BOSTON, Oct. 12.—Overcoming the New York Nationals today by a score of 2 to 1, the Boston, pennant winners of the American league, need but a single victory to attain the world's base ball championship of 1912.

More than 34,000 persons, a record-breaking base ball crowd for Boston, saw a pitching duel in which Hugh Bedient, a youngster, sparkled as a new star in the base ball firmament.

Only a shade less brilliant than the box work of Bedient was the skill of the old master, Christy Mathewson, who, except for two long distance drives in the third inning, held the Red Sox helplessly by the magic of his curves.

Bedient's Pitching Best.
Bedient pitched the best ball that has been shown so far in the five games of the world series. He had not been regarded as a likely choice for mound duty during the championship series and it was not until several innings had passed that the spectators realized that the Giants were getting a quality of pitching that was most baffling when his meant tallies.

Harry Hooper started the sharp batting bee that gave the Red Sox their two runs. A fadeaway curled up to the plate and Hooper, catching it fair and square, shot the ball past Hierzog along the left field foul line, where the ball bounded between the angles of the fences to the confusion of Devore. On went the flying Hooper and before the ball was returned to the infield the Red Sox outfielder was perched on third.

There was pandemonium in the stands when Yerkes drove the first ball pitched to left center, where it rolled up against the fence and bounded past Snodgrass. Hooper came to the home plate and Yerkes made third, whence he tallied when Doyle made a bobble of Speaker's grounder. That ended the scoring for Boston.

Mathewson Shows Skill.
Thereafter Mathewson showed his skill in returning to the Boston benches every succeeding player who went to the plate. Seventeen men in order went out from the middle of the third to the last of the eighth inning on grounders to the infield, pop flies to fielders or as strikeout victims. Those who fanned were Gardner and Wagner. Mathewson has been pitched against the Red Sox for nineteen innings in two games, one of which was an eleven-inning contest, and not one man was given a base on balls. Only twenty-nine men faced him during today's contest.

The Giants garnered their only run on a long two-base drive to the temporary stands by Merkle in the seventh. He moved to third on Meyers' outfield fly.

Cornhusker Squad Will Embark for the Northland to Meet Another Foe After Housing Send-Off by Student Body.

BY JAMES E. LAWRENCE.
LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 12.—(Special.)—The eyes of all Cornhuskers will be turned northward next Saturday afternoon when the pupils of Coach "Jumbo" Stiehm and "Doc" Williams meet in the annual gridiron struggle between Nebraska and Minnesota universities. Not since 1902, when a comparatively untried team, under the leadership of Hummy Booth, humbled the giants of the northland, has Nebraska's chances of victory loomed up so brightly.
With a galaxy of former gridiron stars to assist him in whipping Nebraska into shape, Coach Stiehm purpose longest, hardest practices of the season until the Cornhuskers take the trail of their invasion of the north.
Stiehm will have the assistance of Captain Sylvester Shooka of the 1911 team to assist him in his line work. Shooka was accorded "All-American" laurels during his last year on the team and is one of the greatest linemen ever graduated from the Cornhusker school. Tate Matters, former tackle on the Cornhusker team, and later a gridiron star at Harvard, will also lend his aid to Stiehm in making Nebraska's inexperienced line impervious to the attacks of the Gopher backs.
Owen Frank, a Cornhusker half-back of renown, will personally supervise the instruction of the back field, while Jim Harvey, a former captain and end, will give his attention to Nebraska's wing men.
In the matter of instruction and preparation for the Gopher game, there will be no lack of it. The last week of rainy weather has forced Stiehm to remain inside with his squad, and during this time he has spent hours in drilling new formations.
Hard Heritage the Program.
All that remains now to whip the squad into shape is to execute the plays already learned, develop the team work and develop a defense for the Minnesota attack.
Owen Frank returned from Minnesota last Monday much impressed with the Gopher team, which he saw in action against Ames last Saturday. The reports of weakness in the Gopher lineup were absolutely denied as false by Frank. He found the Gopher machine to be powerful in its defense and needing only the aid of a star back to make it equally dangerous on the offense.
Frank brought back with him a nice line on the Minnesota style of play and Assistant Coach Rathbone has drilled the freshmen squad in these formations. Stiehm will allow the freshmen to use the Minnesota formations in practice next week and develop a defense.
Lineup is Still Uncertain.
With constant injuries to his players and the necessitated shifts in his lineup, Stiehm is decidedly uncertain as to what players he will use against the Gophers. The backfield, with its veterans, is the easiest of all problems. Providing Captain Frank's bad knee does not give him too much trouble, Halligan at fullback and Potter at quarter. Mastin and Howard are sure of starting the game at ends.
Stiehm is trying to solve his center situation Allen, weighing over 200 pounds, was believed to be just the man for the position, but the last two weeks have forcibly reminded Stiehm that Allen lacks aggressiveness and shiftness necessary to hold the center of the line. Strong and comparatively fast for a big man, Allen's case presents a puzzle to the coaches, for his playing on the freshman squad last year was unusually brilliant and only exceeded by Mastin and Howard.
Fretag is being alternated with Allen, and it would not be at all surprising to see Stiehm send his lengthy substitute of last season on the field when time is called for the Minnesota game.
Pin Faith in Tackles.
In Harmon and Pearson, Cornhusker supporters must place their hope, for the pair furnish the only veteran material in the line. Harmon has been playing his old-time reliable game, while Pearson has developed into a star tackle. Pearson played at guard last year, but has shown more aptitude at tackle than in his old position.
Allen and Rose may be shifted to guards, but the chances are that Moore and Ross will start against Minnesota. Providing Stiehm uses this lineup against Minnesota, as the indications now point, we will have a team averaging 190.3 pounds to the man, and a line from tackle to tackle averaging 207 1/2 pounds to the man.
Will Outweigh Minnocoats.
For the first time in years the Cornhuskers will apparently outweigh Minnocoats. Nebraska's team, however, represents a pretty combination of speed and beef. The line, where most of the beef is centered, is slow, it is true, but the backfield is the fastest in years. Ernie Frank, Halligan, Potter, and Purdy represent a quartet of the speediest backfield men in the Valley. The ends are

