

WHY?

Why are the very rich growing richer?

Why are the very poor growing poorer?

Why are little children compelled to work while thousands of able-bodied men are idle?

Why do millions go half nourished when the land is full of plenty?

Why does the cost of living steadily mount, while the nation produces a surplus every year averaging two billion dollars?

Every man in America who works is entitled to a wage sufficient to raise his family in decent conditions, to educate his children in the common schools, and to lay by something for old age.

Why is it impossible for hundreds of thousands of men to do this?

You hear these questions constantly, and you hear all kinds of answers.

What is your answer?

Mr. Lawson knows why the cost of living is mounting. Why the rich are growing richer. Why wealth is unfairly distributed. Why there is so much misery.

He tells you why in this number, and how to stop it.

Eight years ago he tried to tell you, and you saw some of the superficial crimes and started to correct them, but you would not wait to see the real cause of crime.

Eight years ago Mr. Lawson spent at least two million dollars trying to get your attention and interest to the big crime.

Many of you were interested and willing and patient, but most of you were merely entertained by his disclosures, and when the hour for work came, you turned your backs.

Now Mr. Lawson is at it again ready this time to go the limit. Ready to show you just what the trouble is, just how it is brought about, just how it can be stopped, and ready to spend and be spent to the limit of his strength and his resources.

And EVERYBODY'S MAGAZINE is in the fight to the limit.

Will you join?

For the sake of the weak and helpless, for the sake of America's future, for the sake of your children's future, for your own sake, will you join?

We ask you to support Mr. Lawson's work.

We ask you to read his "A-B-C of High-Cost-Living" in this number.

We ask you to get it clearly in your minds.

And then we ask you to talk it at every opportunity.

Talk it to every one who will listen. Mention it in your letters. Talk it at the office and on the way. Talk it at the club and after church.

That makes public opinion.

The public opinion makes legislators make laws.

And there is going to be a law against the gambling tricks of the Stock Exchange.

Ten days after publication it was impossible to get the October number of EVERYBODY'S in many parts of the country.

Order your November number promptly, as your understanding of Mr. Lawson's future chapters will be largely based on your comprehension of the A-B-C with which he starts.

BREAKS BAND OF BURGLARS

Detectives Capture Four Men and Two Women of Crew.

ONE OF THE GANG AT LARGE

Two Pistol Duels and a Confession Bring to Light Much Loot Gathered from Omaha Homes.

With three men in jail, a fourth badly wounded at St. Joseph's hospital and a fifth at liberty with several bullets in his body, Chief Detective Maloney is congratulating himself upon the breaking up of one of the best organized gangs of burglars that has ever made Omaha its headquarters. Two women members of the gang are also under arrest, and at least $10,000 worth of plunder taken from Omaha residences during the last thirty days has been recovered. One member of the gang confessed last night to Chief Maloney and told him of "plant" in Council Bluffs, and it is believed that there will be found at least $2,000 worth more.

James Watson, alias "Red" Brady, alias "Brady the Red," alias "The Fly," alias "Red the Gun," who was shot four times last Thursday morning by Officer John Ptasnowski, is the man at the hospital; Harry Johnson, recently pardoned from the Nebraska penitentiary, where he was sentenced for burglary, is the man still at liberty, and Cal Wrothe, Charles Johnson and Ira Gray, all of whom have long police records, are the other members of the band in jail. The women are Stella Berry, sweetheart of Wrothe, and Louise Ferris, sweetheart of Harry Johnson.

Johnson Makes Escape. When officers captured Johnson after a battle last Thursday morning near Eighteenth and Cass streets, detectives were immediately assigned to the task of running other members of the gang to earth. Yesterday morning a friend of Chief Maloney's told him that while in his room at 218 Chicago street last Thursday morning he heard the pistol duel shots and shortly afterward Harry Johnson, who roomed in the same house, came in. He woke up Charles Johnson, his brother, who was asleep in the room, and exclaimed, "I'm shot, and those d-coppers did it." Both left immediately afterward.

When Maloney heard his friend's story he sent detectives to watch the house. Saturday morning Detectives Dunn, Kinnelly, Devereaux, Donahoe, Murphy and Maloney surrounded the place and Charles Johnson, Ira Gray of 2201 West Broadway, Council Bluffs, and the two women were arrested.

