

B'NAI B'RITH TO CELEBRATE

Lodges of Omaha and Council Bluffs Join in the Affair.

TIME SET IS WEEK FROM TODAY

Notable Speakers Will Tell of the Work This Society is Doing All Over Country—Luncheon for Visitors.

An event which promises to arouse much interest in the Jewish community will be the celebration of B'nei B'rith Day, on Sunday, November 24. An elaborate program will be presented by the two local lodges, assisted by the lodge from Council Bluffs. It is also probable that Lincoln will send a delegation to this important affair.

As is well known, the B'nei B'rith is one of the most important Jewish organizations of its kind, of international scope. Its objects are charity, education and progress. It has probably done more than any similar organization in working for good citizenship in what it has done to help assimilate the immigrant. Its night schools, settlements and educational features are known in every large city. It was largely due to its efforts that the Russian passport question assumed such proportions, which finally resulted in Russia's being compelled to recognize the rights of American citizens in any country.

The B'nei B'rith number among its members the most influential and cultured elements of those of the Jewish faith. It has maintained for years organ assemblies, notably the one at Cleveland, O., where many loyal Americans of both sexes are made a part of our civic life every year. It is for this and other reasons that the coming celebration assumes its great importance. Under the leadership of Charles Elguter, a notable program has been prepared.

Among those invited to deliver addresses will be Mr. Jacob Furth of St. Louis, a past president of the order, a splendid speaker and one whose reputation extends considerably beyond Jewish circles. It is also hoped that one of the speakers will be Mr. Jonas Well, a prominent attorney of Minneapolis, and also a past president of the order. In Minnesota and beyond Mr. Well is particularly known for his speaking ability and his work along the philanthropic and sociological lines. In addition to these speakers there will be an address by Mr. Elguter, whose scholarly ability is well known to his fellow citizens. In fact, his having charge of the program assures its success. There will also be an invocation by Rabbi Chaim of Temple Israel, together with fine musical numbers.

The guests from out of town will be entertained by rides and on Sunday at 1 p. m. a luncheon will be given in their honor.

From 3 to 5, a session of the three lodges will be held at the Young Men's Hebrew association rooms and at 8 p. m. an open meeting will be held at Temple Israel to which all members of the community and their families will be invited.

Howard Bruner is Given Promotion by Union Pacific

Howard Bruner, who has been chief clerk of the Union Pacific traffic department for the last eight years, has been appointed assistant general freight agent of the road, the appointment to take effect at once.

Mr. Bruner was born in Omaha and received his education in the public schools of this city. In 1899 he entered the Union Pacific in the capacity of office and errand boy, and from that position has risen gradually through his own work and attention to business to the position he now occupies. Through Mr. Bruner's rise George W. Hamilton, who has been chief rate clerk, takes the position of chief clerk, and Allen Whitte, rate clerk, becomes chief rate clerk.

Heavy Weight On the Stomach

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets Remove It and All Other Forms of Indigestion Quickly.

That awful feeling as though there were a heavy weight on your stomach—as though you had swallowed an enormous lump of lead—is caused by the failure of your stomach to thoroughly digest your food. You may have eaten too fast or too much. Your stomach may be over-worked and tired out. It is too weak to produce enough of the digestive juices necessary to take proper care of the food. Gases form and cause all sorts of agony. The stomach demands more pepsin, hydrochloric acid and other digestive agents which it is unable to secrete.

Medicines are not only worthless in cases of this kind, but are actually injurious to the whole system. It is sheer luxury to pour a lot of vile stuff into the stomach—drugs that have no digestive power whatever.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets contain ingredients that not only bring quick relief to digestive sufferers, but actually digest the food for the stomach. One of these little magic tablets taken after each meal, will rest the stomach, revitalize the secretory glands, strengthen the muscular walls—in fact, tone up the entire digestive system.

No home should be without Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets constantly on hand. They stop all forms of indigestion, such as sour stomach, belchings, heartburn, dizziness, burning sensation, brash, etc. After a brief course of treatment your appetite improves. You enjoy your food more. You awaken every morning with a happy disposition. Life looks brighter. Your back is becoming clearer and your eyes sparkle with their old-time snap and twinkle. You are practically a new person.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold by all druggists, at 5c a box.

George Brandeis Becomes Manager of Brandeis Stores

George Brandeis

George Brandeis, who recently came to Omaha from Chicago to become general manager of the Brandeis stores, is not a stranger here. Omaha was the first American city in which he lived and, although he has been away from here twenty-two years, he declares Omaha is home to him.

Mr. Brandeis was born in Lieben, Germany, and was brought to the United States twenty-four years ago by his uncle, J. L. Brandeis, the founder of the stores of which he now has become manager. He made Omaha his home two years while being employed at the first Brandeis store, the Patr, on Thirtieth street.

In that little place he learned the rudiments of salesmanship, doing practically every kind of work to be found in the small store. It gave him an education which proved of great value when at the end of the two years he left Omaha and went to Chicago, where he went into the Boston store there, owned at the time by Charles Netcher.

