SOCIETY IN THE CONVENTION

Women Do Not Forget the Entertaining Features.

SURPRISE PARTY ON MISS M' HUGH

Impromptu Reception at the High School News to Principals, but She Rises to the Situation Very Nicely.

The social side of the state teachers' convention has not been overlooked and the afternoons and evenings are filled to the overflowing stage with teas, receptions, plays, banquets, theater parties and it is a task to know just what affair to attend.

The important social affair of the afternoon was the reception given at the high school and had not a careful study of the program been made of the meetings and social affairs by Miss McHugh, principal of the high school, the reception might have taken the form of a surprise party on the principal and teachers of that school rather than the afternoon coffee which it proved to be.

It was not till Wednesday afternoon that Miss McHugh discovered a reception was to be given at the school and this was when she was glancing over the programs which were in the hands of several hundred visiting teachers. There was nothing to do but arrange for the receiving committee and in choosing this committee the entire faculty were asked in a body to assist Miss McHugh.

Appreciate the Joke.

Impromptu affairs often are more pleasant than those which have had time and forethought spent upon them, and so it was that with the keen appreciation of the joke Miss McHugh and her assisting teachers received the guests in a most gracious way.

Preceding the coffee at the high school the visiting teachers were the honor guests at the Latin play which was given at 2 o'clock.

A suffrage tea will be given at the Rome hotel this afternoon in honor of Mrs. Ella Stewart of Chicago, and a cordial invitation is extended to all the teachers from the city and state. The hours for this tea are from 3 to 5.

The important social affair of the week will be the reception given at the Commercial club Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock. Mr. E. U. Graff, assisted by the reception committee, will receive the guests, and invitations have been extended to all the teachers who are here to attend the state convention.

Many informal luncheons have been planned, and each night at the Rome hotel several banquets are given by members of the different normal schools and universities which the teachers have attended at some time.

TO VISIT THE UNION PACIFIC

Visiting Teachers Accept Invitation to Look Over Headquarters.

The teachers have accepted an invitation to visit the Union Pacific headquarters and shops and the hour has been set for 2 o'clock Friday afternoon. At that hour Dr. Milliner will meet the teachers at the Auditorium and escort them to the headquarters. There they will be welcome to the building, after which they will go through the building from basement to roof. From the roof of the 12-story office building they will get a bird's-eye view of the city, after which Dr. Milliner will explain the mysteries of the wireless telegraph system. The masts for the system are up and the apparatus is complete for the handling of messages.

From the headquarters Dr. Milliner will escort the teachers to the Union Pacific shops, where they will be shown everything in connection with the work carried on there. They will go through all of the shops and will be given inside information upon the subject of building cars and locomotives.

BOOM DELZELL FOR PRESIDENT

Friends Want Him and He is Willing Provided It is General.

A boom has been started for J. E. Delzell for president of the association.

'Tis all right if they want me generally," said Mr. Delzell, "but I don't want to get into any fight over it."

A. E. Fisher of Aurora has also been mentioned for the place, but the fight will rage around the election of electors who will be pledged to vote for Dr. Thomas. The caucuses will be the scenes of a real battle, which will be carried to the convention floor.

CARNATIONS FOR THE TEACHERS

Visiting Schoolma'ms Remembered by Orkin Bros. with Flowers.

Every teacher entering the Auditorium at the morning session was handed a beautiful carnation. It took $500 to go around.

They were presented by Orkin Brothers. To get this unusual quantity, after having bought all on the local market for their opening, a special consignment came in via express.

Young ladies, the guides of the store, dressed in white, distributed them.

NOTES AND PERSONALS.

Emma Morrill of Lincoln is one of the prominent teachers at the convention. Miss Morrill has attended every convention of the association.

All of the colleges of the state have information bureaus in the Rome hotel, where the alumni dues can be paid.

Over fifty teachers from Iowa came to Omaha Wednesday and almost that many more reported this morning.

F. Schumann of New York, a principal in one of the high schools there, is attending the meeting.

Catherine Hoffman of the high school at St. Paul, Neb., is on hand, as usual.

Visiting teachers from Michigan, Illinois, Indiana, Missouri, Ohio, Minnesota and New York are attending the convention.

A. M. Sprague, a teacher at Blair, is here with her sister, L. M. Sprague, a teacher in the Lincoln High school.

Ten teachers from Dunlap have adjoining rooms at the Rome hotel.

Pawnee sent eleven teachers here to attend the meeting.

Every teacher in the schools at Beatrice is here and have reserved a box at the Omaha-Beatrice football game at Bourne park this afternoon.

Over 150 additional teachers from Nebraska arrived Thursday morning.

The teachers attending the convention will make an excursion today to the South Omaha stock yards and packing plants. The party will leave the Auditorium in chartered cars at 1:30. When
