

HOTELS MEN IN A QUANDARY

Have Rooms Enough for Teachers, but Are Far Short on Mirrors.

TEACHERS TO BE BUNCHED UP

Hotels to Provide Plenty of Room for All Who May Come to the Meeting of the State Teachers' Association.

Omaha hotels are finding it difficult to secure enough mirrors to supply the demand which already has been made by the school teachers who will be in Omaha to attend the annual meeting of the Nebraska Teachers' association.

Such an aggregation of the feminine instructors will be here that it has been found necessary to put them four and five in a room. There are beds plenty; enough to satisfy the teachers who are willing to bunk together in the hotel rooms, but as for mirrors—horrors, how can six or eight teachers dress their hair, adjust their jabots and other things in front of one mirror! That's the riddle that the hotel men must solve. Some teachers have even declared they will not come to the convention if they can't have an individual mirror. They say the arrangement of one-mirrored rooms last year was absolutely unsuccessful and they will "never again subject their pedagogical dispositions to such harassment."

Other Arrangements.
There are others, however, who have been arranged for and every mail bureau points to a great attendance at the convention. The mail Wednesday announced that forty teachers will be here from Norfolk, thirteen from Florence; South Omaha's whole list; Burr, Neb., four, and Bancroft, ten.

New Way Surely Stops

Scalp Itch and Hair Loss

All who have tried tonics and "growers" for hair trouble know how useless they are. It has long been understood that the only solving of the problem is in proper cleansing and care of the scalp. But the difficulty has been the lack of effective material. The alkali in soaps irritates the scalp and leaves the hair faded and stringy. At last comes the angel of relief in the form of a new product made from the coconut and other vegetable oils, that give a most wonderful shampoo. It is known as Cocoonide. You simply dissolve a teaspoonful of this Cocoonide in a cup of hot water and shampoo in the usual way. The results are marvelous. The hair becomes wavy, fluffy and silken. All dandruff disappears and falling hair is immediately stopped. But the best part is the after-effect. The scalp is invigorated and the growth of the hair promoted. Any druggist has this Cocoonide in stock or will get it from his wholesale house. A fifty-cent package is sufficient for ten or more delightful shampoos. But be sure you get only the real Cocoonide and not be influenced to take something else instead. There is nothing that is even similar in results.

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Republicans Will Hold Meeting on Carnival Grounds Friday.

CARNIVAL PROVES SUCCESSFUL

Attendance Large and Crowds Find Much to Entertain Inside Days—Slight Put Upon Democratic Leaders by Gillin.

In order to make arrangements for a big candidates' meeting to be held next Friday night at the Polish carnival grounds, there will be a business meeting of the republican club tonight at the republican headquarters, next to the new Orpheum theater at Twenty-fourth and M streets. The Polish voters will have none of Wilson nor the democratic ticket and a large number of them are anxious to hear issues discussed by Arthur Hancock, candidate for state senator from South Omaha, H. H. Baldrige, candidate for congress and Sidney Smith, candidate for county attorney on the republican ticket.

President H. C. Murphy, of the South Omaha Republican club, held a conference yesterday with other local leaders and it was decided to call a meeting for tonight at the club rooms in order to make provisions for a big turnout on Friday night. Within the last few days it has become apparent that A. C. Hancock has grown strong with many of the Polish, Bohemian and foreign voters who insist that former Senator John Tanner either did not know what was going into the South Omaha charter or if he did he allowed everything that the gang wanted to go through. The labor clause fiasco pushed through by Tanner is bitterly denounced by the laboring men who assert that all the clause did was to put more money in the pockets of the favored contractors without increasing the pay of the laborers. Mr. Hancock says he will do something of importance to tell the people at the big meeting next Friday night.

Many Attend Carnival.
In the opinion of those who have visited the different carnivals held in South Omaha during many years, the Polish Home carnival now being held is reckoned the most successful from every point of view. Monday night the turnstiles at the grounds registered 3,300 paid entrants, while last night the count ran higher. The carnival, while under the auspices of the Polish Home association is open to all and a visit to the grounds shows that nationality plays no part in the minds of the people, who attend the big show.

Under the efficient management of a number of selected patrolmen roughness and jostling of the usual carnival "hoodlums" has been absolutely banished from the grounds. The men at the head of the Polish Home association laid it down as a strict rule that they were after the patronage of the families and best people of the city, and would not stand for any vulgar shows or rowdy displays.

The "country store" is the busiest place in the grounds, loaded with articles of every description; the Polish Ladies' committee, ably assisted by the wives of prominent citizens of the town, are showing their prowess as dispensers of the grocery, drygoods and nick-nack line, which they have in stock.