He was placed in the silk department of the Chicago store and a short time later became an assistant silk buyer. With the growth of the business he was made chief silk buyer and, starting in with seven men under him, he advanced the business until when he left the department he was manager of seventy-three men. His ability was responsible for the growth in the silk department of that store, which is now recognized as the largest retail silk business in the United States.

In appreciation of his business acumen, at the death of Charles Netcher, eight years ago, Mr. Brandeis was made general manager of the store. He held this position until recently, when he resigned to come to Omaha to assist his cousin, Arthur Brandeis, proprietor of the Brandeis stores here.

During all his time away from Omaha he watched the growth of his cousin's store. His great career studies, however, were too much for him to realize, being out of actual view, and when he answered his cousin's summons to come and assist in the management here he was greatly surprised, as well as pleased, is one where you get big values rather than big talk.

A truly great CLOTHING SALE

That is the main reason why this great sale of ours has been such a signal success.

One of the most gratifying circumstances connected with this great sale has been the utter lack of suspicion on the part of those who have attended. So far as we know, no person has left our store without buying—but, a considerable number have bought here after having left some other store. No person has so far questioned our statements or given any evidence of mistrust. It is this feeling of confidence that accounts for the crowds of yesterday. It is this same confidence which will keep our twelve painstaking salesmen busy tomorrow.

PRICE OF MILK TO BE RAISED

Dairymen Vote to Increase Price from Seven to Nine Cents.

COWS AND HAY COSTING MORE

All Dairymen Belong to the Association and All Will Be Urged to Adopt the New Scale of Prices.

At a meeting of seventy-five dairymen Friday night it was unanimously agreed to advance the price of milk from 7 cents to 9 cents per quart, the increase to take effect December 1. This action, says O. C. Jensen, president of the association, is necessary because of the high price of hay and in the increasing cost of cattle.

Dairy Inspector Claude F. Boasle, O. C. Jensen, E. Corneer and A. P. Grobeck led the discussion of the question at the meeting at Washington hall. The meeting was called to reorganize the dairymen's association.

Dairymen are planning to hold another meeting next week and perfect their organization, practically every dairyman in the city is a member and will be asked to stand by the association in its stand to increase the price of milk.

Contractors Must Turn In Bill for Extras Right Away

Caldwell and Drake, county building general contractors, who have been retreating regarding their contemplated charges against the county for "extras" are required to prepare their "extras" bill and let the county know just how much they will try to collect, by a resolution introduced by Commissioner Lynch and adopted by the Board of County Commissioners today.

The resolution gives the general contractors until Monday to "show their hand," as the commissioners put it. The board and John Latenser, county building architect, have nearly completed inspection of the building. The board wants to know just how much Caldwell and Drake will try to collect for "extras" before it determines how much the county shall withhold for failure of certain work to conform to specifications.

George W. Caldwell of Caldwell and Drake said the firm will comply with the board's request.

RIVER TOURISTS REPORT MOST ENJOYABLE TRIP

Captain E. Roberts, Henry McDonald, Adolph Tell and A. W. Compton of the Pastime Athletic club, now on their way to New Orleans in the club's boat, the "P. A. C.," have reported their arrival at Cairo without mishap. They have been enjoying a pleasant trip.

Sunderland Bros. Keep Open House in New Quarters

Crowds of men and women visited the Sunderland Bros. offices yesterday, it being their grand opening day in the new rooms in the State bank building. The Sunderland Bros. now occupy the entire third floor of this new building. They have arranged their new office rooms in the most convenient manner possible. E. M. Sunderland says: "I have been in every office of dealers in building material in the country and I am confident there is nothing finer in the United States today than our rooms right here in Omaha."

The company has arranged something new in the way of partitions for a part of the offices. The building material and specialty department is separated from the rest of the offices by a garden wall effect, built of various kinds of brick handied by the firm. The top of the wall and the pillars are capped with white cement slabs. On the corners are great flowerpots with drooping vines, and, climbing up the side of the wall is without which no garden wall would be complete—the ever-present ivy.

Stepping off the elevator on the third floor of the building one is immediately in the retail department. Following the counter south and east one arrives in the wholesale department. All the offices of the officials and managers are partitioned with plate glass, thus taking the best possible advantage of the excellent light on this floor.

The fireproofing material is displayed to the very best advantage in that the places complete are built almost by the dozen in the various varieties of brick. The brick department has the entire walls covered with sections of brick walls built with the various kinds of mortar showing the great variety of appearances that can be obtained by the use of different kinds and styles of mortar.

For the opening occasion many flowers were provided and the rooms were decorated in various ways. Many cages of canary birds were swung from the ceiling so that there was a chorus of canary voices during the afternoon. The formal opening was from 2 to 10 p. m.

LATEST THEORY OF CATARRH EXPLAINED BY DR. HARTMAN

wholesome fluid which covers every mucous membrane in the body. The catarrhal discharge is a deranged sort of mucus that is irritating and very unwholesome. Such a discharge not only further irritates the mucous membrane, sometimes completely destroying them, but the discharge is a weakening drain on the system. Precious blood serum is lost in this way.

