Automobile Holdups Still Elude Officers

Although the police are positive that Hugh Maloy, John Murphy, Ray Davis and Floyd Bole are the men who held up and robbed Dell Neville last Saturday night in South Omaha, they are equally sure that they are not the men who robbed six auto loads of persons in Miller park...

None of the twenty victims except those who reported the robbery have made an appearance at police headquarters and the authorities are at a loss to understand the reason. The Council Bluffs police have the names of two persons in the bridal party, but these have pledged the officials to secrecy and the names will not be given out.

Apparently the two victims who reported to the Bluffs police still think that it was a joke and fear to be made "goats" for practical jokers. However, the police assure all victims that it was far from a joke.

At the Theaters

ATTRACTIONS IN OMAHA. Gayety: Extravaganza. Hippodrome: Ventrilo. Krug: Burlesque. Orpheum: Vandeville. Success at all these theaters today.

Press Agent Notes

Chick Sale the comedy protean entertainer at the top of the list today. The whole success of his work depends upon the expression of his face and hands. He has a repertoire of wigs, spectacles, bonnets and ribbons of various kinds, he says that they are necessary accessories of absolutely no value without expression. Let me illustrate what I mean, said the young man as he put on a woman's wig. Now you see, look almost the same as I did before. And sure enough Mr. Sale's pleasant boyish face had changed to a possible by the addition of the false hair. But in a minute his forehead and cheeks were wrinkled into a thousand lines and he was indeed a splendid likeness of a school marm. And so it was with the presentation of the judge, the doctor, the red-headed youth and the cross-eyed school girl. Just look at my face, said Mr. Sale. I am old enough to have a few lines but you can't find a one and I never will have any simply because I massage my skin every day and I work every facial muscle. The very fact that I impersonate children keeps me young. For I always live the part that I am enacting. No part of my face has a chance to get set. If more people realized the value of facial gymnastics there would be fewer wrinkled skins today.

A play that has been conceded the most successful and cleanest comedy in many years is Henry B. Harris' big production of "The Country Boy" which will be seen at the Brandeis theater on next Wednesday and Thursday, with a matinee on Friday. The production is excellent company will be seen in this pretty comedy, and a production complete in every detail is promised.

The Goddess of Liberty, the Chicago musical success, will be given at the Brandeis for two days, starting Friday. A matinee will be given on Saturday.

The characters in "A Modern Eve," which comes to the Brandeis theater today evening, October 31, for three nights and a Saturday matinee, all bear fancy French names, such as Cassiope, De La Rochelle and Pontiac. The piece was imported by Mort H. Singer from Berlin, however, and the librettists bear such Teutonic cognomens as Okonokowsky and Schoenfeld, while the composers are well known under English names as Herr Victor Hollander and Herr Jean Gilbert.

One of yesterday's papers very fully and considerably stated that fully half of the vast audience which packed the popular Gayety last Sunday evening was composed of ladies. Such a voluntary statement by the press is most gratifying to the theater manager, as it is making a conscientious effort to present the bright, singly extravagant entertainment free from anything that is lady-like and it is apparent that the ladies of Omaha know it. Ladies' dime matinee only all week.

It appears that the American Hippodrome is destined to "beat the street" still another deservedly successful week. Inasmuch as the bill of Hyton Vandeville offered has established a still higher standard than heretofore. The long program is given every afternoon and at 7 and 9 every evening.

The swing scene, which is the feature of the American at the Krug this week has been a decided hit all over the circuit. It is one of the most pleasing spectacles in burlesque this season and the approval it has received from unusually large audiences has justified the great amount of work which has been required in perfecting it for production.

SOLOMON SCORES THE COURT

Says in Report that Conditions at Police Court Are Deplorable.

TESTIMONY IS TO BE TAKEN

City Council Will Take Up Charges at a Meeting of the Committee of the Whole to Be Held Next Monday.

Charges that deplorable conditions exist in police court, a promise to furnish witnesses to prove a city employee guilty of gross misconduct and recommendation of radical changes in the manner of keeping the records of the court are contained in a report of Emmet G. Solomon, ex-county commissioner and deputy city and county treasurer, who, as a special investigator of alleged releases of prisoners from the county jail on forged documents, has made his report to Police Commissioner Ryder.

Before the city commission yesterday Ryder urged a special hearing and a thorough examination into the charges, and the council in committee of the whole next Monday will take the testimony of witnesses who assert they can prove how the releases were forged and who is responsible.

To Furnish Names of Witnesses. "I will tell you the names of the men connected with police court pretty hard if the witnesses can prove what they have asserted to me," said Solomon. In his report the investigator promises: "I will furnish you names of witnesses who can give full direct information in regard to the execution of these forged releases."

He recited the following cases where prisoners were released from jail on forged instruments: Emma Cohn, September 26. Harry Hennessey, October 8. Sophia Hensch, September 7. Charlie Clawson, September 9. Mr. Solomon reports that during the months of June, July, August, September and October sixty-eight cases were released on appeal bonds and up to date but ten of the sixty-eight have been traced to the district court, leaving fifty-eight cases dormant in police court.