BORTON FAILS IN THE PINCH

With Bases Loaded and Two Out Former Western League Star Has a Chance to Tie Up the Score.

COMISKY PARK, CHICAGO, Oct. 12.—The Chicago Nationals defeated the American leaguers, 5 to 4, in the first game of the series to decide the base ball championship of Chicago today. The White Sox threatened to tie up the score in the sixth inning, but Borton failed to hit with the bases loaded and two out. The Americans outthrew their opponents, but Lavender was given better support.

Gopher's Tackle Gets Broken Arm

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 12.—(Special Telegram.)—Oscar Soren, Minnesota's left tackle, received a broken arm today during practice. He may be out of the game for the rest of the season and is sure at least of being out of all but the Wisconsin or Chicago games, which close the Gopher season.

Soren's accident, which is a severe blow to the already poorly equipped team which Dr. Williams has been obliged to put into the field this fall, happened when he attempted to receive a forward pass. He slipped on the wet grass and attempted to save himself in falling by thrusting out his left arm.

McAarty Puts Out Giant Al Kaufman

ARENA, SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 12.—Luther McAarty, the Missouri giant, won his fight with Al Kaufman in the second round today. McAarty dropped the big Californian three times with lefts and rights to the jaw and once sent him clear through the ropes. The police stopped the bout at this stage to save Kaufman from unnecessary punishment. McAarty was a 25 to 4 favorite in the betting.

QUAKERS GET FIRST DEFEAT

Penn Makes Its Only Score on a Drop Kick from Thirty-Yard Line—Swarthmore Carries Ball Farthest.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 12.—Swarthmore sprung a big surprise on the University of Pennsylvania foot ball team this afternoon, giving the Quakers their first defeat of the season. The visitors were victors, 6 to 3. There was no question about the better team winning. Swarthmore got the jump on Pennsylvania and in the first period carried the ball eighty yards for a touchdown.

Marshall made Pennsylvania's only score with a drop kick from the thirty-yard line. Swarthmore carried the ball a total of 363 yards, against Pennsylvania's total of 152 yards. Pennsylvania tried the forward pass eight times, but without succeeding once. Swarthmore used it four times successfully.

Nebraska Alumni Plan Home Coming at the Kansas Game

LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 12.—(Special.)—As an innovation in collegiate foot ball the University of Nebraska will this fall inaugurate "home-coming week" as an annual event at the Cornhusker school.

"Home-coming week" has this year been fixed for the week of the Kansas game, the big game to be played on the home grounds this season. Nebraska's ancient and honored foe will no doubt furnish impetus for bringing back scores of the alumni of the school. It is Stiehm's plan to make the game of special interest to the alumni of the institution.

Next year Stiehm plans on making the big game with Minnesota university "home-coming week."
Special events of interest to alumni will be planned, ending probably with a reunion and banquet in the evening. Further details will be announced from time to time as arrangements for the home-coming are completed.

NORFOLK SHOULDERS DEFEAT

Omaha High Guard Their Goals Against All Advances Saturday.

Visitors Were Much Lighter Than the Defenders, but in Spite of This Drawback They Put Up Hard Fight.

Omaha High defeated Norfolk High by the score of 23 to 9 at Rourke park yesterday afternoon.
Both teams played loose ball and the team work on both sides was very poor. Norfolk was much lighter than the Omaha squad, but in spite of this drawback they put up a hard fight.

Lock favored the Omaha boys. At times Omaha's defense was weak, but when it came to crucial points they blocked every play of their opponents.
R. Ballman, left tackle and captain of the Omaha team, made the first touchdown. Omaha succeeded in carrying the ball within the five-yard line of Norfolk's goal, and by a play through guard, Ballman carried the ball over the line. McFarland failed to kick goal.

During the remainder of the quarter the ball was kept in Norfolk territory, and although Omaha was within the ten-yard line of Norfolk's goal line, they were not able to carry the ball to a touchdown. Norfolk played better ball during the latter part of the first quarter than at any other time during the game. Their defense at this particular point was good, but their offensive playing was weak.

McFarland, Omaha's quarterback, made a forward pass to Rouse, the right end, in the latter part of the second half, and by running far to the right of the field Rouse eluded the pursuing players and carried the ball from the forty-yard line over Norfolk's goal line for a touchdown. McFarland kicked goal.
McFarland made a touchdown from the

DEFEAT TAKEN BY DAKOTANS

Creighton Ushers in College Game with a Decisive Score.

VISITORS PLAY WELL, THOUGH

Mayor Jim Kleks the First Ball and Also Loosens Up Considerable Dirt on Creighton Field Saturday Afternoon.

Creighton university celebrated the formal opening of its foot ball season by walloping Yankton on Creighton field Saturday afternoon by a score of 27 to 2. The game marked the opening of the large new grandstand, which was well filled in addition to the old bleachers on the east side of the field. Mayor Dahlman occupied one of the boxes and kicked the first ball of the game. Mayor Jim handed his coat to Coach Miller and took a vicious swing at the ball, kicking up some dirt and pushing the ball for a distance of ten yards. Between halves Dahlman attempted to make a speech to the grandstand, after being carried about the field on the shoulders of the students.

Home Boys Out Strong.

The Creighton students, 1,000 strong, were present in sections, being seated according to the departments from which they came. A parade of students was held through the business district of the city before the game and the Booster clubs of the different departments displayed large signs. The medical students were in the lead, carrying a skeleton entitled "Yankton" on a stretcher. During the game the skeleton was placed before the stand. The dental college club was two blocks in length, carrying a half dozen large banners. Between halves a snake dance was indulged in by all the students.

The game was rather slow, penalties being frequent and the field slow. Creighton suffered repeatedly for offense play. Many long runs were made, only to be disqualified because of offside play, and the officials were not quite clear as to the interpretation of the rules. Forward passes were frequent, but were generally failures, either being fumbles or intercepted and turned into gains for the other side.

Creighton is Heavier.

Creighton outweighed the visitors and after the first few moments the game was never in doubt. The visitors, however, put up a scrappy game and the lighter Yankton line frequently broke through and spoiled the Creighton plays. The visitors were the worst offenders at in-fumbling.

A number of sensational runs were made. The prettiest play of the day came when Stevenson of the visitors took a forward pass from McArdine, on his own twenty-yard line, and was downed on Creighton's one-yard line by Hanley. Later in the same quarter Warren intercepted a pass made by Levy and ran eighty yards for a touchdown. Hanley followed. The touchdown was disallowed.

CORNHUSKERS CRUSH AGGIES

Coach Stiehm's Warriors Win Hard Game from Kansans.

FRANK AND PURDY THE STARS

Nebraska's Captain Repeatedly Tears Hole in Aggies' Line, While Purdy Makes Many Dashing Runs.

LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 12.—(Special Telegram.)—Stubbornly contesting every inch of the way, the Kansas Aggies this afternoon went down to defeat before the Cornhuskers by a score of 30 to 8. Although held to a lower score than was expected, the showing of the Cornhuskers, except for the center trio, was most promising and especially did Nebraska's backfield perform in scintillating fashion. Captain E. Frank and Purdy played a dashing game, lugging the ball many yards and proving a tower of strength on the defensive play. They were Nebraska's stars, although Potter at quarter and Mastin at end performed valiant service for the Cornhuskers.

Statistics furnished an excellent insight into the game. Nebraska advanced the ball 407 yards as against 63 yards for her doughty opponent. Nebraska was forced to kick five times, three times in the first quarter and twice in the second. Thereafter the Aggie line could not withstand the attack of the Cornhuskers. The Aggies made distance but once outside of the two forward passes on which their touchdown was scored.

Nebraska's showing with the forward pass was miserable. Out of five attempts the Cornhuskers were able to negotiate successfully but once, when Purdy took the ball and got away for a ten-yard gain. On the other hand the Aggies attempted two passes, both being successful and netting them thirty yards. Their work with the pass was dazzling and Nebraska seemed unprepared for it.

Both teams were penalized severely, but the Cornhuskers suffered worst and were set back sixty-five yards to fifty for the Aggies. The first touchdown came after twelve minutes of play. Purdy smashed through tackle across the white chalk line after Nebraska had secured the ball on the fifteen-yard line on a fumble. Potter took the ball shortly after the kick-off and encircled the end for twenty-five yards on a beautiful run through a broken field.

On a series of smashes through the line, Hallagin was finally pushed over for the second touchdown.

Aggies Become Dangerous.

Before the half closed, the Aggies, by clever use of the forward pass, had carried the ball thirty yards for a touch down. Frank fumbled the ball on the Nebraska twenty-yard line, but recovered it. Howard punted out on the thirty-yard line. Polton for the Aggies set the ball rolling into Holmes arms on a forward pass for an eight-yard gain after two assaults on center had failed to net the Aggies anything. Polton again tossed the ball, Stahl taking it this time
