

2 OF THE BIGGEST CLOTHING HITS in YEAR

The one on left, the "Wiltshire", reflects the best thought of foreign and American style masters, note the graceful lines and custom air from collar to cuff. It's a "Sampeck" model with all the "tone" and "individuality" your custom tailor can work out in a week at double our price; it will cost you but $15.00 to $30.00 to own one; costs you nothing to try them on.

The one on right, the "Sandhurst" is the newest conception of a custom-made Norfolk, also a "Sampeck" product, also has high buttoned vest, sells for $18.00, $20.00 and $22.50; ask a reputable tailor his charges to "duplicate" this suit so you can figure "your profit" on this Sampeck Norfolk.

Our label is gold in your bond of guarantee.

TRIPLE MISTAKE OF DEMOS

Free Trade, Free Silver, Free Ships, Trinity of Darkness.

WILSON ALWAYS ON THE FENCE

According to Hearst's Description, New Jersey Governor Stands Nicely Balanced on Every Issue of Campaign.

By CHARLES D. HILLES.

Chairman Republican National Committee NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—"Free Trade, Free Silver, Free Ships, the Democratic Trinity of Darkness!" exclaimed Representative Humphrey of Washington, in describing the democratic faith.

What a creed for a political party to appeal with for a vote of confidence from the people!

"I am in favor of anything that will give us American ships to carry American trade," Mr. Humphrey continued, "provided it be not done at the expense of other American interests. I am opposed to buying ships built in other countries—to free ships. I am opposed to any system that gives another nation work which can be done at home; that gives investment to foreign capital that should be given to American capital. I am not in favor of trying the delusion of free trade either on land or sea. I am eternally and everlastingly opposed to any scheme—in any shape, in any form—that will not give the investment to American capital and the employment to American labor."

Where that patriotic sentiment understood and upheld by the people of the United States—and they are a patriotic people—there would be no question of the result of the election on November 5, no doubt of the re-election of President Taft and the continued supremacy of the republican party.

Said President McKinley, evidently with the democratic party in mind:

"To increase production here, diversify our productive enterprises, enlarge the field and increase the demand for American workmen; what American can oppose these worthy and patriotic objects?"

But the democratic party has opposed them, and now asks for a lease of power under which to destroy their benefits.

Before Wilson was nominated for the presidency, who he was a candidate in the primaries of his party, he was thus described by William R. Hearst: "He thinks that the tariff is an issue, but he is unable to formulate clearly his tariff program. He concedes that the trust question is a leading one, but he has been unwilling clearly to explain how he proposes to deal with it. He modifies every statement, qualifies every utterance, and stands nicely balanced on every issue, ready to retreat or advance as occasion requires. His democratic pose is assumed and therefore awkward and unnatural. As president he would be a positive danger to the party and to the country."

Has anything happened since Mr. Hearst drew that sketch of Wilson, to cause any change in his description? Does not every word Mr. Hearst uttered, apply to the democratic candidate now, as it did then?

What of the man, who as Mr. Hearst said further: "To those who ask for broad, Governor Wilson distributes the polished plumes of his oratory. They may be brilliant; they may be beautiful but they are not bread; they are but stones. He formerly ridiculed and reviled the initiative and referendum, the recall, direct nominations, and educated his students to oppose these measures, but now he says he believes in the initiative in a way, in the referendum in part, in the recall on certain occasions, and in direct nominations under certain conditions."

Against the dangerous, vacillating record stands the staunch, constructive, patriotic record of achievement made by President Taft in the last three and a half years.

MEXICANS SHOOT OFFICERS

Dunn, an American newspaper correspondent, and C. S. F. Carlisist, said to be an agent of Felix Diaz, arrived here today under charge of four Mexican secret service men, having been expelled from Mexico by operation of "Article 25" which affects so-called foreigners.

Both men said they were arrested in Mexico City without warrants. Dunn asserts he was taken from home on the pretext that the inspector general of police wished to impart information to him. He declares he was placed in jail without knowledge of his family and permission to see his wife was denied; that she came to the jail and asked for him and was told he was not there; that he heard her voice and shouted. On hearing him she reported his arrest to the American embassy.