The diamond ring contest has assumed a new phase. Yesterday it was thought interest was lagging, but the contestants were quietly working and holding votes in the hope of throwing other contestants off their guard. The committee decided to have all contestants make a full report to the secretary Wednesday noon, and bar all receipts not reported at that time which have a preceding date on them.

The sensational illuminated fire run of Tuesday night was a distinctive feature offered for the first time in Nebraska. The carnival committee has announced that Saturday afternoon, the teachers of the city may bring in their respective classes with no charge for admission; Sam Hoff of the Human Roulette Wheel has promised the children a lot of fun and exercise.

Hitch Over Burke Meeting.
Unless the temper of a large part of South Omaha democracy is changed between now and Thursday night the visit of Governor John Burke of North Dakota may be a frost for all. The reason of the present heated temper of the South Omaha democrats is too much Gillin. Smarting from the snubbing received during the visit of Governor Wilson, Gillin and his own particular and private "Wilson" club, are determined to put one over on the Young Men's Democratic Wilson-Marshall club and Mayor Hoctor, to whom Wilson paid special attention during his visit. The plan is to put all the Gillin men on the reception committee next Thursday night to the exclusion of the Wilson-Marshall club and the independent democrats of the city.

Added to the other troubles Gillin sent out postal cards announcing that certain men were appointed vice presidents and were to occupy the "first five seats" in the auditorium. Some of the leading democrats of the city outside of the Gillin gang, have not even been invited. Such names as Samuel Winters, assistant city attorney and candidate for district judge at the last election; John McMillan, former postmaster under a democratic regime; C. J. Southard, a rising young attorney and leader among the young democracy; John Merrell, journal clerk in the city clerk's office and one of the most popular young democratic leaders in town; Lew Casey, president of the Wilson-Marshall club, and a commission man at the Union Stock yards; Tom Ensor, jr., vice president of the Wilson-Marshall club, and a younger leader; Frank Keegan, and J. O'Brien, also leaders of the younger democracy, were studiously ignored on the reception list "appointed" by Gillin, for the reception of Governor Burke.

St. Martin's Men's Club.
The Men's club of St. Martin's Episcopal church observed its regular monthly meeting at the home of Arthur C. Hancock last night. A goodly number of men were present. Al Thompson rendered several very pleasing musical numbers, after which Rev. T. J. Mackay, rector of All Saints' church, Omaha, held the company intensely interested for over an hour with a graphic description of parts of his trip to Europe this last summer. He told many amusing experiences and anecdotes which the American tourist meets with in Europe.

Mr. Mackay gave graphic descriptions of Hampton Court palace, the Isles of Wight and Man, and told of his surprise when he heard the magnificent band of Buckingham palace play "Everybody's Doing It" at the guard mount ceremonies.

The memories of a pleasant and instructive evening will remain long with the men of St. Martin's club.

Maize City Gossip.
The funeral of Wallace Black, formerly bookkeeper for Wagon Bus, commissionmen at the Union Stock Yards, was held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at Lark's parlors. Rev. Dr. R. L. Wheeler of the First Presbyterian church officiating. Interment will be at Prospect Hill cemetery.

The members of the Methodist church choir gave a musicale at the First Baptist church last night. The program was applauded by a goodly crowd.
The Epworth league of the Lefter Memorial church will give a measuring party Friday evening at the parsonage, Fifteenth and Mason streets.

All members of the South Omaha Republican club are urged to attend the meeting which will be held at the club headquarters this evening at 7:30 o'clock.
Be sure and register on October 28. This is the last day before election day and City Clerk Perry Wheeler will not accept any excuses under affidavit except those sustained by warrant of law.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Moreshouse entertained Saturday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. R. Shanahan and family of New York. Music and dancing were the enjoyments of the evening. Those present were: Messrs. and Mesdames P. C. Caldwell, J. Quinlan, C. Pirke, P. Hannigan, M. Hickey, J. Wenner, R. Shanahan, J. Fitzgerald, Misses Kate Dunn, Rose Runn, Sarah Bevins, Cecelie Bevins and Messrs. Michael Donahue, John McGuire and Jerry Brownhan.

Charity Seekers Fear the Approach of the Cold Winter

Many little children, part of that throng of weary and forsaken, hungry and halt humanity, that marches in a steady stream to ask help of organized philanthropy, thinks it is lots of fun to be poor in the summer time and travel around the country, but the methods of some charities fill them with foreboding at the approach of winter.

Mothers with a large brood of little tots have come penniless into Omaha at all hours of the night, sent by one charitable association in one city to another association in a neighboring city, so that they are kept continually on the go. One destitute woman toured fifteen large cities last summer, and during her wanderings made Omaha twice.

