RAGGED PLAY BY NEBRASKA

Line Makes Poor Showing Against the Lighter Adrian Eleven.

MUST IMPROVE FOR KANSAS

Coach Frank, Former Gopher, Heads Jayhawkers and Will Work Minnesota Plays Effectively Against Weak Line.

By CLYDE E. ELLIOTT.

Some ragged playing marked the work of the Cornhusker eleven in the game that Nebraska won from Adrian college of Michigan Saturday. The score of 41 points was large, and it could have been higher had Coach Riehm wished his men to reach the more altitudinous regions; but in getting their many points the Nebraska youngsters did not play foot ball, at least they showed brilliant work only at times.

The Cornhuskers began the opening quarter with a rush, and scored most of their points in that part of the contest. The backs worked wonderfully well, and the line did much better than at any other time this fall. But the play after the first quarter was ragged, except the individual work of Purdy and Towle, and one or two flashes of play by other members of the team.

Play Slow at Last. After the first few minutes of the contest there was no continuous impressive good work, other than that done by the undentable Purdy and the snake-winding Towle. The blocking of a kick in the last seconds of the game by Allan, center, and the picking up of the oval for a run to a touchdown by Pearson at the same time, were spectacular; but it must be remembered that all this brilliant work was done against a weak eleven.

Nebraska's line is the weak part of the whole machine. It does not play the game consistently, it does not work together, it does not watch plays as they form, some of its members permit themselves to be bowled out of the way with ease and then stand still watching the rest of the team work. Even the light Adrian eleven found the line a solve at times, and went through to block plays.

Ends Cause Trouble. The Adrian ends caused the Nebraska backs a great amount of trouble and all because the Cornhusker ends and tackles did not take care of these men as they dashed in to break plays.

Good Plays by Sticks. Coach Riehm is teaching the Cornhuskers good plays, but he is not making them fight the way they should fight. They don't go after their opponents with that do or die spirit; they must be taught to fight every minute. That line needs a slave-driver who will give them the hardest kind of a punishment. Foot ball is not a nursery game.

The game of Saturday undoubtedly proved Purdy to be one of the greatest backs in the game today. He charged forward with the ball for immense gains whenever called upon. He was tackled here and there, but wriggled away and managed to go on. He charges like a mad bull; he was full of strength, speed and agility all the time, and he made himself a terror to linemen and to the men of the secondary defense. It is worth a great deal to see this wonderful back jam and buck his way through a line or wriggle down through a broken field.

Towle's long running was mighty impressive. One time he caught a kickoff and snaked his way through a broken field for forty yards. He found holes, he dodged men, and he raced along in excellent fashion. He started quick, ran fast and showed much adeptness at getting away from pursuers. He ran the team at quarter in splendid fashion, calling his stunts clearly and commandingly, and getting the plays off rapidly. His work encouraged the men to better play. The Cornhusker regulars did not go through the entire game, and the substitutes did not impress well until the fourth quarter, when, with Captain Frank and Purdy back in the game to inspire them, they picked up strength, rush and power, and made good gains.

BELLEVUE DEFEATS TARKIO

Second Touchdown Secured by Working the Minnesota Shift.

FOURTEEN TO TEN THE SCORE

Missourians Get Lead of Seven Points Early in Game, but Are Unable to Cross the Goal Line Again.

TARKIO, Mo., Oct. 27.—(Special Telegram.)—By working the Minnesota shift, Bellevue defeated Tarkio college here yesterday in a hard fought gridiron battle. The final score was: Bellevue, 14; Tarkio, 10.

Tarkio, and on an exchange of punts Tarkio soon had the ball in the center of the field. By off-tackle runs and line charging, Luckhardt carried the ball over for Tarkio for the first score of the game. Gowdy kicked goal.

During the second quarter Bellevue intercepted a kick, and a forty-yard run yielded a touchdown. In the third quarter Bellevue worked the Minnesota shift successfully and made another touchdown. Both goals were kicked. Tarkio played good ball during the fourth quarter, repeatedly rushing the ball to Bellevue's fifteen-yard line, only to lose on an attempted goal or forward pass. Gowdy, however, kicked a goal from the thirty-five-yard line. The game ended with the ball in Tarkio's possession on Bellevue's twenty-yard line. Lineup: BELLEVUE. TARKIO.

Commercial High Wins a Fast Game From Deaf School

Using the forward pass to advantage and continually bucking the line for big gains, the Commercial High School football team made its debut into the football world by trimming the Deaf Institute squad by a score of 18 to 0.

Although it was the first game that the new high school has played, the team put up a wonderful battle and despite the fact that they are handicapped by the inability to secure a coach, showed great knowledge of the play. The first quarter was fast and furious and neither team was able to score, the ball see-sawing about the middle of the field. In the opening minutes of the second quarter Julian Alwine, Omaha's right tackle, grabbed a fumble on the Deaf Institute's forty-yard line and went through a broken field for the first touchdown of the game. Omaha failed to kick goal. Shortly after making this touchdown, Alwine was taken from the game with a badly wrenched shoulder.