Despite representations of the embassy, he said, at first it was denied he had been apprehended. Although his wife sent food only a small part of it reached him and he was compelled to bribe the guards for drinking water at $1 per cup, he declared.

Carlisist is said to be an Italian subject.

Democrats Will Try to Carry Illinois

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—The real significance of the visit of Chairman McCombs of the democratic national committee to Chicago became apparent today when it was announced that many prominent democratic speakers would be brought into Illinois in an effort to carry the state.

The first will be Senator O'Gorman of New York, who will speak here this evening. He probably will make at least one other speech in the state.

William J. Bryan, who will be here tomorrow, will make a one-day tour of the state.

TURN HOSE ON MAN WHOSE CLOTHES CATCH FIRE

SHENANDOAH, Ia., Oct. 25.—(Special.)—An amusing accident happened at the electric power plant Wednesday morning. Henry Gallup went into the furnace room to warm. He asked permission to open the furnace door a few minutes, and backed up to it as people used to do at the open fire places. The fire was about as hot as it is possible to make one. In just three seconds the seat of his trousers was buried off and the victim was dancing around madly and calling for help. The hose was turned on him and the fire extinguished before he was seriously burned.

Hotel on Coney Island Burned.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Coney Island was saved from a serious conflagration today by the prompt work of the Island firemen assisted by apparatus from Brooklyn. One hotel and several bath houses on the ocean front were destroyed. The loss is estimated at $20,000.

Bryan Speaking in Michigan.

DETROIT, Oct. 25.—W. J. Bryan arrived here today for a one-day tour in Michigan. His schedule called for brief speeches in eleven towns, finishing at Bay City this afternoon. He expected then to return to Detroit to address a democratic mass meeting tonight.

LAST REGISTRATION IS TODAY

It Will Be Awkward for Those Who Do Not Come Into the Fold.

MANY WORKMEN ARE IN FIELD

Republican Headquarters Telephone is Busy Yesterday as Result of Inquiries as to Places of Registration.

Any who fail to register will not be eligible to vote at the presidential election November 5, unless they go through the awkward process of securing certificates on election day.

There will be plenty of men at work today for the several parties to call the attention of the voters to the fact that this is the last day of registration this fall.

The telephone at republican county headquarters was busy yesterday. Inquiries were constantly coming in as to the location of polling places for certain precincts. The inquiries were the result of a letter the county committee sent out 5,000 unregistered republicans.

Beginning at 8 o'clock this morning, when the polls open, the county committee expects to have a few hundred men who will give their personal attention to getting these voters out to register.

The bull moose have been working for the last week checking up a list of the registered voters secured from the county clerk with a view to making a complete tabulation of those not registered. The bull moose chairman has instructed his sixty-seven committeemen to do active and personal work, and to keep in touch with him at headquarters during the day in order that the most effective work may be accomplished.

Editor Jordan Not Guilty of Misuse of United States Mails

PEORIA, Ill., Oct. 25.—The jury in the case of Myron Jordan of Rock Island, Ill., indicted by the federal jury on the charge of sending obscene literature through the mails, returned a verdict of not guilty this morning in the federal court.

Jordan, who is employed as a staff-editorial writer on the Rock Island News was indicted together with John Looney, editor and publisher of the paper, following an attack on Mayor Schrieber of that city, depicting an alleged debauch of the mayor while on a visit to Peoria with a party of friends.

Early Painting by Bonheur is Found

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 25.—One of Rosa Bonheur's earliest paintings has been located here after having been listed as missing for many years. The painting depicts a peasant driving sheep and cattle down a sunken road and bears the initials "R. B. 33." It has been identified positively by Miss Anna Klumpke of this city, long a personal friend of the painter and is now the property of J. L. Cahill, a painter and decorator, who bought it twenty-three years ago for $20.

The painting was brought here from Europe in the 80's by a wealthy eccentric man named Sanders who had accumulated a fortune and gone abroad to spend it on old masters.