"Mamma, where'll we goin' next?" Louis Stork, vice president; Carl Drummond, secretary-treasurer, and Arthur Smith, reporter of the new organization. Principal L. C. Rasmussen said the club had decided to follow closely the work of the Omaha Commercial club, studying the same problems and getting interested in the same campaigns for civic improvements.

Other societies have been formed at the High School of Commerce. A Shakespeare society was organized Tuesday. The girls who are taking work in the institution have announced their intention to organize a Commercial club for girls. They met and formed a girl's club yesterday under the direction of Miss Edith Alderman and Miss Olive Hoskin. The boys will meet this week to form a club.

Girls who are interested in forming the commercial club say their plan is to affiliate with the several Women's clubs and study not only civic questions, but any interesting problem from base ball to politics.

ENGLISH RAILWAY MAN PRAISES OMAHA AND STATE

Charles Addington, superintendent of the Great Western railroad of England, has been a visitor in this city for the last two days. Mr. Addington, who is considered by one of the most progressive men in the empire, is on a trip throughout the United States getting a line on the manner in which this country conducts railway transportation.

This, however, is not his first visit to American soil in the same capacity, he having on three different occasions made trips similar to the present one. While in Omaha he was taken by Mr. Fort to the McKean Motor works.

Mr. Addington visited the Union Pacific shops and took a short auto trip over the city. He remarked that Omaha was one of the most promising American cities he had so far visited and predicted a lively growth for the place. That which particularly impressed him in a railway line was the educational bureau conducted by the Union Pacific. He left Wednesday for Cheyenne on the Overland Limited, as he wished to travel through the state by daylight.

MORE COMMERCIAL CLUB MEMBERS THAN ELIGIBLES

There are more members of the Commercial club than there are men who are eligible to membership. The club has issued two booklets, one a roster of membership and the other a list of eligibles. There are thirty-six pages in the membership roster and only eighteen in the eligible list.

The membership committee of the club will work from the eligible list. It has been planned to recruit 100 new members before the club moves into the new quarters in the Woodmen of the World building Monday. About fifty of the number have been secured.

Students at High School of Commerce Are Forming Clubs

A Junior Commercial club, modeled on the plan of the Omaha Commercial club, was organized at the High School of Commerce, officers elected and plans made to take up the study of such civic problems as commercial clubs usually consider.

Mark Hughes was elected president, Louis Stork, vice president; Carl Drummond, secretary-treasurer, and Arthur Smith, reporter of the new organization. Principal L. C. Rasmussen said the club had decided to follow closely the work of the Omaha Commercial club, studying the same problems and getting interested in the same campaigns for civic improvements.

Veteran Republican of Four-Score Years Interested in Taft

No one is taking a keener interest in the re-election of President Taft than is David Anderson, 812 M street, South Omaha, 83 years of age, who was president of the first republican club in the United States, organized in the Twenty-fourth ward of Philadelphia in 1844. Mr. Anderson called at republican headquarters at the Paxton Wednesday morning "just to see how things were coming along."

Standing erect and proud, the old gentleman of four score years and one told of his recollection of the birth of the republican party. He was a delegate to the first national republican convention in Musical Fund hall, Philadelphia, in 1856 when the abolitionists of the old whig and the old democratic party joined hands, formed the new republican party, and placed in nomination Fremont and Dayton, candidates for president and vice president, respectively. Although James Buchanan, a democrat, defeated the first republican candidate for president, Mr. Anderson points with pride to the party that was born at that time and the record it has since made.

Mr. Anderson boasts of having seen every president of the United States from the time of Andrew Jackson, and of having conversed with many of them. Mr. and Mrs. Anderson came to Nebraska in 1869 and located in Platte county, Nebraska, where they lived on their homestead for sixteen years. Mr.

TO STOP DANDRUFF.

This Homemade Mixture Stops Dandruff and Falling Hair and Aids Its Growth.

To a half pint of water add: Bay Rum... 1 oz. Barbo Compound... a small box Glycerine... 1/4 oz.

These are all simple ingredients that you can buy from any druggist at very little cost, and mix them yourself. Apply to the scalp once a day for two weeks, then once every other week until all the mixture is used. A half pint should be enough to rid the head of dandruff and kill the dandruff germs. It stops the hair from falling out, relieves itching and scalp diseases.

Although it is not a dye, it acts upon the hair roots and will darken streaked, faded, gray hair in ten or fifteen days. It promotes the growth of the hair and makes harsh hair soft and glossy.—Advertisement.