In the third quarter Whitehouse on a fake punt, broke through the Institute's left line for a gain of twelve yards and on the next play carried the ball to the ten-yard line, where on three downs Whitehouse was pushed across the line for the second touchdown. Omaha again failed to negotiate the goal. In the same quarter the Institute kicked off to Omaha's ten-yard line and Y. Alwine, who took his brother's place at right tackle, returned the ball to the center of the field, where a series of line bucks and three forward passes placed the ball on the three-yard line from which place Alwine circled right end for the third touchdown and last score of the game. Score: Omaha Commercial High, 18; Deaf Institute, 0. Lineup:

Creighton Beaten By Morningside in Hard Fought Game

SIoux CITY, Ia., Oct. 27.—(Special Telegram.)—Morningside college defeated Creighton university in a great football battle here yesterday, 26 to 7.

A brilliant series of open plays in the third quarter put the ball on the Methodist's seven-yard line and Balderson was smashed over for the only touchdown made on Morningside this year. Tammsa kicked goal. An inexcusable foul by Winterringer just before the score was made, resulted in his removal. Effert was also taken out for rough playing.

It took fourteen minutes of grilling play to get Effert over for the first touchdown in the first quarter. Seven minutes of steady plunging got Holbert over for the second in the second period and seven minutes more netted another in the third. Two minutes were enough for the final count, but the visitors rallied and held magnificently to the finish. A great demonstration of college spirit was staged by followers of both teams, between halves and after the game. Lineup: CREIGHTON. MORNINGSIDE.

Girls at Omaha Uni Are Real Boosters

Though the public has forgotten the score of "Girls, Girls, Girls," the young men at the University of Omaha are stoking it with all of the vigor and enthusiasm that one might expect at a matrimonial agency. The reason for stoking this sentimental little air is not, however, to gain a wife, but in appreciation of the work the girls have done to boost athletics and to encourage the boys in their attempt to put the local university on the foot ball map. Through thick and thin the girls have boosted. A week ago Saturday night when the team came from Harlan defeated and desirous of going home the back way, the girls marshaled their forces at the Union station and took the team to the school and entertained them in as royal a manner as though they were paying homage to a modern Alexander.

Before the Cotner game there was no money in the treasury of the athletic association and there was an obligation to be met. The men of the school had no time for this as their spare time was taken up in learning how to administer defeat to the Cotner team. The girls rose to the occasion and armed themselves with tickets and sailed forth. After the carnage was cleared away it was learned that the game netted within about $5 of the amount necessary to pay all of the expenses. Not satisfied with this they held a big jubilee Friday night to celebrate the gridiron victory.

Ames Outclasses Grinnell Players

AMES, Ia., Oct. 27.—(Special Telegram.)—Ames outclassed Grinnell yesterday in a one-sided contest by a score of 21 to 7. Ames used the forward pass to great advantage, scoring the first two touchdowns by short passes over the goal line. McDonald and Nagle on the ends starred for Ames, the former intercepting a forward pass and running sixty yards for a touchdown.

Grinnell was weak at rudimentary foot ball, tackling, high and giving poor interference. Eagon did the best work for them. Ames had practically a substitute team toward the end of the game and Grinnell earned a touchdown by line plunges. Lineup: AMES. GRINNELL.

IOWA TEACHERS TO MEET

Registration at Next Convention Expected to Reach 8,000.

BOOM FOR PROF. F. L. SMART

Davenport Educator Probably Will Be Elected President of the Association—County Superintendents Meet Thursday.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

DES MOINES, Oct. 27.—(Special.)—A committee in charge of the registration of teachers for the annual State Teachers' association which has been at work for several days claims that the total registration may reach 8,000 this year. Each year that the meeting has been held in Des Moines the attendance has gained over other years. The sessions are held in November and this year will commence two days after election. A boom has been started for Prof. Frank L. Smart of Davenport for the presidency. The presidency rotates among the sections and this year goes by custom to the department of city superintendents. Prof. Smart is one of the older men in the educational work of the state.

The county superintendents of the state held an independent meeting all day Thursday, November 8, at the Savery hotel to discuss matters pertaining to the betterment of the rural schools of Iowa. The physical department of the state association has appealed to the state executive committee for the creation of a physical section which would entitle its members to a meeting Thursday afternoon, November 7.

Refuses to Return to Iowa.

E. S. Galloway, indicted by the Polk county grand jury on a charge of wife desertion and arrested at Tecumseh, Neb., refuses to return to Des Moines without requisition papers. Deputy Sheriff C. W. McCurdy, who went to Tecumseh to take Galloway in charge, was informed on his arrival that the accused man would not return of his own volition. Galloway's case will be heard before Governor Aldrich of Nebraska on Monday. According to Mr. McCurdy, Galloway asserts he is a resident of Nebraska and is not a fugitive from Iowa.

County Attorney Thomas Guthrie says that Galloway is guilty of deserting his wife in Iowa, although he did not live here.

Jo. Evers, second baseman of the Chicago Cubs, who is the successor to Frank Chance as manager of the Cubs in 1913. Evers will probably continue to play, as he flashed out with the best base ball of his whole career in the last half of the last season.

A third member of the Cub team, James Tilton Sheppard, is also being talked of as a possible new manager next season. Brooklyn is where the depositors are assigning Jimmy. Denisons of the hamlet of ubiquitous trolleys, however, are loath to accept as truth reports that their beloved Bad Ball Dahlen is to be canned. "Bill" will be in there again next year directing a first division club and that club will be Brooklyn." That's what the trolley-dodgers are saying. Bill may show some class next year at that. There are some players of championship caliber included in the lineup.
