Leslie M. Shaw May Now Build His New Railway

Now that the election is over, Omaha railroad men look for quiet settlement of the affairs of the Atlantic & Southwestern, constructed from Atlantic to Council Bluffs, with a branch graded and partly laid to Tarkio, Mo.

The Atlantic road is still in the hands of a receiver, but Leslie M. Shaw, formerly of Iowa, has an option on it, having arranged for the purchase. He has paid $25,000 as an option and will have paid the balance of the $500,000 prior to this, but has failed to do so. With election out of the way, local railroad men are of the opinion that Mr. Shaw will now have little difficulty in securing the money to pay all of the outstanding debts and complete the line. When this is done, it will become a part of the Burlington or Rock Island, both systems wanting it and both being willing to pay a good price as soon as it is ready to turn over.

SCHOOL WOMEN FIND ART GILD'S EXHIBIT ATTRACTIVE. The visiting Nebraska teachers find the Omaha Art Guild's exhibit in the new court house very attractive. They visit it in groups.

A life-size portrait of Fred Mendegott by Wallace, which is painted in a strikingly life-like resemblance to the man himself, as also is an interior view by Miss Cordelia Johnson, which portrays the artist's mother sewing.

A study by Gay Williams, one of the portraits of the exhibit. It is a picture of the artist herself, painted from a looking glass reflection, showing the subject in the act of speaking.

A "Last Ray" of sunlight pouring through a clump of trees on a bank of smoke, and a cluster of several buildings in a color sketch by George Barker, jr., which has held the attention of every person visiting the exhibit.

Another canvas, an artistic handling of a portion of the California trail in 1912, was painted direct from nature and shows a short cut now being used by pedestrians between the boulevard and Thirty-third and Cuming streets. The painter took a late summer afternoon for his lighting effect and shows in the background Creighton university and the Woodmen of the World building.

One can imagine, while looking at this picture, the astonishment of the argonauts who made the trail famous, beholding the present scene.

Neighbors smelled the gas fumes and called the police. When Detectives Kinney and Dunn arrived they had to kick in a door to get in. When they carried the semi-conscious woman to the outer air she soon revived. Her motive for suicide, she said, was her husband's infidelity. Mrs. Elliott is about 24 years old and was married a month ago in Lincoln. Her husband is a waiter in a Douglas street cafe.

According to the story told the officers by Mrs. Elliott, she is the mother of five children, which will divide $100,000 when the youngest reaches the age of 21.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE MARKET

Wheat Trade Favors Buying Side After Week of Decline. CORN WAITS ON THE WEATHER. Constant Pressure Marks May Outlook—Receipts Are Very Heavy and Likely to Continue So for Some Time.

OMAHA, Nov. 7. 1912. The feeling in the wheat trade was a little more friendly to the buying side at the close yesterday. Such is always the case when the market has a rebound of 1 cent or more after a week of declining prices. Important short lines were covered on the upturn. Considerable wheat sold on the market, but the buying was into rather strong hands. Opinions are about evenly divided as to some further advance in price, but the prevailing view is that the market will not advance much in the face of big receipts. Cash wheat is to be higher.

The most conservative people in the corn trade concede that December contracts will be regulated largely by the weather the next thirty days. What falls there was in the market yesterday was largely due to the strong turn in wheat prices, the leading corn market, which took profits on short lines because of the decline under the 50c for the December contract, and others were inclined to put out orders on the futures. For May contracts the feeling is bearish. Many of the bears who have been winners of late expressed a belief that prices were low enough for the time being, and they look for the corn market to be quiet for some time. The movement started, and prices advanced in the face of it. Cash corn unchanged.

Aside from occasional covering by shorts there is constant pressure, especially in the case of the December contract, and likely to continue so. Cash oats 4 1/2c higher. Prices were: Wheat and flour equal to 74.00; corn, none; oats, 22.00; no. 1, 22.00; no. 2, 21.00; no. 3, 20.00; no. 4, 19.00; no. 5, 18.00; no. 6, 17.00; no. 7, 16.00; no. 8, 15.00; no. 9, 14.00; no. 10, 13.00;
