiss them all, but was prevented from doing so by the bars of the cells. Hans Nielsen, humane officer, whose occupation is to be kind, took Lee on his back and raced up and down the corridors of the jail to the great amusement of the young rider. He took great delight in trying to pull the gray hairs out of Hans' budding mustache, and consequently mussed it up considerably after Hans had spent a trying hour before reporting for work in grooming it. Lee was a very interested onlooker when a prisoner, charged with drunkenness, was being searched. After the victim had been carried away to the cell room the youngster walked up to the desk and stretching out his arms, signified that he would also like to be relieved of his valuables. When Patrol Driver Pete Dillon refused to grant his request he grabbed his trousers and tried to nip a piece of flesh out of Pete's leg with his small teeth. When he picked up an unloaded revolver and tried to push his finger into the barrel his reign at the station immediately ceased. He was hustled up to the matron's department where he "chinned" with the prisoners of the gentler sex until his male parent took him home.

Confesses Stealing $75,000 While Clerk of Royal Artillery

OAKLAND, Cal., Oct. 7.—Robert Holt, alias Claxton, surrendered to the Oakland police tonight and confessed that he had stolen $75,000 from the Australian government while employed as a clerk with the Royal Australian artillery at Sydney, N. S. W. Holt said he took $25,000 from a safe and later stole and cashed a draft for $50,000. He asserted that the thefts were committed late last February, soon after he became attached to battery No. 1, of the Royal artillery. The first theft, he said, was not traced to him, and it was only a few days later that he found an opportunity to steal the draft, to which, he said, he forged the name of a quartermaster. He sailed for San Francisco early in March. The arrival of Rose Miller, a woman whom Holt had known in Sydney, was responsible for his surrender, according to Strosser's suit.

Two More Deaths at Aviation Meet

BERLIN, Oct. 7.—Aviation week at Johannisthal was concluded today after two more deaths had been added to the long list of fatalities among European aviators during the last two months. An aeroplane carrying Ernst Allig and a mechanic suddenly fell from a height of 800 feet when a wing collapsed. The mechanic was thrown from the machine at a height of 50 feet and his body landed on the ground clear of the wreckage. Allig fell with the monoplane and was instantly killed. The accident was witnessed by a big assembly. Allig qualified as an aviator last May. ROCHESTER, N. Y., Oct. 7.—Mothosa, Kondo, a Japanese aviator aged 27 years, was killed today near Savona. The aeroplane that he was trying out struck the derick of a large windmill and the aviator fell about forty feet, fracturing his skull. Kondo came from San Diego, Cal.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Agift of $150,000 by Mrs. Russell Sage in behalf of the birds of North America was announced today. Mrs. Sage has spent approximately this sum in the purchase of Marsh Island, southwest of New Orleans, with the intention of dedicating it in perpetuity as a refuge for wild birds. To this end she will place its control in whatever hands will best accomplish her object, either the government or the state of Louisiana or some association organized for the purpose. It is approximately 75,000 acres in area.

How She Acquired "Feminine Charm"

A nicely-dressed woman sat beside me in the train. Everyone stared at her. I couldn't help doing the same. It was not her beauty of feature that held our eyes, nor her costume. But there was something about her face and expression—I risked it and asked: "Would you mind telling me how you keep your complexion so dazzlingly pure? Don't think me impertinent, but you seem over 30, yet haven't a line in your face, and your cheeks are quite peach-like. How do you do it?" Laughingly she said: "That's easy; I remove my skin. Sounds shocking, doesn't it? But listen. Instead of cosmetics I use only pure mercolized wax, procurable at any druggist's. I apply this nightly, like cold cream, washing it off mornings. This gently absorbs the soiled, weather-beaten film-skin, without pain or discomfort, thus revealing the fresh, clear under-skin. Every woman has a beautiful complexion underneath, you know. Then, instead of dissolving powdered cosmetics (one ounce) in one-half pint witch-hazel—a harmless astringent which tones the skin wonderfully. Very simple, isn't it?" I thought so. I'm now trying her plan, and like it immensely.—Millicent Brown in The Story Teller.—Advertisement.

SALTER WANTS HYDRANTS

Water Commissioner Says Commission Should Pay for Them.

COUNCIL TAKES OTHER STAND

Says It Pays the Water Board One Hundred Thousand a Year and This Should Insure Sufficient Fire Hydrants.

Fire Chief Salter and Commissioner Withnell of the department of fire protection and water supply, will ask the Water board to install additional fire hydrants in several parts of the city, the present number being deemed insufficient to provide adequate protection to property in case of fire. This action was advised by the council when the chief of the fire department asked that hydrants be installed on Ninth street near Jones before the new pavement now being placed there is completed. Commissioner McGovern said the Water board had refused to put in hydrants in some places, saying it was up to the council to pay the cost of installation. The council has taken the stand that as $100,000 a year is paid the Water board for fire protection this sum will also include the cost of new hydrants. If the Water board stands by the commissioner in the position McGovern says he has taken, the commissioner will pass a resolution at its meeting directing the board to install hydrants and if refusal is persisted in, may ask for legal aid in enforcing the resolution.
