

“What’s the Secret, Brooks? Why Don’t MY Clothes Set Smartly?”

Friendly, but unfortunate, chaps ask me that question every once in a while--BEFORE they get to buying their clothing of ME. They’ve PAID a good, stiff, fairly well padded PRICE for their clothes, but the STYLE they want ISN’T there.

As an answer, I take these chaps aside and merely whisper--

“Try ‘Society’

Brand clothes at, per garment-- $20.00 to $35.00.”

Brooks

S. E. Cor. 16th and Harney Sts.

There’s an array of clothes buyers who say “$15, $20 or $25 is enough to pay for clothes--what have you?” I win such folks over easily--sell ‘em quickly--satisfy ‘em mightily--the moment I show ‘em “Brooks’ Own” suits and overcoats, at--

Harry Morrill Thinks He Must Have an Ice Wagon

SAY! THIS AIN’T NO ICE WAGON

THOSE D HAD GOOD GOLF TROPHIES

After making a man a bluff offer for a gasoline runabout last spring Harry Morrill was surprised to find that he was taken up and thereby forced into the plutocrat class. Harry confided the joyous news to several of his friends and whisked them around the boulevards, the while enlarging upon the good features and money value of the car. No one doubted his estimate of the car, at least not to his face, even the assessor agreed with him, but it remained for a disinterested party to classify the genuine buggy. Harry’s office is in the Ware block at Fifteenth and Farnam, and it seems in summer time ice is needed by several of the tenants in the building. That, of course, brought the ice man, who left his ice wagon beside Harry’s car while he delivered the congealed liquid, but when he came back he left his ice tongs in Harry’s car. This looked like an oversight on the first occasion, but when it happened the second time and Harry found himself in possession of two pairs of ice tongs, he is somewhat in a quandary as to whether it is an automobile or an ice wagon he has been driving around all summer. Harry still has the ice-tongs memento.

Mural Paintings Are Now Paid For

The mural paintings installed in the home of the county court house were accepted and the contractor, Phillipson Decorating company, was paid the contract price of $5,000 less 15 per cent, withheld until some other work is completed. The paintings are pleasing to every member of the board. It had been discovered that the dome over the murals was in a leaky condition and it was feared that if a hard rain would come the murals would be spoiled. The roof has been fixed, however, and it is felt that everything will be all right.

place the republican electors on the ballot in place of the bull moose electors under the republican designation. John L. Webster is to lead the fight for the republican committee, assisted by Jefferson, Amos Thomas and Vice Chairman Culver of the republican committee. The case is to be heard this afternoon and evening before the three district judges of Lancaster county in Nebraska.

Three Held for the Theft of Goods from Northwestern Depot

Lucia Palma, W. H. Wright and Al Gallahue, arrested for the theft of hundreds of dollars worth of merchandise from the Northwestern freight depot, were bound over to the district court by Police Magistrate Foster. They were given a preliminary hearing in police court and pleaded not guilty to the charge.

Palma is charged with receiving stolen property. His bonds were fixed in the sum of $500. Wright, a driver for the Merchants’ Express company, who is charged with grand larceny and who stole $300 worth of shoes from a platform of the depot, was bound over under $200 bonds. Gallahue, a checker at the depot, was bound over under $750 bonds. He is charged with grand larceny and stole a barrel of whisky and gave it to Wright to dispose of.

J. A. Leary, 3018 Poppleton avenue, appeared against the defendants. A box containing $300 worth of household goods belonging to him were taken by Wright and sold to Palma.

Little Children Plead for Father

C. H. Jensen, 4111 Corby street, arrested on complaint of Mrs. Elizabeth Chapman, a neighbor, who charged him with abusing his children and using loud and profane language, was discharged by Police Magistrate Foster.

Vera and Raymond Jensen, aged 14 and 13 years, respectively, appeared in court in behalf of their father, and said he had always treated them kindly. He handed a petition to the judge signed by fifteen neighbors, who said he was a good father and neighbor.