Woman Confesses. The Ferris woman confessed. At Chief Maloney's suggestion, she went to St. Joseph's hospital late yesterday afternoon and identified the wounded burglar, whose identity had been a mystery. She says he is a wanderer wanted for desertion from the navy, scores of burglaries in Colorado, and that he is a gun man and convicted murderer. From the Ferris woman the police received information as to the place where the booty was secreted. Nearly $1,000 worth of jewelry, silver plate, clothing, revolvers, etc., were found under a floor in the Chicago street rooming house and at the same time it was learned that another "plant" was at the home of Ira Gray in Council Bluffs.

Early last evening Detectives Donahoe, Kinnelly and Dunn went over to Council Bluffs to unearth the booty and were met at the door by Gray's mother, who mistook Kinnelly for "Red" Brady, with whom she had seen her son a number of times.

Running Fight with Johnson.

"Wait a minute, Red," Wrothe and Harry will be here soon—they want to see you," she told the officers. In a few minutes Wrothe and Johnson appeared but when they saw the Omaha detectives, they fled. Wrothe was arrested in an outbuilding by a Council Bluffs officer and Johnson, after a running pistol duel along Broadway, eluded Detectives Dunn and Donahoe. A coat worn by Johnson was thrown away by him as he ran.

Operations of the Gang.

During the last thirty days that the burglar band has been operating, twenty-one Omaha homes have been robbed of clothing and jewelry, and in each instance clues discovered by detectives making investigation, lead them to think that the burglars belonged to the same gang. A broken piece of chisel found in one of the places robbed fits exactly with another piece found in the possession of "Red" Brady last Thursday night.

Recent robberies are reported to the police, all burglaries but the first are:

William C. Coker of Lincoln, held up by two men October 1 at Twenty-seventh and Davenport streets and robbed of a watch and $15.

Burke Criticizes Carnegie Foundation

"Does the Carnegie Foundation Advance Teaching?" This is the question discussed before the Omaha Philosophical Society Sunday afternoon by Prof. E. R. Burke. And the discussion tended to show that instead of the foundation advancing the teaching profession it is a decided hindrance to advancement.

The foundation was defined and its ulterior purposes were set forth by the speaker. Among these purposes were mentioned the encouragement, development and dignifying of the profession of teaching in such a manner as to make this, the poorest paid profession, seem as alluring to the ambitious youth as are other professions, such as law and medicine. But the speaker, although he gave full credit to the good that might be done, took the stand that the powers delegated to the committee of twenty-five, who administer the revenues arising from the endowment, are such that the whole educational system is within the scope of their activities. This is decidedly wrong, and although the pensioning of superannuated professors is not theoretically, in actual practice it is iniquitous. The foundation committee has defined what a college must do and be in order to be placed on the list of beneficiaries, and in so doing has made it possible for only a small number of colleges, and those of a certain class, ever to be beneficiaries. The breaking down of the independence of both the teachers and of the students, also, came in for sharp criticism and Andrew Carnegie was characterized as being shrewd enough to lay out a system of education in which future generations would view matters from the standpoint of the aristocrat rather than from the standpoint of the common class. One great objection to the foundation is that it eliminates sectarian and "fresh water" colleges, which are recognized as turning out the very highest type of young men and young women.

Singer Heard Here Before She Arrives

Although Frieda Hempel, the young coloratura soprano of the Royal Opera house, Berlin, will not appear at the Metropolitan opera in New York, until later on the music-loving public can hear her right now through the enterprise of the Victor company, which introduces this artist before she ever sets foot in this country. The engagement of Mme. Hempel is one of the most important made for the Metropolitan's new opera season. She comes to America from a brilliantly successful career in Germany, and the two fine records now offered in the list of the new Victor records, for November, display admirably the quality and flexibility of this new soprano's voice. The "Fair Land of Touraine" aria from Meyerbeer's "Huguenots," in which opera Mme. Hempel has made the queen one of her most famous impersonalities, is sung in exquisite style, and a Verdi number, from his opera of Ernani, is also beautifully rendered.

No More Soldiers Wanted by Greece

John Latenser, Greek consul in Omaha, has received a telegram from the Greek minister in Washington, advising him that no more Greek reservists are wanted in the Balkans, which means that no more Omaha Greeks will be accepted until further notice from the home government.

Greek volunteers have been persistently refused but thousands of Greek reserves in America answered the call to arms and are now on their way to the Balkans to join the allied powers in the war against Turkey.

This order affects several Omaha Greeks who had gone before. Those who have left and are now approaching the scene of war will be accepted. Following is the telegram:

"WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—Consulate of Greece, Omaha—Order Panhellenic union to stop sending reserves until new orders. CORONULOS."