MAJOR WILLISON, CIVIL WAR VETERAN, IS DEAD

CRESTON, Ia., Oct. 25.—Major A. Willison, the first man to enlist in the civil war from Illinois, died here today. He was 81 years old. He was wounded at Shiloh and Resaca. He was one of the commissioners to lay out the national park at Chloamanga and at one time was postmaster of Creston.

TEMPERANCE FORCES BUSY

Constitutional Amendment League Against Shankland Bill.

MORE CASES OF DIPHTHERIA

Meeting of Men Interested in Teamsters' Strike Expected to Result in Settlement Favorable to Workers.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

DES MOINES, Ia., Oct. 25.—(Special Telegram.)—The Iowa Constitutional Amendment league today started a campaign to prevent the adoption by the legislature of the Shankland bill to substitute voting for petitions in securing consent to sell liquor, and is advising all voters to oppose candidates not pledged against the measure.

The Iowa Anti-Saloon league today gave endorsement to G. W. Clarke, republican candidate for governor, and declared against W. L. Harding, republican candidate for lieutenant governor. In the main the democratic candidates for state offices are opposed.

Diphtheria Increases.

City health authorities today took extreme measures to put a stop to the diphtheria epidemic in the schools of the city. Irving school has been closed and fumigated and the other school buildings are being cleaned up. Despite all efforts new cases continue almost every day and doctors admit they are helpless.

It was announced here today that Fred Sargent of Sioux City has been appointed assistant counsel for the Northwestern railroad to succeed A. A. McLaughlin, recently promoted.

Teamsters Likely to Win.

A meeting of the interested in the strike of teamsters was held late today which continued into the night and while no information came out in definite form it is believed that the strike will be settled very soon. It is also declared that the union men have won a substantial victory.

BANKER SERIOUSLY SICK AS RESULT OF EATING OYSTERS

BOONE, Ia., Oct. 25.—(Special Telegram.)—S. L. Moore, president of the First National bank, and the Security Savings bank, president of the Eastern Star Masonic state home board and known as a philanthropist, is critically ill here of ptomaine poisoning from eating oysters. Attorney W. R. Dyer is recovering from a similar attack. Mr. and Mrs. George E. Montgomery also are recovering from ptomaine poisoning.

LIEUTENANT BECKER GUILTY OF MURDER IN FIRST DEGREE

The juror answered, "I do."

Remanded for Sentence.

Becker was remanded for sentence to the Tombs by Justice Goff until Wednesday, October 30. Mrs. Becker, sitting outside the court room fell in a swoon when the verdict was announced.

Becker did not flinch when he heard the verdict read. He had been chained up and stood at the bar with squared shoulders, head erect. Not a muscle moved in his face, but he swallowed hard. That was all.

When the last juror had answered, Justice Goff instructed the clerk to take the defendant's pedigree. Beck answered the questions in a low, firm voice. A court officer brought the questions written on a slip of paper and as the prisoner read them to himself he replied:

"Forty-two years old, American citizen, born in Germany; address, 3239 Audubon avenue, lieutenant of police; married, Protestant, mother living, habits temperate, never convicted before."

When Becker's voice died away, McIntyre, who had covered his face with his hands at the verdict was given rise and asked that all further proceedings be deferred for one week, "until I can prepare the proper motions for appeal."

Sentence is Deferred.

"I will defer sentence," announced Justice Goff, "until October 30. Remand the prisoner until that date."

Justice Goff spoke in the same low tone of voice, almost a whisper, that had characterized his utterances during the trial.

Becker gave a glance at the judge and rested his eyes for a moment on the jury. Then he turned and, followed by a jail warden, walked with unflinching, rapid step up the aisle of the court room and disappeared through the door leading over the Bridge of Sighs to the Tombs.

The jury had deliberated nearly eight hours before reaching the verdict, although the case had been in its hands since 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Actual deliberation began at 4:07 o'clock, when the doors of the room swung behind the jurors on their return from luncheon.

What happened behind those doors, how the debate ebbed and flowed, who stood out eight hours against the final verdict, how many ballots were cast—these were matters whose secrecy each juror was pledged to keep.

After the verdict was given no one was allowed to leave the room until the jury had filed out. Justice Goff had given orders that anyone disturbing the proceedings in the slightest degree should be brought before him for punishment.