Judge Foster said he would refer the matter to the juvenile authorities. Jensen’s wife left him several months ago and since that time he has been striving to keep the little family of five children together.

A REFLECTION

When Fall days are growing breezy Here is something you should know: If your life’s walk isn’t easy, Crossett Shoes will make it so.

Never make enemies of your cook or your boot-maker.

Pleasant walking is largely a matter of pleasant shoes.

When you come to a road, cross it. When you come to buy shoes, Crossett.

Spare the fit and spoil the foot.

There’s no place like the inside of a Crossett Shoe for comfort.

Comfort makes the foot go.

Style a-plenty in this Crossett High toe. Glove top. Broad heel. This new model stands high in masculine favor.

Red Mike Wallace’s Ouster Case Goes Over Until Tuesday

Red Mike Wallace, who was appointed deputy under Sheriff McShane under strenuous protests from persons who declared that he is unfit to serve because of his past exploits in police circles, was to have been tried yesterday in Judge Leslie’s court.

The attorney for the defendant was busy in another court and it was agreed to continue the case until next Tuesday. Prosecutor Fred W. Anheuser is prepared and ready to go ahead with the trial, and he will do so at the earliest possible time, endeavoring to prevent any further delay that might be attempted.

The objection to Red Mike Wallace as an arm of the law is made on the ground that he has figured in various police escapades, the one in point being his conviction before Police Magistrate Bryce Crawford on the charge of being a vagrant and having accepted favors from lewd women. He was arrested on this charge on August 31, 1911, and convicted on September 7 following. He was fined $50 and costs and appealed the case.

Commercial Club Prepares to Move Into New Quarters

Chaos prevails in the Commercial club rooms, the last day of the club’s existence in the rooms at the top floor of the Board of Trade building, Sixteenth and Farnam streets, for they start to move today, when no lunch will be served.

Today the records, typewriters and a few papers and magazines will be removed to the new quarters on the seventeenth and eighteenth floors of the Woodmen of the World building, Fourteenth and Farnam streets, which have been fitted out as the most elaborate quarters for an organization of the kind in the United States.

The old furniture, which has been sold to a hotel keeper in Iowa, will be taken from the rooms in a few days and the quarters will be altered to suit the purposes of the University club, which will move from its present home on the second floor of the Barker block, Fifteenth and Farnam streets.

The Commercial club will be established in the new quarters Monday and an all-day reception will be held for the members and their families.

Bachelors from the Stock Yards Are to Entertain Teachers

General Manager E. Buckingham of the Union Stock yards of the Magic City is preparing to welcome the 5,000 visiting teachers who are expected to attend the Teachers’ convention in Omaha next month. Special committees have been selected to show the schoolmarms about the big plants and Friday of the convention week has been selected as the day on which the stock yards people will entertain the teachers at luncheon.

It has not been definitely settled, but a prominent live stock man intimated yesterday that because of the number of eligibles among the stockmen and commission men some arrangement may be made for becoming acquainted with the school mistresses with aspirations for the matrimonial state. This latter hint is in no wise official and will not bind the stock yards bachelors as a body.

Political Notes

Eugene W. Chafin, prohibition candidate for president, continuing his campaign in Maryland, spoke at Hagerstown.

Charles D. Nagel, secretary of Commerce and Labor, spoke at a republican rally in Kansas City, Mo. His deal at length on the prosperous condition of the country.

Mrs. Woodrow Wilson and Miss Jessie Wilson, wife and daughter of the democratic presidential nominee, came to Baltimore for a brief visit, as guests of the Women’s Wilson League.

Governor Thomas R. Marshall of Indiana, democratic vice-presidential candidate, argued against over-capitalization of the individual in politics in an address to an audience composed of Davenport, Moline and Rock Island people.

William J. Bryan closed his second day’s tour through Indiana with an address at Fort Wayne, in which he attempted to show why former President Roosevelt and former United States Senator Albert J. Beveridge should not be classed as real progressives and reformers.
