

DEVELOPMENT NUMBER A HIT

Business Men Pleased with Special Number of The Bee.

THOUSANDS BEING MAILED OUT

Prominent Men Unstinted in Their Praise and Tell of Value of Such a Publication to Omaha and Nebraska.

The Nebraska development number of the Omaha Bee has excited a great deal of favorable comment from the business men of Omaha and South Omaha. The general sentiment expressed is surprise that an edition of such magnitude and completeness could be produced here. Everywhere this section is being read with the keenest interest from cover to cover. It has proved educational, as it is full of concise information concerning the leading business, professional and public men of Omaha and South Omaha, and much of interest concerning the development of Nebraska and Nebraska industries. Some of the comments heard are as follows:

A. D. Brandeis: "The Nebraska Development number of the Omaha Bee is the very best thing that has ever gotten out of a western newspaper. Everybody I have talked with about it boasts the number very much and says it is great."

Gerrit Fort, passenger traffic manager of the Union Pacific: "The Nebraska Development number is a most highly creditable and valuable publication. I read it with the greatest interest. It is not only creditable to The Bee on account of what it shows of the artistic possibilities of the plant, but is highly valuable on account of the contents of the edition."

Frank R. Manchester, secretary of Grain exchange: "It was a surprise to most of us that such an edition could be gotten out in this western country. It was a very creditable publication."

Dwight Buckingham, general manager Union Stock Yards company: "The Nebraska Development number of The Omaha Bee cannot be too highly commended here at the stock yards are immensely pleased with it and all have read it with a great deal of interest."

Police Commissioner Ryder: "This Development number appeals to my judgment as about the most complete thing in the line of extra newspaper publication that I have ever seen. It is full of live information that must prove educational in the highest degree, even to Omaha and Nebraska people. I have purchased two dozen copies to send away, and feel sure they will be appreciated by the people in various cities and states who are to get them."

Thomas J. Quinlan, manager for Hayden Bros.: "I have read the Development number of The Bee and consider it the most complete publication of the kind I ever saw."

Mayor Dahlman, who sent 100 copies of the Development number of The Bee to friends in this and other states, said: "I have read the number clear through. It was fine. There was some good stuff in it."

Book is Beautiful. Rome Miller: "The development number published by The Bee Sunday was one of the best advertising features ever gotten out by an Omaha newspaper. When copies of that edition are circulated over the county, as doubtless they will be, thousands of people will be converted to a belief in the greatness of this city and state which they did not realize before."

"It was a beautifully illustrated, well written, and artistically composed book." Thomas A. Fry: "The Bee made a master stroke when it published the development number Sunday. It contained good literature and was gotten up in interesting style."

E. V. Parrish: "Such an edition as the development number of The Bee Sunday is exactly along the line of the Commercial club publicity bureau work, boosting Omaha and Nebraska. It is a beautiful book and should be a source of pride to Omahans to such an extent that they send it to all friends outside the city."

C. H. Pickens: "King Ak-Sar-Ben is grateful to The Bee for advertising his realm in such a handsome manner as it did in the development number. There were things in that number which made him and his subjects open their eyes to the greatness of the things that are theirs."

Nickel Plate Road Sends Its Passenger Men for Conference

Twenty-five or thirty representatives of the Nickel Plate road are coming to Omaha today for their annual conference and to get a better working idea of what the west contains in the way of commerce and society. The meeting is called to throw the passenger men together and some of the clearest traffic men of the east will be here. The invasion of Omaha will be headed by B. F. Horner of Cleveland, general passenger agent.

During what few idle moments the visitors will have they will be entertained by Omaha business men, headed by E. V. Parrish, manager of the publicity bureau. The purpose will be to present to the railroad men the facilities of Omaha and the west. In fact they will be initiated into the "Know Omaha Better" campaign.

It is interesting to know why the Nickel Plate officials selected Omaha as a meeting place. The facts are best told by General Manager Horner, who writes to Publicity Manager Parrish as follows:

In selecting Omaha as the place of meeting of our men, its importance as a commercial center was a prime factor, and that object was not altogether considered from a selfish view. It will be our ambition to fully inform ourselves as to the various facilities offered by the enterprising people of Omaha to the end of being made more proficient at our various stations throughout the United States in imparting information as to the importance of Omaha in every branch of its industries, both commercial and social.

SOUTH OMAHA PLAYS LINCOLN HERE SATURDAY

The South Omaha High school team will battle with the Lincoln High school team at Rourke park Saturday. With the return of five regulars into the game who have been down on account of their studies and injuries South Omaha promises to give the Lincolns a strenuous game.

Catch Patten, who is drilling the south town kids, is very optimistic about the outcome of the game. Coach Holme of Bellevue is also whipping the boys into shape by hard scrimmages with his men nightly.

Germs Get Good Chance on the Foot Ball Gridiron

Just when school superintendents, principals and teachers believed they had the disease germ by the hind legs and were gathering strength to throw it overboard and part company with it forever and a day, school "timbers" here is a practice that shows up at once all the brutal insouciance of science. School teachers first found it out this year at a foot ball game. To their horror a red-headed boy, with dirt on his face and grime on his hands, carried a bucketful of water around and with a sponge sopped the players' dry palates. "Heavens!" exclaimed one fair spectator, "don't they know that they'll all get full of germs?" Just then the red-headed angel of the gridiron mopped a backfielder on the face with the sponge, calmly dipped it in the pail and compelled another player to suck the sponge dry.