This condition of affairs is liable to happen in the stomach, in the bowels, and any other internal organ. As said before, it most frequently occurs in the nose and throat.

Sometimes a little relief can be obtained by the use of local applications, especially when the catarrh is confined to the nose and throat. But catarrh cannot be successfully treated by local applications. The only remedies that are effective are internal remedies.

To devise a remedy for catarrh that could be taken safely and effectively for catarrh wherever it happened to be located in the body, to devise such a remedy has been the ambition and study of my lifetime.

I think I have obtained such a remedy for Peruna. I regard Peruna as an effective and a safe catarrh remedy. I have never recommended it for any other disease than catarrh. The notion that prevails that I regard Peruna as a cure-all is entirely erroneous. Catarrh is liable to affect so many organs for which I have recommended Peruna that it has given rise to the impression that I recommend Peruna for different diseases. I recommend Peruna only for catarrh. But I do insist that it is a remedy not only for catarrh of the nose and throat, but for catarrh of the stomach and lungs, larynx, liver and other internal organs.

The kidneys are especially liable to catarrh. If the catarrh goes on unchecked in the kidneys it leads to organic disease, sometimes called Bright's disease. I wish to make it plain that Peruna is not a cure-all; that I have never recommended it as a cure-all; that I have always insisted that it was a remedy for catarrh and for catarrh only. I hope I have made this plain.

If catarrh affects the stomach, Peruna is the remedy. If catarrh affects the kidneys, Peruna is the remedy.

If catarrh affects the lungs, cough and symptoms that resemble consumption will follow.

If catarrh attacks the urinary organs is necessary. Catarrh of the bladder is a very common form of catarrh. It produces distressing symptoms. A large proportion of men past middle life have this form of catarrh, more or less.

I not only devised a remedy to meet these cases, but I have at my command a corps of assistants and helpers which enables me to come into personal touch with thousands of people suffering from catarrh, and assist them in the treatment of their case.

DR. E. B. HARTMAN

Catarrh begins by congestion of the blood vessels of a mucous membrane. Any mucous membrane is made up mostly of minute blood vessels, called capillaries. Cold or irritation of any sort is liable to produce congestion of these capillaries. If the irritation is slight and is quickly removed the congestion very soon disappears and no bad result obtains. But if the irritation is repeated many times or is long continued a chronic condition of congestion of the mucous membranes may occur. This is ordinarily called catarrh.

The blood no longer circulates freely in the small blood vessels that compose the mucous membrane. The blood becomes clotted up in the vessels, causing the vessels to swell up and the blood to exude from the walls of the blood vessels, producing discharges.

These discharges are ordinarily called mucous discharges. The fact is, however, the discharges are not properly mucous. Real mucus does not irritate but is a

Business Men Want the Western League Headquarters Here

Omaha business men are going to make a fight to land the headquarters of the Western league in Omaha. The magnates have decided to move the headquarters into some Western league town or Kansas City, but Omaha fans and business men are opposed to the offices being moved to Kansas City.

The subject of moving the main offices away from Chicago was first for much talk at base ball headquarters and when Victor Parrish, manager of the publicity bureau of the Commercial club, returns he will be waited upon by a delegation of at least twenty business men who will urge him to fight the move of the headquarters from Chicago to Kansas City. They aver that a move of this kind would kill off the attendance in Omaha and eventually kill the game.

P. A. Rourke at the meeting of the Western league magnates, when the motion was passed to move the main offices, voted against the proposition as did Tom Fairweather of Des Moines and Jack Holland of St. Joseph. These men realized that as long as the main offices remained in Chicago there would be no trouble, but to move it to Kansas City would be detrimental to the entire league, with the possible exception of Denver.

With moving of the headquarters would be the moving of the president and the secretary. "Tip" O'Neill was elected at the meeting last year to serve as president for five years. He has now served one year and would be compelled to go wherever the offices were moved.

Jack Linehan, laborer living at Seventeenth and Lake streets, was crushed to death at 2:15 p. m. yesterday between two box cars at the Missouri Pacific tracks, Fifteenth and Pinkney streets. Linehan was working in the yards and attempted to crawl between two cars when they came together. His body was taken in charge by Coroner Crosby.

OMAHA STATE BANK OPENED

New Institution Starts with Best Wishes of Competitors.

COUNTING ROOMS DECORATED

Officials of the Bank Spend Most of Day Showing Visitors Through the Place and Answering Questions.

The State Bank of Omaha is open for business in the building erected at Seventeenth and Harvey streets. The magnificent building was erected by Oscar Keeline and was named for the bank.

The counting rooms of the new banking institution were decorated with flowers, many of which were sent with the compliments of other banks and business institutions.

The counters and wainscoting of the room are all of marble. The wainscoting is entirely of the striped Italian marble, while the base board, the customers' desks in the lobby and the teller's tables are of black Egyptian marble. The contrast provides a pleasing effect.

The bank has been doing some business for the last ten days, but because some of the finishing work of the building was not quite completed the formal opening was delayed until now.

Officials of the bank spent their time Saturday showing visitors through the bank and answering questions.
