great interest locally. Boston fans were slow in coming to the grounds today. Apparently they were almost satisfied with base ball, having had five games here out of the present series.

The nervous tension among the players before they went in today's game was increased by the realization that the slightest error or lapse of judgment might decide the series for the other team. The teams were still considered evenly matched, despite New York's two consecutive victories by the most decisive scores of the series.

Manager Jake Stahl said: "The strain was too much, and we felt it, but we did not break. You will find the boys playing today in better form than they showed in the early games of the series. We all expect to win the series."

McGraw was reticent as ever and said: "We have won two straight games; on we will make it three and the championship today."

First Inning. First Half—The first ball pitched was a ball. Devore out, Wagner to Stahl. It was a nice stop and throw. Doyle out, Wagner to Stahl. The crowd was on tension and cheered every play. Fifteen balls were thrown to the plate before the first two men were retired. Snodgrass walked to first. Snodgrass stole second. Wagner dropping Cady's perfect throw. Snodgrass overstepped the base, but scrambled back to the base before Wagner could recover the ball. Murray out, Gardner to Stahl. No runs, no hits, one error.

Second Half—There was a perfect storm of applause for the Boston players as they came off the field. Hooper went out to Merkle, unassisted, bunting the first ball pitched almost into Merkle's hand. Yerkes struck out. Speaker made a two-base hit to right by daring base running. The umpire first declared him out, but reversed the decision after he saw Doyle had dropped Devore's throw. Lewis struck out. No runs, one hit, one error.

Third Inning. First Half—Herzog flew out to Speaker. Meyers was safe when Gardner let the ball go between his legs. Fletcher singled to center. Meyers taking second. On a throw from Cady to Wagner to catch Fourth Inning. First Half—Herzog got a long hit to left field for two bases. Meyers sacrificed. Gardner to Stahl. Herzog going to third. Fletcher flew out to Gardner. Mathewson flied to Hooper. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Second Half—Lewis out, Fletcher to Merkle. Snodgrass dropped Gardner's long fly, but was out at third on a relay World Series Makes Records. Without delving back into the pages of history it can readily be seen that the world's series just closed was the longest ever played. To decide the winner of the year's biggest event in base ball, eight games were necessary. New York won three games, Boston won four and one game was tied. Boston taking the winning game in a sensational finish in the eleventh inning of the eighth game.

Going into statistics a total of seventy-six innings were played. In this number of innings 23 Boston players went to bat and 17 Giants. The Giants outdid the Red Sox by a margin of fourteen. In the eight games Boston made a total of sixty hits to New York's seventy-four. The Red Sox used fifteen of their twenty-four Meyers rapped, the New York catcher turned and ran to third and was safe. Fletcher took second on the play, when Gardner dropped Wagner's throw. Mathewson flew out to Speaker. No runs, one hit, two errors.

Second Half—Gardner walked to first. It was Mathewson's first base on balls in twenty-one innings. Gardner was forced at second when Doyle took Stahl's grounder and tossed to Fletcher. Wagner singled to left, Stahl taking second. Cady sent up a high fly to Merkle. Bedient out, Doyle to Merkle. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Third Inning. First Half—Devore walked. Bedient being unsteady and unable to locate the plate. Doyle was out, Gardner to Stahl. Devore going to second. Snodgrass went out to Stahl, unassisted. Devore went to third. Devore scored on Murray's two-base hit to left. Speaker made a great try for the ball. Merkle out, Wagner to Stahl. One run, one hit, no errors.

Second Half—Hooper out, Doyle to Merkle. Yerkes out, Mathewson to Merkle. Speaker struck out. Mathewson's big drop ball was going nicely and he continually worked the inside corner of the plate. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Fourth Inning. First Half—Herzog got a long hit to left field for two bases. Meyers sacrificed. Gardner to Stahl. Herzog going to third. Fletcher flew out to Gardner. Mathewson flied to Hooper. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Second Half—Lewis out, Fletcher to Merkle. Snodgrass dropped Gardner's long fly, but was out at third on a relay

Minnesota Asking Odds for Contest With Cornhuskers

ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—With Oscar Solem out of the game for two weeks and possibly for the remainder of the season, Coach Williams of the Minnesota foot ball eleven has his work cut out for him to develop a new tackle to take his place. The big lineman, who is one of the very few good ones on the Gopher squad this fall, slipped on a soggy field last Saturday afternoon and suffered a dislocation in the right elbow. His injuries were attended to by Dr. Williams immediately and the arm placed in a sling.

The loss of Solem is the biggest blow suffered by the maroon and gold feds since the debatement of Morrell. Solem although new at the tackle position, made a favorable showing in both the South Dakota and Ames games. He was one of the finest built athletes on the squad and his absence will prove a severe handicap. Dr. Williams had several plays which he had built around the big tackle, as he was an apt pupil in throwing and handling the forward pass. It is not known who Dr. Williams is grooming for position. The team has practiced with the ghost ball the last week and last night the electric lights at the far end of the grid-iron were turned on for the first time. The players are being sent through a long, hard grind each night by Dr. Williams and his many assistants. The utmost secrecy prevails in the vicinity of Northrop field, and little is known of what Dr. Williams expects to spring on the Cornhuskers on Saturday afternoon. The veteran coach is well known for his resourcefulness, and the students are confident that he has something up his sleeve to pull on Coach Stehm's pupils. Hard scrimmase was on the program for today and tomorrow. On Friday afternoon only signal practice and formation work will be indulged in. In betting circles locally the Nebraskans are favorites. The Gopher supporters are generally asking for 8 to 10 and 5 to 7 odds, with plenty of Nebraska backers.

Oskaloosa Woman Killed. LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 16.—(Special Telegram.)—Mrs. Elias W. Barber of Oskaloosa, Ia., was killed here in a street car accident today. She had been a prominent resident of Oskaloosa for many years.

HEAD OF THE RED SOX BATTING LIST.

Hooper, the right fielder of the Boston Red Sox, whose work in the field and as head of the batting list has been little short of sensational in the world's series games. Hooper is one of the most valuable men to this team, according to Manager Stahl.

Cardinals Retain City Championship

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 16.—The local national league club retains the base ball championship of St. Louis by winning from the St. Louis Americans in the seventh game of the inter-league series, by a score of 6 to 1. Today's victory made it four wins for the champions, three for the Americans and one game a tie. The National leaguers hit Hamilton when hits counted for runs, while Steele held the Americans their first scattered hits and was backed up by some great fielding.

A base on balls, a sacrifice and a single gave the Nationals their first run in the first inning. The Americans tied it in the third on Hauser's error and Shotton's triple to left.

A pass, a stolen base and Pratt's fumble gave the Nationals the lead in the fourth. A combination of two hits, a pass, two sacrifices and an error netted three more runs for the Nationals in the sixth.

In the eighth inning Evans was hit by a pitched ball and went to third when Oakes singled. Oakes then pulled the delayed steal, Evans crossing the plate with the Nationals' lead tally, while the Americans were attempting to run down Oakes. Score:
