NAMED FOR SCHOOL BOARD

City Committees Meet and Nominate Candidates.

Leavenworth For Republican Holovitchner Left as Candidate for Republicans and Democrats in Second Ward—Spalding to Stay in Race.

The republican city central committee at a meeting in room 228 of the Bee building last night, nominated Edmund P. Leavenworth for member of the Board of Education, from the Eighth ward, to run in opposition to Dr. S. R. Spalding, former president of the board and now candidate by petition.

At about the same time the democratic city central committee nominated, by a vote of 16 to 8, A. C. Wakeley for a same position, the nomination being secured by Joe Wright, a barber and deputy sheriff.

The democrats refused to consider the nomination of a candidate from the Second ward, where President F. Holovitchner of the school board received the democratic and republican nominations. "Bob" Holmes insisted that a man be nominated on the democratic ticket to oppose Holovitchner on the republican ticket, but Chairman J. J. Mahoney declared the meeting adjourned.

Why Doctor Stays On. Chairman Flynn of the democratic city central committee engineered the indirect endorsement of Holovitchner. In extension of their actions the Holovitchner adherents said there was a case in the supreme court, carried up from Lancaster county, that was similar to the Holovitchner case and if it was decided against the man who received the nomination of both parties, Holovitchner would be eliminated from the democratic ticket and "Doc" Pickard, who received the next highest number of democratic votes, would be declared the nominee.

However, in the Lincoln case the city central committee, unwilling to lean on the outcome of the case, nominated another man.

Dr. Spalding, who has filed from the Eighth ward, said last night that he would continue in the contest, regardless of the action of the city central committee, which met last night, as did the democratic committee also, for the first time in two years.

Progressives Are Active. It is rumored that the "progressives" are lining up in the Second ward and are considering the advisability of putting a man in nomination to oppose Holovitchner and Pickard if he is declared on the ticket.

Leavenworth, who is a present member of the Board of Education, was appointed to the position at the request of Holovitchner, when W. T. Bourke, now secretary, resigned.

Anti-Holovitchner members of the board are working for Spalding, who, it is understood, is opposed to the Holovitchner presidency.

DUN'S REVIEW OF TRADE

Business Activity Unchecked by Foreign Complications.

STEEL TRADE CONTINUES GOOD

Dry Goods Market Steady Despite Lower Quotations for Raw Cotton and Tendency to Wait on Election.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade today says: Business activity in this country continues to advance unchecked by the political complications in Europe and the fears that they have caused abroad.

Next to the assurance of unprecedented harvests the most gratifying business development is that the great expansion in the iron and steel trade has proceeded without, as yet, any unwholesome developments.

The car shortage and the scarcity of labor cause, however, more embarrassment in some sections. Conservatism is shown in accepting future business. Most mills are booked ahead for practically six months on important products, so that new orders are not expected to continue at the present pace. Purchasing of pig iron is on a heavy scale, however, and the general price situation reflects further strength. Crude steel material remains in scant supply and quotations are very firm for virtually all finished descriptions. The new price list on black, blue and annealed and galvanized sheets calls for a rise of $1 a ton with No. 23 black sheet at $22 and galvanized at $24. Additional rail contracts include 50,000 tons of open hearth for one prominent mill, but the demand is somewhat less active than in the past. Heavy machinery has been placed for rolling stock early next year. Orders for fully 5,000 cars were awarded this week and nearly 18,000 more are pending.

Dry goods markets are steady despite lower quotations for raw cotton and a tendency to move slowly until after the election. Repeat orders are frequent and jobbing houses are not allowing their stocks to run as low as last year. There is still considerable curtailment of output, due to scarcity of labor and shorter hours. Mills engaged on knit goods and hosiery are very busy and standard over-time. Dress goods and men's wear in woollens and worsteds are in an exceptionally high position from a mercantile and manufacturing standpoint. Sportswear is selling well. Silk ribbons have been advanced.