Solomon Files Report. Mr. Solomon's report follows: Attached hereto is a record of four releases effected by the use of a rubber stamp signature of the police judge. Three of these releases have been accomplished in sixty-eight cases by means of filing an appeal bond, and up to date the police judge disclaims all knowledge of authority to use his signature in connection with these releases or any others.

Attached hereto I hand you history of releases from jail for the months of June, July, August, September and October, 1912. From the showing it will be seen that an official release has been accomplished in sixty-eight cases by means of filing an appeal bond, and up to date the police judge disclaims all knowledge of authority to use his signature in connection with these releases or any others.

Another Joy Rider Captured by Police

Gerald Blackman, 2226 Reese street, believed to be the partner of Earl Hayes in the theft of twenty-five automobiles during the last month, was arrested at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon by Chief of Detectives Stephen Maloney.

When Blackman was arrested he maintained a stolid silence and would neither admit nor deny that he is the partner of Hayes. As the result of the roundup, the police are receiving congratulations from automobile owners from all over the city.

Aldrich to Address Big Mass Meeting

Governor Chester H. Aldrich will be the principal speaker at the republican mass meeting which is to be held on the top floor of the Baurig building Wednesday night. Other speakers will be on the program and a large audience is looked for. At first it was announced that the meeting was to be exclusively for the Jewish voters of Omaha; but since then plans have been changed and the meeting will be for every republican voter.

He Has Made Music Here for the Last Twenty-Four Years

Twenty-four years of music making in Omaha theaters has had telling effect on A. E. Blaufuss, who leads the orchestra at the Krug. He is the little, fat, gray-haired German who pounds the piano. In 1888 Mr. Blaufuss came to Omaha to play at the Eden Muses at Eleventh and Farnam streets. For nine years he whanged popular airs out of an organ, and then a piano for the delectation of the crowds that came for amusement. At first he had lots of fun watching the performance and seeing new faces all the time.

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Council Refuses Pay to Extra Firemen Slipped on Roll.

WILL INSTALL FIRE HYDRANTS

Question of Annexation Dragged Into Campaign by Tanner Brings Statement of His Position by Hancock.

John Walters, member of the city council, struck a blow at part of the Fire and Police board last night when he voted against the retention of the three extra firemen who were placed upon the department roll during a recent absence of Mayor Tom Hoctor from the city. "This council cannot be used to pay the political debts of others," said Walters, as he recorded his vote against the support of Members Ryan and Pivonka of the Fire and Police board, who insist that the council shall dig up money for the payment of twenty-nine firemen, while by mutual agreement the council and the fire board in August decided that the fire fund would not supply more than twenty-five men for the department during the year. Councilman Jay Williams also expressed himself against any concession looking to the payment of the firemen who were appointed over the number specified at the time of the levy.

Fire Hydrants Ordered. Bids were called for on the construction of a new garage and city barn in the rear of the hall. Fire hydrants were ordered installed on Thirty-ninth avenue at a point 600 feet north of P street, on X street at a point 400 feet west of P street and on W street at a point 400 feet west of Thirty-ninth street. The above was the apportionment of Councilman Harry Hartnett. For his portion Councilman John Riba succeeded in having hydrants placed as follows: One 400 feet from the southwest corner of Thirty-second and S streets, one on Thirty-third street west of Thirty-second and S streets and one on Thirty-second street 400 feet north from Thirty-third and S streets.

Annexation Dragged In. Surprise was aroused yesterday at an attempt of John M. Tanner to draw the old annexation question into the political campaign, particularly because Tanner has been against annexation at all times. The latest promise of Tanner in his endeavor to overcome the loss of popularity brought about by his handling of the city charter, is that if elected he will introduce a bill looking to annexation and provisions for deputy treasurerships and other things that would naturally follow the amalgamation of the two towns without special legislation.

ROBBER GANG ALL CAUGHT

Police Capture Last of Bold Highwaymen in Omaha.

EXPECT TO GET THE LOOT TOO

Robbers Were on the Way to Kansas City with the Plunder When They Were Caught by Detectives Saturday.

With the arrest of Harry Johnson, the member of the gang of bandits who sluded the officers at Council Bluffs last Saturday night, following a running duel with detectives yesterday at Thirty-third and Lake streets, Chief Maloney says he has broken up the most daring and clever crowd of highwaymen that the police have had to deal with for many years.

Chief Maloney says that he will have the entire lot of the thieves, which amounts to practically $1,000 in diamonds, jewelry, clothing and other precious articles, safe in his office at the police station by today. So far but $500 of the stolen property has been recovered.

Chief Maloney says that most of the plunder was cached in Omaha.

Was Not Armed. Johnson was caught by Detectives Dunn and Kennelly yesterday morning at 10 after a short chase. Johnson came to Omaha Sunday night and stopped for a short time with the Ferris woman at 215 Chicago street. The same man who "tipped" Maloney off Friday about the gang and which resulted in the immediate arrest of five of the members, told him about the fugitive's visit. Maloney