"That don't hurt a foot ball player," a third grader explained. "You see he's such a husky guy and rolls around in the dirt so that a little mere dust ain't agoin' to hurt him any."

But the fair one will never regain her lost respect for the manly sport of foot ball. She always associated "manly" sports with sporty spotlessly clean and the horror of that sponge lingers with her.

More Features Are Added to Teachers' Meeting Program

More educational and entertainment features for the Nebraska Teachers' association convention have been secured, including a special course of lectures on health and medicine by prominent physicians.

Dr. J. P. Lord will deliver a lecture on "Growth and Deformity." Dr. John B. Potts will discuss "Headache and Lamentation Due to Nasal Obstruction" and Dr. E. H. Nauman of Columbus probably will start a discussion with his lecture on the question "Should Boards of Education Deduct from Teachers' Salaries When They Are Absent Because of Sickness?" Dr. H. L. Wells of West Point, exponent of publicity for prevention of disease, also will be a speaker before the teachers.

Announcements of coming delegations of school teachers continue to arrive in the mails at the publicity bureau. C. B. Moores, superintendent of the Osceola schools, wrote a complimentary letter concerning Omaha's hospitality when he announced that twenty teachers from his city would be here for the convention. The Board of Education at Osceola, he said, had allowed the teachers an extra day's pay for expenses at the convention.

Churches Unite to Celebrate Wedding Anniversary Sunday

The Central United Presbyterian church and the First United Presbyterian church joined services Sunday in recognition of the golden wedding anniversary of Dr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Hanna and the celebration of Dr. Hanna's fifty-second year in the ministry. Both congregations gathered at the First United church to hear Dr. Hanna deliver a sermon.

In the morning at the same church Dr. Hanna listened to a sermon preached by his son, Rev. Thomas H. Hanna, Jr., of Bloomington, Ind. Hugh Hanna, another son, was to have sung at both services, but his voice was out of condition, and this part of the "Hanna day" celebration was abandoned.

PAINTER SAYS HE DRANK DRUG STORE WHISKY

James L. Seavers, a painter living at 22 South Twenty-eighth street, was arrested yesterday by Detectives Donald and Fleming for stealing 300 pounds of flour from A. G. Sundgren's bakery. Seavers told the police he drank too much "drug store" whisky, and gave this as the reason for entering the bakery and stealing the flour. He is married and has four small children. Mr. Sundgren says he will not file charges against Seavers.

German Who Sent Improper Book to America is Jailed

BERLIN, Oct. 21.—The circulation in America of pernicious books and improper pictures resulted in a sentence of five months' imprisonment being passed today on Bruno Schultz, said to have lived formerly in New Jersey. Schultz was also known under the aliases of "Baron von Schoenwitz," "Baron von Underwerth" and "Baron von Adlersleben."

His arrest in Germany was brought about by a report from Washington that the United States was being flooded with advertisements of indecent literature and photographs and that these reached America with the postmark of Berlin.

When arrested Schultz displayed a forged United States passport bearing the name Forbach. He has been residing for some months in a beautiful country home near Dresden.

ANGLING FOR GREAT WESTERN List of G. O. P. Contributors is Filed by McGrew

Grand Trunk Railroad System Wants Entrance Into Omaha Territory. BIG CEREAL FREIGHT CENTER Canadian Lines, by Gaining Control of Middle West Line, Would Compete for Canadian Pacific Business.

But one treasurer of a political committee in Douglas county has complied with the state law requiring publicity of campaign contributions at noon today. This was C. F. McGrew of South Omaha, acting treasurer of the republican state central committee.

Mr. McGrew's statement of contributions exceeding $5 was filed in the office of County Clerk Frank Dewey and is as follows: C. F. McGrew, $5; R. R. Kyd, Beatrice, $100; H. C. Lindsay, Lincoln, $50; Luther Drake, Omaha, $50.

This is the fifteenth day before the general election, November 5. The requirement of law is that fifteen days before every election the treasurer of every political committee shall file with the clerk of the county in which he resides a statement of all campaign contributions exceeding $5.

By gaining control of the Great Western the Grand Trunk will tap a rich cereal freight territory, known as the "Corn Belt Route," lying between Chicago, Kansas City, Omaha and St. Paul and Minneapolis. It will also give the Grand Trunk a strategic position for competition with the Canadian Pacific.

The taking over of the Great Western was one of the chief plans of President Hays, but after his death the plans temporarily were abandoned and continued so until a few weeks ago, when Mr. Chamberlain began negotiations for the American road.

Part of the General Plan. This plan is only a part of a general Canadian railway fight for connecting the great producing northwest with the consuming and exporting east. It was President Hays who started the eastern railroad interests of this country by suddenly getting control of the old Central Vermont railway, itself worn out and unprofitable, and thus putting his road in direct competition with the American lines entering New England.

Willingness of the controlling interests of the Great Western to consider the Grand Trunk offer is found in the reports of the company, which barely has met expenses. The preliminary statement for the year ending June 30 last shows a surplus of 44 of 1 per cent. At the same time the management has done much to improve the property and it is said to have put back about $15,000,000 in the last three or four years.

The knowing ones decline to say how far negotiations have gone or whether the big Canadian company intends to absorb or gain control of the stock of the middle west system. Official announcement is expected from New York.

The Persistent and Judicious Use of Newspaper Advertising Space is the Best Road into the "Big Business" Class.
