

Plain Corset Talks TO WISE WOMEN

Some men judge a cigar by the price they pay—and the pretty red-and-gold band. These men often get 5c. cigars for 15c. Some women judge a corset by its cost and its flossy frills. These are the women who support the extravagant "made-to-order" shops and those corset-makers who are willing to capitalize woman's vanity and lack of good judgment.

The wise woman buys SERVICE—not show. That is—the NEMO! Be a Wise Woman!

HARRY COLE KILLED BY AUTO

Injured When He Crosses in Front of Dr. Holtman's Machine.

DEAD SOON AFTER ACCIDENT

After Being Struck by Holtman Later Takes Injured Man to Wise Memorial Hospital, Where He Soon Dies.

Harry E. Cole, 55 years of age, was almost instantly killed when he was struck and run over by Dr. A. A. Holtman's automobile at Seventeenth and Howard street yesterday morning at 9:15. He was taken to the Wise Memorial hospital in Dr. Holtman's machine, where he died fifteen minutes later without regaining consciousness. Cole was internally injured and badly bruised about the face, arms and legs.

Dr. Holtman was driving east on Howard street very slowly. As he neared Seventeenth street E. H. Sprague, president of the Omaha Rubber company, swung into Howard street from Seventeenth street in his automobile. At the same time Cole and W. D. Slagel, walked across Howard street from St. Mary's avenue. Slagel, noticing Sprague's automobile, drew back to the curb and grabbed hold of Cole to prevent him crossing in front of Sprague's car and being struck by Dr. Holtman's, which was a few feet in front of them.

Breaking away from Slagel, Cole walked directly in front of Dr. Holtman's car and the front and rear wheels passed over his abdomen.

Cole has been in the real estate business in the city a number of years and is well known. His home is in Illinois and a brother living there has been notified of his death.

An inquest will be held. Dr. Holtman was released upon $5,000 bonds. Dr. Frederick Wearne attended Cole at the hospital.

Mrs. Carl Sinclair Sues for Divorce

Romance at a tender age did not have a lasting effect in the case of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Sinclair, who were married about a year and a half ago.

Mrs. Clementine Sinclair, the wife, has brought action for divorce, alleging abusiveness and kindred grounds. Both were under age when they married, and in order to secure a license it was necessary to misstate their years. Mrs. Sinclair is now stopping with friends in Omaha. She states in her petition that Sinclair is working for the Illinois Central and is earning $5 a month, and that he has failed to provide for her. Young Sinclair's marriage furnished material for gossip. He chose a time when his mother was in the east on a buying trip, taking his sweetheart to Fremont in an automobile to secure a license and have the knot tied.

A Correction.

On page 28 of the Nebraska Development magazine, in the article on the great land development enterprise of Mr. John H. Shary, third column, a typographical error appears. In describing the advantages of the Corpus Christi territory, the statement in reference to rainfall should read that the annual rainfall is 27 to 30 inches instead of 19 inches.

DON'T LET YOUR WIFE TRY TO DO the FAMILY WASHING. It is false economy for a woman to think that she can worry and work and scrub and iron and feel that she is saving a few cents—when in reality taking the cost of bluing, starch, fuel, etc., into consideration, she is losing money and also wearing herself out worrying. At 6c a pound figure out for yourself which is the cheaper way.