The dry goods markets are notably strong. Orders are very large and the majority call for early delivery. New England manufacturers are fully employed and have the demand for shipment. The same element of strength that has characterized the leather market for some time is pronounced, and supplies are considerably short of requirements. The market for hides continues very strong and prices are above all previously established quotations.

BRADSTREET'S TRADE REVIEW

MOOSERS GATHER FOR MEET

Make Convert of Buckles, Who Attended Memorable Session.

GOVERNOR UNABLE TO ATTEND

Dr. Henry Delivers Address and Steps Are Taken to Adopt Permanent Platform on Behalf of City Organization.

Governor Aldrich did not appear before the bull moosers for a speech at the meeting of the local Roosevelt club in the lobby of the Murray hotel last night. It had been announced in the afternoon by the secretary of the progressive county committee that the governor would be present for an address. He spoke at the Labor Temple, where 125 bull moosers had crowded into the lobby of the Murray hotel, where they waited in vain for him.

It was a meeting full of glorious memories for the bull moosers. For in spite of the fact that they did not have Aldrich, the hero of the despotic gavel of the Lincoln convention, before them to worship, they had the hero of the Washington hall mass meeting rough house against their number. No sooner was the meeting adjourned than some enthusiastic bull moose introduced Guy Buckles, the prize fighter, to Dr. W. O. Henry, president of the progressive club of Omaha.

Woodmen Council Disappointed Over Decision of Court

ROCK ISLAND, Ill., Oct. 18.—(Special Telegram.)—Members of the executive council of the Modern Woodmen of America tonight expressed disappointment over the decision of Judge McKinley of the superior court at Chicago restraining the society from submitting to a referendum of the membership the question of approving or rejecting the readjustment of rates authorized by the society's supreme legislative body at Chicago last January.

The executive council had prepared a plan for the referendum to be submitted for approval of the board created by the Illinois referendum law. This is the second attempt to enjoin the executive council, the first demand, subsequently withdrawn, having been made in a proceeding entered by dissenting members at Gallegus, Ill.

CHICAGO, Oct. 18.—Judge McKinley of superior court today issued a temporary injunction, restraining the officers of the Modern Woodmen of America from submitting to a referendum vote of the members of the society the question of the repeal of the increased rates in effect since January.

The proposed vote was to be taken under the authority created by the statute amending the state insurance act, which was passed last May. In granting the injunction for the temporary injunction Judge McKinley informally expressed the opinion that the statute was unconstitutional.

Addison Jones, a benefit certificate holder of the society, was the complainant. In his bill he alleges that the statute is unconstitutional in that it is retroactive.

President Lauded By Jewish Leaders at the White House

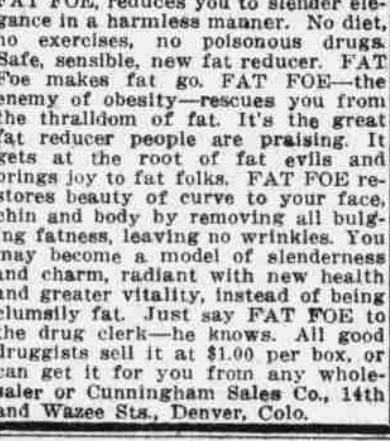

BEVERLY, Mass., Oct. 19.—President Taft late tonight received a delegation of Jews representing the Independent Order of B'Nai Abraham, made a short speech and listened to a eulogy of himself by their leader, Samuel Kalesky. In his speech the president said, in part: "I yield to no one in the broad construction of the constitution of the United States and of the states that secures to the individual the right to worship God as he will without question and without prejudice. Of course we cannot control what foreign countries do. All we can do is to express our strong opinion on the subject and use the great influence that a country of our prestige always has, to spread that doctrine of tolerance and equal rights to all, without regard to religion or creed."

Mr. Kalesky told the president that the order he represented numbered 175,000 members in the United States. He declared that the abrogation of the Russian treaty and for settling the passport question in which the Jews were intensely interested. He closed his speech by adding: "We are on the eve of a great national election. We come here to see you and greet you and to accept your hospitality and to wish you all success, not only in the remainder of this term, but for another term after the 4th of next March."