Mrs. Becker Faints.

Two hundred persons or more gathered at the court room door. With her ear almost at the keyhole sat the prisoner's wife. As the last juror left the room by another exit the door flew open and a man rushed excitedly into the corridor. The crowd gave way. He was half way down the steps to the telephone booth when a policeman shouted:

"What's the verdict?"

The feeling man looked over his shoulder and shouted, "Guilty!"

For a moment there was silence—keen, intense, gripping. It was broken by a woman's muffled scream and the sound of a falling body. The prisoner's wife had fainted.

Just before the verdict was given McIntyre made his last plea. He asked the court to grant an earlier request of the jury to inspect the testimony of the persons who talked to Sam Scheps in Hot Springs, Ark. The court refused.

The committee after an expiration that lasted two hours reported that in their opinion Davidson was sane. He is, however, suffering with hysteria.

Iowa Eastern Star Elects Officers

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., Oct. 25.—Sessions of the Iowa chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, ended here last night with the election and installation of officers. Mrs. Alza Sullivan of Fairfield was named as worthy grand matron.

The other officers chosen are: Worthy grand patron, W. H. Kilpack, Council Bluffs; associate grand matron, Mrs. Luella Crooks, Boone; associate grand patron, W. F. Berry, Moulton; grand secretary, Mrs. Maria Jackson, Council Bluffs; grand treasurer, Mrs. Ida Webster, Waucoma; grand conductress, Mrs. Cecelia Small, Des Moines; associate grand conductress, Mrs. Maud Keyer, Marion.

Council Bluffs was selected as the next meeting place.

DES MOINES POLICE HUNT FOR MISSING BOONE GIRLS

DES MOINES, Ia., Oct. 25.—Members of the Des Moines police and detective force searched the city last night for Miss Elsie Driscoll and Miss Ruth McBirney of Boone. Both girls are under 16 years old.

The young women are supposed to have left Boone some time yesterday. The Driscoll girl had access to money and jewels and is suspected of having appropriated both.

Mrs. Grace Driscoll, mother of Elsie, made complaint to the local police and helped in the search of the city.

Ida Grove Hermit Dead.

IDA GROVE, Ia., Oct. 25.—(Special.)—Sleverson Sieverson, a hermit 80 years of age, was found dead in a little hut five miles northwest of Holstein, where he has lived for years. Sieverson lived on a little triangular plot of ground on an acre and a half formed by the cutting off of the railroad on an angle. The dead man had a son in Sioux City and daughter in Minnesota. The old gentleman was evidently sitting on the edge of his bed mending his clothes when he was stricken with heart failure and fell over backwards on the bed and died. His life's history is a mystery.

Six Thousand-Mile Auto Tour.

IDA GROVE, Ia., Oct. 25.—(Special.)—Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Simons and son, George, returned from the longest automobile trip ever taken by anyone in this section. They left here last spring, visited every state between here and the Atlantic seaboard and then toured New England. They made a mileage of 5,990 and wore out six tires, but had no trouble with their machine. They say Iowa roads will compare with any, except in New England.

Iowa News Notes.

By a recent order of court the federal grand jury has been restored to the Creston division and will hold its first session in Creston November 6 with Judge McPherson presiding.

Thirty-seven Greeks employed on the Creston division of the Burlington road will quit November 1 to go back to aid in the war against Turkey.

John R. Edwards of Cumberland, Ia., is in jail here waiting arraignment on a charge of assault with intent to commit murder. During a family quarrel Wednesday night Edwards slashed the face and neck of his brother-in-law, Jess Ebbin, with a pocket knife, inflicting a severe wound.

Rev. R. A. Cameron, who for the last four years has held the Presbyterian pastorate at Clarinda, has resigned to accept a call to the Presbyterian church at Victor, Mont.

IOWA CITY—"Because he was too homesly to live," as he expressed it in a note left for his brother, Clyde Fitzpatrick, a prominent young farmer of Kalona shot himself with a thirty-two-caliber revolver at his brother's house last night. Despondency over a love affair was another cause for the shooting, say his family. He was 25 years of age.
