Convention is to Be Larger Than Ever

Manager Parrish of the Commercia club publicity bureau is receiving letters in every mail announcing representations from various towns throughout the state Roy Cochran, superintendent of the Kearney schools, has written that fortythree teachers from there will take advantage of three holidays to be here. Superintendent A. H. Dixon of the Tekamah schools says fifteen teachers will attend the convention from there. Miss Cora T. Smith and four teachers will represent Waverly. All the teachers of Columbus will be here, according to Superintendent R. M. Campbell, and Superintendent Wilson Tout of North Platte says all the teachers from that far off town will attend the meetings. J. E. Marsh of Hooper announces eight teachers com-

BIG MASS MEETING FOR SUNDAY

John Latenser, Greek Consul, Addresses Large Meeting, Urging All to Take Up Arms Against the Turkish Enemy.

Urging all Greeks to return to their mother country to take up arms against the Turks, Consul John Latenser spoke to 500 subjects of King George Thursday night at the Greek church, Sixteenth and Webster streets.

He appealed to them with the thought that the Americans would have great respect for them if they fought to defend their flag, but none if they refused. In every breast he stirred the fire of patriotism, and within a week it is expected that every Greek in Omaha who is able to fight will have left the city. Consul Latenser's talk was delivered in English and interpreted to the Greeks by Eustus Papuchis, a well-educated man and a linguist prominent in the local

There is hardly an eastbound senger train out of Omaha that does not carry a few patriots. The Greeks are not waiting for general orders to move, but are hurrying out of town in small bunches as rapidly as they can. All are paying their own car fare.
