STOP RESCUE HOME PROTESTS

City Commissioners Refer Petitions to the State Board of Health.

TWENTY-EIGHTH AVENUE OPEN

Resolution Formally Declaring i Opened Passed-Water Board Gets the Right-of-Way Through Street.

The city commission summarily disposed of the last of a series of protests against the Tinley Rescue Home at Fourth and Bancroft streets by directing City Clerk Flynn to answer the petitioners who are forty-four in number that the matter was up to the State Board of Health and beyond the jurisdiction or desires of the commissioners.

A. M. Oliver of Gibson wrote a letter to accompany the petition. He said since the Board of Education, the Associated Charities, the juvenile court and the county commissioners had "denounced the home" the council ought to take some action to "abate the nulsance."

Objections to this rescue home are lodged on the ground that school children must pass by the place. It is claimed by the petitioners that the "atmosphere" of the home is conducive to bad morals.

City Council Notes.

Fred Fisher, John Anderson and Tom Falconer, master plumbers, appeared before the commission to ask that arrangements be made to "cut out some of the red tape" now necessary before a plumber can secure a permit. Commissioner Mo-Govern and Kugel were appointed an investigation committee with power to act. An ordinance granting the Union Pacific and the Burlington railroads permission to reconstruct and reinforce certain bridges within the corporate limits was referred to the legal department.

City Treasures Ure was given permission to buy $100,000 street improvement bonds which Kountze Bros. of New York offer for sale at a premium of ½ per cent and accrued interest.

Throwing her arms around her brotherin-law, W. R. Beattie, a Council Bluffs automobile dealer, and calling him her sweetheart, Mrs. David A. Beattle was severely rebuked by Police Magistrate Foster yesterday in police court.

Mrs. Beattle's husband had started suit for divorce in district court on the charge of infidelity, following her arrest with his brother in a room at the Wellington hotel Saturday night.

They were arrested on complaint of Mr. Beattle and a severe charge placed against them. The charge was withdrawn yesterday morning by the county atorney and Mr. Beattle ordered the two to leave town at once. W. R. Beattle and Mrs. D. A. When Mrs. Beattle and her brother-inlaw met in the court room she rushed up to him and with tears in her eyes hugged and kissed him, calling him endearing names. She told Matron Gibbons that she did not love her husband and that 'Billy" was her sweetheart. Judge Foster reprimanded Mrs. Beattle and said she would be back in jail again if she was not more careful of her actions. Outside of the court room she told her brother-in-law that she did not believe Judge Foster ever had a sweet-

Since the old-fashioned theory of curing eczema through the blood has been given up by scientists, many different salves have been tried for skin diseases. But it has been found that these salves only clog the pores and cannot penetrate to the inner skin below the epidermis where the eczema germs are lodged.

This—the quality of penetrating—brobably explains the tremendous successions.
